CONFEDERATE VETERANS.

Probability of an Organization Being Effected Soon.

Since the appointment of Colonel Louis C. Garrigues, of Portland, as general organizer of the state for the Confederate Veterans' Association, has been announced, there has been a growing sentiment among the old veterans of the grey in this city and county to have an organization perfected in this part of the state.

There are in Umatilla county between 40 and 50 men who in the past fought for the lost cause of the South, and they are all anxious to unite in an organization that will bring them together socially in the declining years of their lives.

While as yet no steps have been taken to effect an organization, there is talk of it and as soon as Colonel Garrigues comes to this county he will be given a warm welcome and a camp will be instituted.

STILL MAKING ICE

NO CESSATION TO COLD STORAGE OPERATIONS.

Ross Ice & Cold Storage Company Will Pack Eight Hundred Thousand Tons, Besides Furnishing Immense Quantities for the General Market.

This cold weather has set some of the people wondering what the ice man is going to do all this winter, while his ware will not be the thing of desire that it is during the warm weather.

The Ross Ice & Cold Storage plant will run right on during the winter, whether the people bless or curse the ice they make, for they know that in the summer the spirit of the people will change. The company has a storage room in their plant that can accommodate over 800,000 tons of ice, and this will be filled during the coming cold weather. Besides this, it is the intention of the company to contract with the storage houses along the line and fill them with their ice instead of the natural product. If they succeed in getting the job of filling all of these houses it will take them all of the winter nearly, to complete their task.

Space is in Demand.

Outside of the ice storage business the plant has the house full of stored produce and meats, and it would be necessary to run the cold storage part of the institution, whether it made ice or not. The rooms of the place are now rented to business men who have them filled with their wares, and those that are not rented steadily are full of transient stuff. Before the winter is over the rooms at the plant will be at a premium, and it will be hard work to get space for storage.

Daily farmers and dealers are adding to the stock that is already on hand, and the place is fast filling up. In a short time all that the company will have to do will be to keep their cooling pipes in good order and to open the door and close it when the storers come to add produce or to take it away.

LOS ANGELES NOTES.

Superintendent Nowlin Reports Some Interesting Facts About That City.

J. F. Nowlin, the county superintendent of schools, has returned from a trip to Los Angeles on private business. Mr. Nowlin had a pleasant visit, the only thing unpleasant being that he had not sufficient time to spend away from his duties here. The condition of the schools of Los Angeles are worse than those of this city, and along the same line. There are in the city now 5,000 pupils who can find no room in the schools, and that when the city is utilizing any and every piece of rooms in which to place the surplus.

The city is growing at a rapid rate, and there are now being constructed buildings as fine, if not finer, than in any other city in the state. The growth of the city is faster than can be cared for by the workmen of the city, houses springing up on all sides, and every one being prosperous.

They are the finest specimens that have been seen in the city for some time, and are so large that two of them will make a meal for an average family. As Mr. Peebler has many acres of the tubers, he is in a position to supply the country with food for the coming winter.

Mr. Peebler has dug a well on his ranch in Stage Gulch, going 230 feet before he struck what he considered a good supply of water. He now has 147 feet of water in his well.

NEW PRIMARY GRADE.

Scholars on South Side of Track Must Enroll by Monday.

The school board announces that a primary grade will be instituted at the high school building on next Monday. Professor Conklin has requested the children intending to enter this grade to enroll without fail by Monday, for the reason that each addition to the school after that date means a new class for the teachers.

It is the desire of the city superintendent and board that every scholar expecting to attend will be there at the beginning of the class on Monday to facilitate work.

This addition to the school facilities of Pendleton will meet with the hearty approval of a great many patrons who have failed to send their small children to school because of the danger of crossing the tracks.

The board has canvassed that portion of the district thoroughly and finds that a sufficient number of small scholars reside south of the tracks to justify the new grade, although the required number of 50 is not yet forthcoming.

DEATH AND DISEASE

ONLY SIX DEATHS DURING THE MONTH OF SEPTEMBER.

Three Cases of Contagious Disease During the Same Period—Steps Being Taken to Have Complete Record Regularly of Births, Deaths and All Diseases.

During the last month there have been six deaths in the city and the immediate vicinity, but none of them have been from disease of a contagious nature. The city is in a state of good health, according to the data to be gathered at the office of the city recorder, and most of the deaths have been of people from out of the city.

There have been three cases of contagious diseases in the city during the month, and one case of typhoid fever was reported, though there are more cases of the latter disease than are shown from the books of the office. Diphtheria has been reported at the home of George Mansfield, on Bluff street. The children of C. O. Stevens at the home on Beauregard street, have had the same disease during the month, but have recovered. The children of Martin Finneran, at the home back of the schoolhouse, also have diphtheria, but in a very slight form. All of the cases have been reported to the health department and measures taken to prevent their spread.

The health of the city, from all reports is now in as good condition as it ever has been in this season of the year. As soon as the board of health has arranged the matter of the distribution of the blanks to the physicians of the county, a more complete record of the sickness of the county will be kept. Then not only will the deaths and diseases be recorded, but the births as well.
