DAINGEROUS PLACES

OPINIONS RELATING TO RAILROAD CROSSINGS.

Do Not Agree on the Question of Employing a Watchman—A Petition to Have a Watchman Will Probably Be Circulated—Two Members of the Board Not in the City.

For some time the matter of protecting the children from the trains as they go to and come from school, has been agitated by the parents of the children and others interested in the question, and a canvass of the members of the school board now in the city was taken this morning in order to find how they stand.

Dr. Smith's Opinion.
Dr. C. J. Smith is in favor of putting a watchman there, but would rather see the company put gates across Main street at the depot. He does not think that a watchman could control the travel at that point unless he had the gates to help him. The little children, especially those from the country who come here to attend school are not accustomed to dodging trains, and are apt when they are caught on the tracks at Main street by the engines which are passing there continually, to become scared and lose their presence of mind and thus be run over. He is in favor of some means of controlling the travel and guarding the lives of the children.

Mr. Teutsch Favors a Watchman.
Lee Teutsch, another member of the board, is in favor of getting the company to put a man on the crossing to watch the travel. There is a great deal of passing to and fro on the Main street crossing, and there should be some means of warning at that place, to those who are passing—not only to the children, but the general public as well. The matter was spoken about at the last meeting of the board, but no action was taken.

The company should be asked to make some provision at the point for the safety of the public, for it is a matter that concerns them not only from a business view as well. The traffic at times is congested on Main street, and passing teams do not hear the approaching trains until they are almost upon the street. It is a dangerous arrangement as now conducted, and should be changed some way.

Mr. Failing is Adverse.
Jesse Failing, on the other hand, is of the other opinion. He thinks the putting of a man there is not necessary. In the cities there are more trains passing in a minute than here in an hour, and accidents are the exception rather than the rule. There is more danger in one day from street cars in the cities than there is here from the cars in the course of the school year, and Mr. Failing does not think it necessary to put a man at the crossing.

Of course some one is liable to be run over and perhaps killed, but it would be as bad with a man there as without one, for the reason that the people would get into the habit of placing all their dependence on the watchman, and if he were absent for a time the people would be in more danger than ever, for they would not watch for themselves. The watchman is not necessary now so much as he might have been some time ago, before the installation of the primary grade at the high school building. Now all of the children on the south side of the track do not have to expose themselves to the danger of the crossing, as they did formerly, and the older people are able to look out for themselves.

Mr. Halley is Not in Favor.
John Halley, Jr., the clerk of the board, does not think the watchman advisable or necessary, for the same reasons advanced by Mr. Failing. He thinks the people of the city are making a mountain out of a molehill in their estimation of the danger attending the children at the crossing, and does not think it necessary for the company to put a watchman at the place.

Petition Proposed.
It is proposed to petition the city council to take some steps toward protecting the railroad crossing and while the sentiment of the school board is divided upon the subject, the general public and patrons of the school are duly interested in securing some protection.

Walter S. Pierce and C. S. Jackson, who are also members of the school board, are absent from the city, but will be interviewed on the subject at the earliest opportunity.

EXCURSION TO WALLA WALLA.

One Hundred Eighty Went From Pendleton—Band Was Principal Attraction.

In spite of the rain a large crowd took advantage of the concession on the part of the O. R. & N. and went to Walla Walla yesterday to attend the closing of the fruit fair. One hundred and eighty bought tickets from Pendleton, and this number was added to at the stations along the line until by the time the train reached Walla Walla it was loaded to the guards.

The weather at that city was not of the best for the enjoyment of the visitors, a steady rain falling all during the day and most of the night. On the return trip many Pendleton people who had gone to the fair during the middle of the week took the special train which left the city at 10:30 p. m. for home.

The fruit fair itself was not as large as the one of last year. The exhibits were good in quality but shrunken in quantity. However, some very fine specimens of produce were on exhibition. The principal feature of the week was the Italian band, which packed the big pavilion every day during the time of the fair with an interested audience, who came more to listen to the music than to see the sights. The excursion train reached Pendleton about 1 o'clock this morning.

PIGEON SHOOT.

Favorable Day Yesterday and Some Very Good Records Were Made.

Several of the members of the Sportsmen's Club held a live pigeon shoot yesterday at the club grounds, at which some very good records were made. The day was good for the men and bad for the pigeons, as there was no wind.

The records were: A. D. Stillman, 8; James Spence, 9; C. C. Berkeley, 7; T. C. Warner, 8; Charles Ferguson, 9; H. J. Stillman, 8; W. J. Sewell, 7, out of a possible 11. H. W. Stewart and E. T. Wade each shot at five birds. The former got four out of the five, while Mr. Wade hit the first and then got the buck and missed the rest.

School Fund Apportionment.

Superintendent J. F. Nowlin is at work on an apportionment of the school funds to the different districts of the county. He has over $21,000 to distribute, and in order to make the apportionment, will have to make a list of all the school children in each district of the county and divide the money between them according to the number, allowing to each district the sum of $6 for each child.

Inland Empire Pioneers.

The Inland Empire Pioneers' Association held a reunion at Walla Walla Saturday, a banquet being enjoyed as one of the pleasant features of the occasion. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Dr. N. G. Bialock, president; Marvin Evans, secretary, and Levi Ankeny, treasurer.

To Exterminate Beaver.

