RUNAWAY WEDDING

MARRIAGE TOOK PLACE AT 2:30 O'CLOCK A. M.

Croom Was From Spokane and Bride From Weston—Parental Objection Was the Reason for the Clandestine Ceremony—Forgiveness is Predicted.

Late last night George Conger, of Weston, accompanied by Reuben C. Hieronymous, of Spokane, and Miss Edna M. Randall, a 19-year-old girl of Weston, came into the city and after putting the team in the livery stable, commenced search for the county clerk. Shortly after 1 o'clock that official was found sweetly sleeping at his room, and after a little persuasion, went with the trio to the clerk's office, where he made out the necessary papers permitting the two young people to be married.

After the license had been issued Mr. Chamberlain very obligingly took the party to the residence of Justice of the Peace Thomas Fitz Gerald. Here they had some difficulty in getting the judge to awaken, and during the time that he was dressing, the visitors were nervous; but once inside the house they became calm and asked that they be united in the holy bonds without delay.

Mr. Fitz Gerald complied with the request, and by 2:45 a. m. Miss Randall had plighted her troth with the man from Spokane, and the couple were pronounced man and wife.

It is understood that there is a romance back of the unusual methods adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Hieronymous to become one. There are rumors of an irate father who would not give his consent to the marriage of his daughter, and of a disinclination on the part of the young people to abide by the commands of the parent. Be that as it may, the bride and groom left this morning to make their peace with the old folks and claim their blessing. It is also said that when they come back in fear and trembling to Weston they will be welcomed kindly and forgiven, for Mr. and Mrs. Randall were not so opposed to the union as the young people thought. But whether the trouble was real or assumed, the wedding was romantic, and the rest of the clerk and justice was broken by the nervous anxiety of the principals.

PROF. W. C. HAWLEY.

Former President of Willamette University on His Way to Salem.

Willis Chatwin Hawley, who was formerly the president of the Willamette University, passed through the city this morning on his way home from Leadville and Denver, to Salem, where he has been as one of the head managers of the Woodmen.

For some years Mr. Hawley was the president of Willamette University, but when the university authorities decided to make a campaign against the debt that hung over the pioneer institution a man from the East, Dr. Coleman, was called to the head, and the chair of history was given to the former president.

RAILROAD TAX HEARING.

Question of Assessor Strain's Assessment of O. R. & N. Be Heard Tomorrow.

J. W. Morrow, the tax agent of the O. R. & N., is in the city, having come up from Portland to appear before the county court tomorrow when that body meets. This is the time that the tax case of the company comes up for hearing by the county court. The company is confident that it will be able to convince the court of the justice of its claims, and the other side of the question is also sure that it will have the winning side.

"THE BURGOMASTER."

Manager Nixon Delivers the Goods to His Patrons of the Frazer Last Night.

A crowded house greeted the rendition of "The Burgomaster" at the Frazer last night. The company was made up of artists, and the attractive scheme running through the plot of the collection of humorous situations may be called such, was well conceived and well executed.

The choruses were spirited and cleverly rendered. "Dear Old College Days" and "Cupid Does Not Marry," being encored by the large audience, and most of the song specialties being recalled.

The costumes were elegant, the electrical arrangement unique and highly appropriate and taken all through, it is the best musical comedy ever appearing in this city. While some of the features of the "Fiddle Dee Dee," girls which were here last winter, were more sprightly and ludicrous, the general tone, the rich humor and the semi-historical interest of "The Burgomaster" places it above its only rival in the musical comedy field. Manager Nixon deserves great credit for booking this character of attractions, and his efforts are being appreciated.

Going to Roseburg.

H. W. Stewart, who has been in the city for some time, will leave tonight for Roseburg, where he goes to look into some business matters. Mr. Stewart will be gone for several days. He has been asked to accept the position of cashier in a bank at that place, but is undecided as to whether he had best go or not. He is an old resident of that county and is a stockholder in the bank mentioned.

