Gilliam County Bondsmen Become Uneasy and Send for Their Man.

Yesterday afternoon Sheriff Taylor, acting on instructions wired here from the sheriff of Gilliam county, placed under arrest J. W. Duncan, who is under $200 bonds to appear before the next session of the court of that district for the larceny of some wheat. The time of the trial is drawing near, and the bondsmen evidently feared that their man might take it into his head not to appear at the time set for the trial, and asked the sheriff to get him. He was taken to Gilliam county by City Marshal Sweden, of Arlington, yesterday evening.

Visiting Mrs. A. L. Sharon.

Mrs. S. M. Burton and son, Harry, of Onawa City, Iowa, are in the city visiting Mrs. A. L. Sharon, a sister of Mrs. Burton. They have just attended the G. A. R. encampment at San Francisco, and stopped off for a short visit here on their return trip. From here they will go to Milton to visit a short time with Charles Burton, another son, after which they will return to Iowa. This is Mrs. Burton's first visit to Oregon in 17 years, and she finds many changes have taken place in that time. It is worthy of mention that Mrs. Burton has lived for 50 years on one farm near Onawa City.

NOT GOOD, NOT HERE

They Lead the Procession

The popularity of Swift's products among all classes is very largely due to the absolutely clean and hygienic conditions under which each carcass is dressed, and the meat and the food products prepared and inspected. This is particularly true of Swift's Premium Ham and Bacon. From the sleek, corn-fed hogs in the pens, the carefully selected hams and bacon in the smokehouse, the final expert inspection by the U. S. government, and, lastly, the dainty wrapping in parchment paper, each step in the evolution of these nutritious and appetizing products is a guarantee that they will always please.

FALLING MARKETS

CATTLE DROPPED ONE-FOURTH CENT POUND.

Increasing Montana Shipments to the Coast Brings New Competition to Oregon Growers—Story of Where the Profit Comes in, in the Wholesale Packing Business.

J. C. Lonergan shipped 200 head of cattle to the Frye-Brubne Company, of Seattle, last night, over the W. & C. R. The stock was bought of J. Nelson and Jack Bourne, of Camas Prairie, and were all young steers. The price paid was $3.50 per 100, but since that time the quotation has taken another tumble, and steers are now selling at $3.25.

The reason for the fall in the price is said to be that the Montana growers are shipping their stock to the coast markets now instead of to the East, as they have been in the past. The freight on the stock is the same from Billings to Seattle as it is from Billings to Chicago, and as the prices here are as good as they are in the Eastern markets, it is the present intention of the Montana growers to ship to this end of the line.

Mr. Lonergan, in speaking of the formation of the Western Packing Association created by the stockmen of the West, said that there was a good field for such a plant in this section of the country. While it would make competition for him and the other buyers of the West, he did not see that it would work a hardship on them, for the market here is as good as it was in the East, and the prices were as high. By the formation of such a concern the growers would get the benefit of all the offal of the cattle. There was nothing made in the sale of the meat alone, but it was in the utilization of horn and hide and bones by the large meat and packing establishments that made the profits.

The original cost of the cattle with the freight and the feed added left but little margin in profit in the sale of the meat alone; but it was in the saving of everything from the blood to the hair that made the money in the business. For this reason a packing establishment of the growers would be of good to the stockmen of the West, for it would save for them all that they lost in selling as they do now.

At the same time he did not think that it would be of harm to him, for so much meat was used by his firm, and he had to fill the demand. But since the prices paid by the coast men were as high as the market warranted, he thought that he would have no trouble in filling his orders when the new plants were put in operation.

DEPOT CHANGES.

All Completed Except the Painting—Great Improvement Effected.

The work on the O. R. & N. depot is about finished and in a few days the public will have a depot, as far as the company intends them to have at this time. The changes in the location and arrangement of the waiting rooms have all been completed, and the outside of the building has been painted in the railroad red that is so lasting and so conspicuous to the eye. It now remains for the men to paint the inside of the waiting rooms and the ticket office.

The furniture was moved into the new ticket office some time ago, and the force has been working there for several days. When the painting is all done the place will at least be clean and commodious, if not as modern as all of the patrons of the road could wish.

KICKED BY A HORSE.

Old Lady's Limb Broken by a Fractious Animal.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. McGee and Mr. and Mrs. Smith Gwinn, of Dayton, passed through the city today from Baker City on their way home. The party had been in the mountains in the vicinity of Baker, looking at the timber of that part of the country, and yesterday had started out when one of the horses became frightened at a break in the harness and attempted to run away. He was held by the driver, and when he found that it was impossible to run he began to kick.

After demolishing the front part of the rig he became tangled in the dobris and in the mix-up kicked Mrs. McGee, breaking her leg. Both Mr. and Mrs. Gwinn were injured, but not so seriously. Mrs. McGee is an old lady and the hurt for her is a serious thing, for at her advanced age it will be a slow process for the bone to knit.

AT SHIELDS' PARK.

New Program Meets With a Hearty Reception.

The new program at Shields' Park was up to the usual high standard last night. The numbers were all refreshing and sprightly. There was not a dull moment in the entire entertainment.

The "Scarecrow Shadow Dance," by Caston and Harvey, the Australian song and dance artists, made a decided hit, and is one of the best numbers yet put upon the program here.

John Coburn, the black-face banjo artist, with his troupe of trained doves, brought out rounds of hearty applause. Ed Lowell, of this city, who sang the illustrated songs, has made himself a decided favorite with the park patrons and is the best singer yet undertaking this part.

The Thompson sisters, song and dance artists, who were unavoidably delayed yesterday by train connections, will be on the program tonight. They come highly recommended.

