PURCHASE ORDERED

TWELVE HUNDRED FEET SUPERIOR FIRE HOSE.

Fire Committee Took Action Today—Gongs and Torches Also Ordered—General Council is in Session This Afternoon—Hose Will Cost Seventy Cents Per Foot.

The fire committee of the city council composed of W. J. Sewell, G. A. Hartman and J. R. Dickson, met in the council rooms this morning for the consideration of the bids for the new hose. Mr. Withee, the chief of the department, was called into consultation with the committee, and after looking over the samples, it was decided to recommend to the council that 400 feet of double jacket, rubber-lined hose be bought of the firm represented by the Taylor Hardware Co., 400 feet of the firm represented by the Thompson Hardware Co., and 400 feet of the people whose bid was submitted by H. J. Stillman. This is a little more than the amount advertised for, but the committee thought best to recommend the purchase of that much. All of the companies quoted the hose at 70 cents to the foot.

The council also recommended the purchase of five fire gongs and 12 brass torches of A. G. Long, of Portland, at a cost of $120.

A meeting of the council was called for this afternoon at 3:30, at which time the report of the fire com-

Freewater Bawdy Houses Closed.
Maude White and Irma Clinton, the two women brought here by Deputy Sheriff J. A. They will make no fight in the case and will not attempt to reopen the house in Freewater, which will be a decisive victory for the better element of that city.

FOR PRIZE ESSAYS

PUBLIC SCHOOLS INVITED TO WRITE HISTORY.

Oregon Historical Society Makes an Effort to Stimulate the Study of American History Among Students.

The following circular has been sent out by the Oregon Historical Society to all the public schools of the state. The object of the prizes offered is to stimulate a study of historical subjects and especially the study of American history and last year the contest was participated in by about 20 public schools in Oregon.

The Oregon Society of Sons of the American Revolution has several times in the past offered prizes to the school children of the state for essays on subjects connected with Revolutionary history. The results in the past have encouraged the society to renew the offer at this time. Prizes of $25, $15 and $10 respectively, will therefore be awarded for the three best essays in the order of merit, written by students in the public schools of Oregon on any of the following subjects:

1. The Arousing of Public Opinion; the Work of Samuel Adams, Thomas Paine, John Dickinson and Patrick Henry.
2. Lexington and Concord.
3. The Battle of King's Mountain.
4. Virginia's Part in the American Revolution.

Essays are limited in length to 3,000 words; must be written on one side of the paper in the student's own handwriting and must be accompanied by the certificate of the principal of the school attended by the author, to the effect that the author is a bona fide student in the school and has been in attendance therein not less than four weeks during the school year of 1903-4. Essays must be forwarded to the chairman of the committee in charge, Wallace McCarrant, 34 Concord Building, Portland, Or., so as to reach him not later than February 1st, 1904. In awarding the prizes the committee will be governed by these three considerations:

1. Historical accuracy.
2. Manner of treatment.
3. Orthography, grammar, syntax and punctuation.

Any additional information which may be desired will be cheerfully furnished by any member of the committee. The essay which is awarded the first prize will be published in full, with the name of the author, in the public press.

This contest has come to be a recognized feature in the public schools of Oregon. Professor Conklin will present the above circular to the high school classes and the matter of entering the contest will be taken by them.

There are so many regular studies and so many matters of local importance and interest to claim the attention of students that this prize offer cannot be given the attention it deserves, but the school will at least consider it.

BUYING SHEEP.
Two Purchasers Negotiate With Charles Cunningham.
S. Cameron, of North Yakima, has bought 2,000 head of sheep of Chas. Cunningham and will ship them to Yakima on Tuesday evening over the W. & C. R., where he will feed them during the winter for the spring market. There will be six cars in the shipment.

G. W. Hunt, of Foster, is also in the city and went out to the Cunningham ranch this afternoon to look at the flock there, in hopes of finding something to his taste, as he is thinking of investing in a large number of range sheep for his ranch.

Former Resident Here.
Dr. L. J. Perkins of Des Moines is in the city for a short visit with friends here. The doctor is on his way to Lewiston where he may locate for the future. He is well known in Pendleton, having resided here for many years, and being for a long time in the employment of the government on the reservation as the agency physician. He has since been in the Philippine service and has held government positions in Washington. He will be the guest of old friends here for a few days before proceeding to Lewiston.

