RICH YOUNG ARISTOCRAT MARRIES A PUEBLO.

Strange Love Affair of a Cornell Graduate - Mothers and Sisters Prostrated at News of His Marriage-Man is Rich, Educated and Refined; Girl an Indian.

The marriage of John Wesley Davis, club man, collegian, member of one of the bluest blooded families of the metropolis and heir to the large fortune of the late Joseph Davis, to Marcella Oginez, a Pueblo Indian girl, is the strange romance of-fered New York's 400, says a New York correspondent,

The groom a graduate of Cornell and Andover, was a welcome addi-tion to society, but he shunned enterprising mammas, and would have none of the canary snaring business. Last August he went to New Mexico to pursue archaeological explora-tions, settling at Laguna Pueblo, 83 miles northwest of Albuquerque.

In Laguna Pueblo lives Antonio Oginez, the father of the handsomest children in any Indian pueblo. Marcella Oginez, 17 years of age, was considered the handsomest Indian girl for miles around.

Mrs. John W. Davis is tall and lithe, with hair black as the raven's wing, and as fine as that of any weman in the land. Her black eyes match the fabled soul-windows of the Spanish girls, and are fringed with long, curving lishes. They looked with wonder on the wooling of the pale-faced lover. She has the char-acteristic high cheek bones of the race, but her complexion is an olive brown, and her cheeks rival the rose in coloring. Her mouth is the cutest cupid's bow imaginable and her seeth are perfect

This was the vision that interfered with the scientist's work. It was before him during the day and he dreamed of it during the nights. The New Yorker and the Indian girl searched among the ruins. They took photographs and spent long hours filing them away.

Four times Davis set the date of his departure for the East, and as many times postponed the event. One Transportation Facilities of This City in Its Favor.

Owing to the more central location of Pendleton in the territory com prising the new Catholic bishopric of Eastern Oregon, it is possible that Bishop C. J. O'Reilly may locate in this city instead of Baker City, as at first intended

The new bishopric comprises all the territory east of the Cascade mountains, and as Pendleton is nat urally the central point from which all the churches of the district could reached with great convenience permanent residence of the bishop may be located here The residence of Bishop O'Reilly been temporarily fixed in Baker City, but a canvass of the conditions and the territory to be covered by Common Neb., where both used to live. It was to prevent a runaway match that the sisters at the O'Con and railroad advantages of Pendleton and the equal distance from this point to all the churches in the bishopric, make it the natural locafor that residence. Baker City is on the extreme east-ern border of the territory, and has but sour mail trains per day, while the central Oregon churches Sister Mary and Johnson have had twice as far from Baker City as from Pendieton, and Pendleton has eight mail trains a day. The Catholic congregations at the two places are about of equal strength, each city having a school and hospital

Another club woman, Mrs. Haule, of Edgerton, Wis., tells how she was cured of irregularities and uterine trouble, terrible pains and backache, by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetabie Compound.

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham: —A while ago my health began to fail because of female troubles. The doctor did not help me. I remembered that my mother had used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound on many occasions for irregularities and uterine troubles, and I felt sure that it could not harm me at any rate to give it a trial

"I was certainly glad to find that within a week I felt much better, the terrible pains in the back and side were beginning to cease, and at the time of menstruction I did not have nearly as serious a time as heretofore, so I continued its use for two months, and at the end of that time I was like a new woman. I really have never felt better in my life, have not had a sick headache since, and weigh 20 pounds more than I ever did, so I unhesitatingly recommend your medicine."— Mrs. May Haule, Edgerton, Wis., Pres. Household Economics Club.

When women are troubled with irregularities, suppressed or painful menstruation, weakness, indigestion, leucorrhon, displacement or ulceration of the womb, inflammation of the ovaries, general debility, and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness. faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, "all-gone" and "wantto-be-left-alone" feelings, blues, and hopelessness, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles. Refuse to buy any other medicine, for you need the best.

Frances Cook, Box 670, Kane, Pa., says: "DEAR MRS. PINKHAM: - I suffered for ten years with leucorrhoes, but am glad to sey that through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and her Sanative Wash I am cured, for which I am very thankful."
