PRODUCTION OF OIL

STATISTICS ON THE GREATEST INDUSTRY OF AMERICA.

All the Principal Oil Regions Are Increasing in Output—Many New Fields Opened Up—Over One Billion Gallons Exported in Past Year.

In his report to the United States geological survey on the production of petroleum in 1902, now in press, Mr. F. H. Oliphant notes the following points as the most conspicuous features in the production, sale and export of crude petroleum and its products for the year 1902: The production of crude petroleum was greater than that of any previous year; there was a slight decrease in production of the Appalachian field, and a slight increase in the Lima-Indiana field; the general average price for crude petroleum was less than in any year since 1898; stocks held in the Appalachian and Lima-Indiana fields showed a considerable decrease principally in the Appalachian field; the exports of petroleum in 1902 were less than in 1901; no new pools were discovered in 1902.

The total production in the United States of crude petroleum in 1902 was 80,894,590 barrels, as against 69,389,194 barrels in 1901, an increase of 11,505,396 barrels, or 16.5 per cent over that of 1901, and of 27 per cent over that of 1900. The greatest portion of the increase in 1902 came from Texas and California, the gain being 5,830,994 barrels, or 152.7 per cent for Texas, and 5,187,518 barrels, or 59 per cent for California, as compared with their respective productions in 1901. The increase in Indiana in 1902 was 1,723,810 barrels, or about 30 per cent over that of 1901. Louisiana produced for the first time in 1902, the production being 548,617 barrels. The increase in the production of Kansas was 152,598 barrels, or about 85 per cent over 1901. Kentucky and Tennessee increased their production in 1902 by 47,799 barrels, or nearly 35 per cent. Indian Territory increased 27,000 barrels and Wyoming 850 barrels as compared with 1901.

The largest decrease in production in 1902 as compared with 1901 was in West Virginia, where it amounted to 663,781 barrels, or about 4.5 per cent; and Ohio, in its two fields, showed a decrease of 633,852 barrels, or nearly 3 per cent. The decrease in Pennsylvania was 561,498 barrels, or 4.5 per cent; in New York, 86,888 barrels, or about 7 per cent; in Colorado, 66,218 barrels, or about 14 per cent.

The percentages of production by fields show a remarkable change from 1900 to 1902. In 1900 the percentages were: Appalachian field, 57; Lima-Indiana field, 34; all other fields, nearly 9. In 1902 the respective percentages were: Appalachian field, 39; Lima-Indiana field, 29; all other fields, about 32.

The value of the crude petroleum produced in 1902 was $69,610,384, or 85 cents per barrel, that for 1901 having been $66,417,335, or 95.7 cents per barrel, a decrease of 9.7 cents per barrel, or 10 per cent in 1902. The gross amount received for the total product in 1902 was only $3,193,073 greater than that in 1901, although the increase in output was about 16.5 per cent greater. The average price paid for what is known as Pennsylvania petroleum, which comprises nearly 95 per cent of the production of the Appalachian field, was $1,237.50 per barrel in 1902, that for 1901 having been $1,211.21, a gain of nearly 3 cents per barrel. There was also a gain of nearly 4 cents per barrel in the price of the Lima-Indiana petroleum in 1902 over 1901. California petroleum decreased 21.8 cents per barrel in 1902 as compared with 1901 and Texas petroleum decreased 4.55 cents per barrel.

The total number of productive wells in the Appalachian and the Lima-Indiana fields, in 1902, was 11,326, the number in 1901 having been 9,912. The total number of wells completed in the United States in 1902 was about 15,800. At an average cost of $1,500 each these wells represent an investment of $23,700,000, or about 34 per cent of the gross receipts for all the petroleum produced in 1902.

The exports of petroleum and its products exceeded 1,000,000,000 gallons in 1902, for the second time in the history of the industry, the number of gallons exported being 1,064,233,601, a smaller total exportation by nearly 15,000,000 gallons than in 1901.