Moved to Town.
Joe Forrest has moved his family into the city from the ranch at Thorn Hollow and will send his children to school. Mr. Forrest is one of the old pioneers of this part of the state and has had a prominent part in reclaiming a great deal of the land of the Walla Walla country and of this part of the state and thinks that with the adoption of irrigation here this will become the important portion of the state.

Baker City Journalist.
John W. Ellsworth, traveling correspondent for the Baker City Democrat, is in the city today on a vacation, which he will spend here and at Walla Walla. He has written up most of the interesting points in Eastern Oregon, and is a fascinating descriptive writer. He was formerly a resident of La Grande and is a grandson of the late General J. H. Stevens, who died in La Grande last spring, at the age of 95.

Sky High Photograph.
Rev. R. W. King made a fast job of the balloon ascension this morning. The balloon went up a little after 11 o'clock and Mr. King photographed it just before the man cut loose the parachute. He has developed the negative and now has a good picture of the exhibition at the most interesting and spectacular moment.

Livestock Exhibit.
Court street was the scene of a livestock exhibit today. A pen about 4x4 was set in the middle of the street, and in it was placed the Court street stock exhibit, consisting of a couple of spring chickens, a picture of a bull from the Coe Commission office, a rag dog and other curios.

Treasurer Did Not Skip.
The report that the treasurer of the Sumpter Racing Association had skipped out with the funds, is untrue. M. H. Allen of Sumpter, a highly respected citizen, is both secretary and treasurer and is at his home attending to his business. There was no foundation for the report.

Midwinter Circus.
The students of Whitman College, associated with the Walla Walla band, are preparing to give a midwinter circus some time in November, and work on the program is now under way. The circus will be held on November 18, 19, 20 and 21, at Armory hall, Walla Walla.

Returned From Hospital.
Mrs. C. P. Davis has returned from the hospital at Waua Walla, where she has been for some time recovering from the effects of an operation. Her many friends will be pleased to learn that she is much benefited in health.

Just Like a Cyclone.
During the high wind Sunday night, the home of Al Harding, near Pocatontas, was lifted and carried 55 feet. The entire family were asleep in the house at the time, but no one was injured.—Baker City Herald.

POTATO DIGGING MACHINE.
A. Kunkel Sells B. F. McIlroy One of the First Machines in the County.
A. Kunkel, the farm implement man, today sold to B. F. McIlroy, a Powden Potato Digger, one of the first machines of the kind to be brought into Umatilla county.

The machine is quite a complicated affair, having a plow-shaped blade in front which throws the potatoes into an elevator, consisting of small rods, over which they are carried, shaking off the dirt and dumping them on the ground behind. It is pulled by two or four horses, according to the condition of the ground, and in ordinary ground will harvest from eight to 10 acres a day.

Mr. McIlroy has about 100 acres to harvest and in addition to his own crop, will harvest a large crop for James A. Fee.

ASK NATIONAL AID

FINAL DRAFT OF THE LEWIS AND CLARK BILL READY.

State Commission Has Not Yet Indorsed it But There Will Be Little Change Probably—Will Be Presented at Coming Session of Congress.

The Lewis and Clark fair corporation has drafted a bill to be presented to the national congress, asking for $2,125,000 for national aid in furthering the fair.

One of the first provisions of the bill is that the president appoint a world's fair commission to have charge of this fund and attend to its expenditure in accordance with the provisions of the act. The state commission has not yet indorsed the bill as drafted, and it will take several days for the members of this commission to fully investigate the details of the bill, before they are ready to attach their signatures to the recommendation for its introduction.

If the state commission indorses it, it will be presented in its present form, at the coming session of congress. If the state commission suggests some changes in it, the fair corporation will probably consent to a small change in any of the details of the bill.

Details of Appropriation.
Of the big appropriation asked, $1,500,000 is specified as being for the general expenses of the exposition. This will include the expense of securing, placing and caring for exhibits, erecting certain buildings, paying salaries and multifarious other necessary expenses attached to consummating the big exposition. The sum of $250,000 is asked for the Lewis and Clark memorial building, with the provision that $50,000 will be supplied to this fund by the state of Oregon. While it is stipulated that the government is to have the disposition of such buildings as it erects, it is asked that the memorial building be dedicated to the state, together with all its interior decorations, records, statues and work of art. For decorating the interior of the building $100,000 additional is asked.

The bill states that a suitable government exhibit is required and provides an appropriation of $250,000 for the purpose of erecting this structure. Provision is made that, while the government will have the ownership of this building, at the conclusion of the fair Portland is to have