The polscope pictures were fresh, interesting and instructive. The program is good throughout and will be appreciated. Prize drawing next Saturday night.

BALLOON ASCENSION.

Event Was Followed by a Parachute Descent East of Town.

Professor McCullon, of Pomeroy, the balloonist, made the ascension this afternoon that was delayed yesterday afternoon on account of the high wind. The affair was entirely successful, the balloon rising to a great height, and the parachute jump was made without accident, the man lighting on the railroad track near the Catholic Academy. About 1,500 people watched the feat.

DEAL IS CONCLUDED

MERGER ELECTRIC LIGHT AND POWER COMPANIES.

The New Syndicate Has Headquarters at Philadelphia—Central Walla Will Be on Little Walla Walla—Light and Power to Many Towns.

The long looked for deal between the Northwest Gas & Electric Light Company and the Pendleton Electric Light & Power Company, was consummated this morning, when the property of the local company was transferred to the syndicate. Isaac Anderson, of Philadelphia, and Geo. Ladd Munn, of Seattle, reached the city today and at once went to the office of the Light & Power Company, where the matter was discussed and the transfer arranged.

While the plan is yet in the hands of the local company, the deal has been made and at no great date the new company will assume control and management of this plant as well as of the Walla Walla plant. According to the intent of the contract, it will be the duty of the new company to have an all-day current in the city by the first of the coming September—one year from the present month.

The company has as yet not determined on its headquarters, though in reality the head of the concern will be in the East, for the company is in the hands of Philadelphia capitalists and will be worked and improved by that means. There will be a board of managers in this part of the country who will look after the details of running the system, but the board of directors will be in the East, and they will delegate to the managers their power.

Inside of 18 months at the latest all of the towns between the power plant on the Little Walla Walla and this city one way, and that place and the city of Walla Walla on the other hand, will be lighted by the power furnished by the new company, and not only will they furnish light, but they will furnish power as well.

Will Attend Whitman.

Miss Mabel McDill and Miss Myrtle Hawks left this morning for Whitman, where they will attend college the coming year. The ladies will keep bachelor hall with Miss Grace Crockett, of Walla Walla, having rented a small cottage and fitted it up.

IN CIRCUIT COURT

DISTRICT ATTORNEY AND JUDGE IN ACTION TODAY.

Conclusions Reached in Six Criminal Cases, With Results Given Below—Action Brought to Recover the Value of One Thousand Bushels of Wheat.

The district attorney and the circuit court held a session this morning, and as a result some of the inmates of the county jail are nearer the solution of the questions that concern them than they have heretofore been.

Thomas Alden, the man who forged the check for $38 which he passed at the Last Chance saloon, was arraigned and bound over to the next session of the court, in November. Having no bail, he will remain in the jail until the session of the court.

J. W. Collins, or John Elliot, as he signed his name in the first place, the man who passed the check forged on Dave Cargyle, was also bound over to await the next session of the court, and will remain in the jail until the time of its sitting.

Richard Ryan, who is accused of larceny, was arraigned and bound over to the next session.

Grover Haskins and Dell McGinnis, the two lads in the jail awaiting the action of the court, were examined, and the court remanded them to the county court with the order that they be sent to the reform school at Salem. Haskins is the boy who broke into the Rigby house near the city and took from it a watch, a ring and some money, all of the value of $26.50. McGinnis is the Milton boy who is accused of breaking into a house and taking money from it. As soon as the county court takes action in the matter they will be taken to the school, perhaps the latter part of this week.

Bert Wright, who was accused of taking $20 from the Gratz lodging house some time ago, was arraigned and let go on his own recognizance, to appear at the next session of the court.

A suit was filed in the office of the clerk this afternoon by Balleray & McCourt in the case of Mary Cameron vs. Hugh Bell. The case is brought by Eliza Cameron, the guardian of Mary Cameron, who is a minor on the reservation.

The plaintiff alleges that she is the owner of allotted land on the reservation consisting of 39 acres, and that the land was in wheat. This wheat was threshed and yielded 1,000 bushels worth 70 cents to the bushel and the defendant took the wheat and has since refused to return it, or make good the loss, wherefore the plaintiff asks for a judgment of $700, together with the costs and disbursements of the suit.

PROGRESS ON SEWER.

Most Difficult Work Has Been Done—Probably Be Finished November 1.

The work on the sewer is progressing as rapidly as could be expected in view of the difficulties of the excavation and the nature of the ground. Most of the large pipe has been laid, and the deep part of the work is nearly all done. In all about three and a half miles have been put in, and the men are almost at Main street, both on the Alta and the Court street lines.

On Alta street the men will work straight on and will cross Main street by the middle of the week. They are now about a block from the crossing. After having crossed the street the work will be easier for the large pipe does not extend more than a block on the east side of the Main street line, for at that distance the smaller pipe is laid and as the excavations will be shallower and not so wide, the work will be much faster in the future.

On Court street the men have branched off and have gone around the back of the Hotel Pendleton on Garden and Water streets, and from there will cross the bridge into the north side. All of this part of the work is light and will be done rapidly.

The work on the Court street line will be kept up and another crew of men will be put on the construction. Now that the hardest of the work is over, it is thought that it will be finished by the first of November, as is stipulated in the contract.

Hose Teams Will Banquet.

The members of the two hose teams who ran yesterday will hold a banquet this evening at 2 o'clock at the French restaurant. It was the agreement between the two teams that the money won as a prize in the race should be used for a banquet to be given the two teams, and that agreement will be carried out this evening, the woolsorters and graders having made the arrangements for the feast.

Regular Meeting Tonight.

The regular monthly meeting of the Pendleton Commercial Association will be held tonight. All members are especially requested to be present.