This range lies on the head waters of Burnt river in Baker and Malheur counties and is 17 by 25 miles in extent. The tract is now being surveyed. It will support 30,000 head of sheep.

White Labor Scarce.

Since white labor is so scarce in Grand Ronde valley that it would be impossible to harvest the beet crop without some imported labor, the sugar factory people have contracted for about 150 Japanese for work in the beet fields. They are now arriving at La Grande from different points, in small parties.

Sold 300 Bucks.

J. E. Smith, of the Smith Livestock Company, returned yesterday evening from a business trip to Weiser, and Baker City, in the interests of his business. He sold 300 Merino and Delaine bucks white gone, and says these breeds are in greater demand this year than the Rambouillet among the sheepmen visited by him.

Spokane Bank Unfair.

One of the five banks of Spokane has been declared unfair by the labor unions of that city. The other four carry advertisements in the labor paper and are therefore indorsed.

Steers at Three Cents.

Paul Grupp, of Long Creek, sold 50 head of 3 and 4-year-old steers at Heppner Sunday, for 3 cents per pound.

In Business at Heppner.

Bruce Haynes, formerly of this city, has purchased the furniture business of Wells & Co., at Heppner, and is now there in charge.

Last year 2,969 employees of the railroads of the United States were killed while at work, and 50,524 injured.

MATLOCK WILL RUN

EX-MAYOR STATES HIS POSITION ON ISSUES.

His Policy is to Carry Out the Wishes of a Majority of the Council, Which Course He Pursued When He Formerly Held the Office.

There have been rumors afloat all day to the effect that W. F. Matlock had stated that he would be a candidate for the mayoralty at the coming election. When asked concerning the truth of the statement, Mr. Matlock confirmed them.

"Before I went to Alaska," said Mr. Matlock, "I was asked by some of my friends to make the run for the office, and I told them that they could use my name if they wanted to. That was before anyone else had been mentioned for the place. Since I have returned from Ogden and have heard that Mr. Vincent was in the race, I have seen the men who were anxious for me to run and told them that I would not make the attempt, for Dr. Vincent was a good man and had done well in the place before; but my friends have asked me to stay with the contest, and I have decided to do it. If I were to back out now it would look as though I was afraid to run, and that is not the case. I may be defeated, but I have met defeat before, and it is not a dishonor to be beaten by such a man as the one that I will have for an opponent."

"What are you going to do with all of these questions that vex the administrations of the cities of the land? Are you going to drive the Cottonwood district off the map, and shut up all the games that are running in the city, or what will you do with the question?"

"Well," answered the prospective mayor thoughtfully, "I do not think that the mayor has the power that some people think he has. He presides over the council, and I think that he should do as they think best. It has been my policy in the past to abide by the decision of the majority of the council and I have twice been the mayor of the city. In those days there was not half the trouble about these questions that there is now. I would let the council decide what they wished to do with the matters under discussion, and then would see that their wishes were carried out if possible. Other than that I have not thought of any policy. I am not mayor yet, you know," and Mr. Matlock smiled in a thoughtful way.

FATE PURSUES A FAMILY.
Four Members of the Pruett Family of Oregon, Follow Each Other to Death.

Fatality still pursues the Pruett family, of Prairie. Two weeks ago the Herald chronicled the death of "Hub" Pruett at Whitney, after a brief illness of typhoid. His death had followed the killing of his brother "Mug" at Mitchell on July 4. This was followed a few days later by the death of a sister, and a cousin, Willis, was all but killed in a Dixie Meadows mine accident in August. And now the news comes that the father has died at Prairie City.

This, indeed, is a phenomena that will attract universal attention.—Baker City Herald.

Camas Prairie Cattle Sold.

George C. Sloan, of Ritter, has sold this week to Frank Sloan, of Butter creek, 125 head of stock cattle at $18 per head. He is pasturing them on Camas prairie at present.
