FOR BETTER ROADS

STATE ASSOCIATION MEETS
IN PORTLAND OCT. 23-24.

All Counties are Expected to Send Delegates—Many Able Speakers Will be Present—Improved Methods of Road Making Needed.

The Oregon Good Roads Association holds its annual convention October 23 to 24, in Portland, and at that time will bring up the important matter of road improvement in the state.

This was decided upon this week at a meeting of the executive committee of the association at which there was a full attendance of members.

The executive committee is made up of the following:

- H. J. Scott, of Salem, president.
- H. H. Palmer, of Albany, secretary.
- C. J. Trenchard, of Astoria; G. C. Blakely, of The Dalles; W. W. Travillion, of Baker City; L. A. Rood, of Hillsboro; J. E. Magers, of Portland.

At the time of the organization of the association last year an effort was made to secure a promise from the National Good Roads Association to bring its "Good Roads Train" to Eastern Oregon next year.

As will be remembered, this train, which is equipped by the government with all modern road-making and road-improving machinery on the market, will tour the West and give practical demonstrations under the direction of government experts. The chairman of the executive committee of the National association is unable to give a definite answer regarding making one of the scheduled stopping places.

The members of the Oregon association feel that much can be learned from the visitors about the ways and means that are employed with success in other cities and states for the betterment of the highways, and that the pointers given the local organization may be used with profit to Oregon and her cities.

Among those who are expected to attend are: J. H. McDonald, commissioner of roads for the Rocky mountain district, invitations have been sent to other prominent men who have made a study of roads and their improvement, and it is expected that several of them will be present. Governor Chamberlain, of Oregon, will deliver an address.

All Counties to Send Delegates.
Besides these men it is expected that all county judges, commissioners and road supervisors, masters of county highways, city street commissioners and engineers, so far as possible, will be present as delegates, they being entitled to participate in the convention by virtue of their office. The county clerks of the various counties have also been asked to appoint five delegates from each county.

Practically all of the time will be devoted to the consideration of roads and the best methods of improving them. Addresses are to be made by the visiting commissioners and supervisors, especially those from other states, in which the methods that have been employed and the work that has been done in other places will be thoroughly explained.

The Deaf State's Story.

"The most pathetic story I ever heard," said Senator Hoar once, "was told by Professor Gallaudet. The professor had a favorite pupil, a little deaf mute boy, exceptionally bright. Mr. Gallaudet asked him if he knew the story of George Washington and the cherry tree.

"With his nimble fingers the little fellow said he did, and then he proceeded to repeat it. The noiseless gesticulations continued until the boy had informed the professor of the elder Washington's discovery of the mutilated tree and of his quest for the mutilator.

"When George's father asked him who hacked his favorite cherry tree," signaled the voiceless child, "George put his hatchet in his left hand."

"Stop," interrupted the professor. "Where did you get your authority for saying he took the hatchet in his left hand?"

"Why," responded the boy, "he needed his right hand to tell his father that he cut the tree."

Schlitz

A Doctor's Reasons

Patient: "Why do you say Schlitz beer? Isn't any other beer as good?"

Doctor: "Perhaps; but I don't know it. I do know that Schlitz beer is pure."

Patient: "What do you mean by pure?"

Doctor: "I mean free from germs. Impurity means bacilli; and in a saccharine product like beer bacilli multiply rapidly. I do not recommend a beer that may contain them."

Patient: "How do you know that Schlitz beer is pure?"

Doctor: "I have seen it brewed. Cleanliness is carried to extremes in that brewery. The beer is cooled in plate glass rooms, in filtered air. The beer is then filtered. Yet, after all these precautions, every bottle is sterilized—by Pasteur's process—after it is sealed. I know that beer treated in that way is pure."

Patient: "And is pure beer good for me?"

Doctor: "It is good for anybody. The hops form a tonic; the barley a food. The trifle of alcohol is an aid to digestion. And the custom of drinking beer supplies the body with fluid to wash out the waste. People who don't drink beer seldom drink enough fluid of any kind. A great deal of ill-health is caused by the lack of it."

Patient: "But doesn't beer cause biliousness?"

Doctor: "Not Schlitz Beer. Biliousness is caused by 'green' beer—beer that is insufficiently aged. But Schlitz beer is always aged for months before it is marketed."

THE BEER THAT MADE MILWAUKEE FAMOUS

HICKORY IS SCARCE

ONE HUNDRED PER CENT
ADVANCE IN ONE YEAR.

The Incomparable Timber for Certain Lines of Manufactures—No Satisfactory Substitute Therefor—National Organization to Promote its Culture.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 10.—The rapidly diminishing supply of hickory, which has recently caused alarm among manufacturers of hickory products, was the subject under discussion at a meeting of the hickory handle manufacturers' association held today at the Southern Hotel. Those present represented hickory handle manufacturers who produce

90 per cent of the product that supplies not only the United States, but England, Germany, China, Australia, South Africa and the South American countries. Reports previously presented to the association showed that practically the entire hickory supply north of the Ohio river has been exhausted. In this territory, it is said, the supply is confined to a few states in the South and Southeast.

The association believes that if the situation is impressed upon the public the slaughter and waste of the hickory may be stopped. There is nothing yet known that will take the place satisfactorily of hickory. The manufacture of buggies, which is ever increasing in this country, has made great inroads on the supply. During the past eight months the price of hickory products has advanced 100 per cent, and there are intimations that the price will go still higher in the near future.

Among the officers and prominent members of the association now in session to consider the situation, are Charles D. Gates, of Louisville; J. C. Storm, of Kirksville, Mo.; C. L. Hartwell, of Chicago; J. E. Bennett, of Dexter, Mo.; B. W. Mann, of Louisville; Frank Storm, of Kirksville, Ky.; F. W. Peters, of New Albany, Ind.; M. R. Grace, of Huntsville, Ala.; T. R. King, of Hope, Ark., and C. E. R. Clendenin, of Indian Territory.

Music and Passions.
"My daughter," remarked Mrs. A., "has developed a perfect passion for music."
"I wonder," observed Mrs. B., who resides next door, "if it's as strong as the passion your daughter's music develops in my husband?"
They meet as strangers now.

Reversed His Decision.
Stern Father—Didn't I tell you not to call again, sir?
Sutor—I know. But I didn't call to see your daughter. I came on behalf of our firm about that little bill!"
Stern Father—Er—er—call again, will you?

A Real Bereavement.
Kate—What makes you look so sad, Bertha? Surely it cannot be Fred has broken his engagement with you?
Bertha—It's worse than that. Somebody has stolen Fido.—Exchange.