Walla Walla sportsmen are planning to exterminate a colony of beaver that is contentedly located on Mill creek, not far from that city. No mention is made of these animals in the game laws of Washington and the sportsmen have a license to kill them off if they so desire.

Automobile Cab Line.

A 12-passenger gasoline auto, has been placed in service as a cab in Walla Walla. It will be used for excursion and sight-seeing purposes about the city and country adjacent. Lewiston is the only other city in the Inland Empire boasting of such a novelty.

Thirty-One Cars Cattle.

J. C. Lonergan will ship 31 cars of cattle out of the city over the W. & C. R. tomorrow evening. This is the second of the big shipments he will make this month.

Senator Hunt in Town.

J. E. Hunt, of Portland, one of the members of the senate from Multnomah county, is in the city today attending to some business matters. While here he will be the guest of Dr. C. J. Smith.

Sale of a Farm.

CHEMAWA BAND.

Twenty-one Members Arrived This Morning and Will Remain Five Days.

The Chemawa Indian band reached the city this morning and will be here the five days of the carnival. The boys are all registered at the Golden Rule, where they will stop during the week.

With the band is Robert Savage and Oscar and John Steelhammer, three of the members of the Salem band and men well known throughout the valley as musicians. The Steelhammer boys are the leaders of the Steelhammer orchestra, the principal orchestra of the capital city. H. W. Stoudemeyer, the manager of the band, is also with the aggregation.

Those registered at the hotel are Charles Larsen, Harry Beard, Jesse Crook, Bob Savage, Richard Harris, Carl Geffe, Freeman Ladrant, Haynes DeWitt, Clifford Coonskin, Tracy Hatch, Sidney Willings, James Steelquette, Oscar Steelhammer, Charles Payne, Andrew Pecard, John Steelhammer, Joe Teahoe, William Arguette, John Harris, Teppie Nelson and H. W. Stoudemeyer.

SHOWS ARE HERE.

Tents Going Up and Other Preparations Under Way.

The Arnold shows reached the city last night and today the workmen are busy getting the tents up and everything in readiness for the carnival which will open tomorrow. The parade will commence at 10:30 from the tent near the depot, and will traverse the principal streets of the city.

Some of the business men of the city will put booths in front of their places of business where they will have on display an assortment of the things they sell on the inside.

Lemonade stands and merry-go-rounds (or pleasure wheels, as they are now called) are being put into position, and by tomorrow night the Pendleton carnival will be in full swing.

DEATH OF A PIONEER.

B. Stanton Passes Away at Milton From Cancer.

B. Stanton, aged 68, died from facial cancer Saturday last at his home at Weston. With him at the time of his death was his wife and children, Smith Stanton, Jerry Stanton, Mrs. Lucinda Carpenter Stanton, of Athena, and her, Anee Stanton, who survives him.

The funeral was held at the Christian church at Milton yesterday, conducted by Rev. Cartwright, and the remains were laid to rest in the site of a battle ground, white men and Indians.

Mr. Stanton was born in 1853, living since in Macoupin county, Missouri, and came to this country in 1880, every Indian war in the west during that time. He was a member of the Christian church at Milton.

TRACKMEN'S UNION.

Such an Organization Will Be Effected Wednesday.

The track men of the O. R. & N. of this vicinity will hold a meeting on Wednesday evening for the purpose of organizing a union. It is expected that there will be a membership of 20 or over. The matter of organization has been under discussion for some time, and it has at last been deemed best to the interests of the men to form a union. The white men in the service of the company do not like to work by the side of the Japs who are being so generally employed by the company along the line of their road, and a primary purpose of their union is to try and persuade their employers to do away with the hiring of Japanese or Chinamen on their lines.

There is no other trackmen's union in this vicinity though there is a national organization of the trackmen which extends over nearly all of the railroad lines in the country.

ACADEMY WAGONETTE.

Holds Twenty Children — Driven by Skilled Horseman.

The wagonette ordered by Pendleton Academy some time ago from Temple & Wilcox has reached the city and was put in commission this morning for the first time. It will hold 20 children and will take them to and from school daily. The vehicle is accompanied in its rounds by a teacher from the school who sees that the children are safely transported to the Academy and back again to their homes.

The driver is a young student from Elgin, who is a good horseman, so there is no danger of any kind to the pupils.

Train From Portland Nearly Wrecked

Mrs. Casper Van Dran returned last night from a visit in Portland and other valley points. The train on which Mrs. Van Dran returned had a narrow escape from being wrecked as it came through one of the cuts along the Columbia. A small boulder had fallen from above onto the track, and the engine and three cars passed over it before the train could be stopped. The cars passing over the stone executed a lively dance for a minute, but did not leave the track.

Hall is Indicted.

Ed Hall, of Walla Walla, who was arrested in this city about two months ago on the advice of the postal authorities from Walla Walla, has just been indicted by the United States grand jury, at Tacoma, for appropriating a letter belonging to another. Hall called for his sister's mail, at Walla Walla, and when given a letter belonging to another young lady, cashed the money order it contained and spent the money. He left Walla Walla immediately and was captured by the police force in this city.

Rev. Bell to State Synod.

Rev. J. R. N. Bell, of Baker City, passed through the city this morning on his way to Portland and Corvallis. In Portland he will visit with his family, who are residing there, and from Portland he will go to Corvallis to attend the meeting of the Presbyterian synod, which convenes in that city on Thursday.
