How to Sell a Crop and Still Have it.

A great many farmers carry their crops for a long time after harvest waiting for an advance in prices. Those who need money can get a large part of the value of their crop out in money and still hold the grain for an advance in the following

Suppose a farmer has 5,000 bushels wheat which he can sell at 65 cents a bushel; let him sell it and receive $1,250 in payment; then let him buy 5,000 bush els of May wheat and margin it 5 cents a bushel. This will require $250,00. will then have $1,000 to use as he sees fit
If the price of May wheat goes up five cents per bushel, he will make $250 the same as if he had held his 5,000 bushels of wheat in his granary. Yours for consideration, Quotations on Staples Furnished by Local Merchants and Revised Daily.

No change is noted in the stock market today, and vegetables and fruits remain the same. The most noticeable thing in the grocery stores today is the large shipments of fresh spring vegetables on hand. Lettuce. spinach, radishes and cauliflower are all in evidence and bring back the memory of April and May. A very few lingering peaches are still on the market, and some excellent tomatoes are seen. Fall apples rule the fruit list, as they are coming in in great quantities and are of excellent quality. Prunes and plums are also in demand for preserves and jellies, The staples all remain the same.

Assuming Bushands' Names

The practice of the wife assuming the husband's name at marriage, ac cording to Dr. Brewer, originated from Roman custom and became the common custom after the Roman occupa tion. Thus Julia and Octavia, married to Pompey and Cicero, were called by the Romans Julia of Pompey, Octavia of Cicero, and in latter times married comen in most European countries signed their names in the same manner but omitted the "of." Against this riew may be mentioned that during the sixteenth and even at the beginning of the seventeenth century the usage seems doubtful, since we find Catharine Parr so signing herself after she had been twice married, and we always hear of Lady Jane Grey (not Dudley), Arabella Stuart (not Seymouri, etc.

Some persons think that the custom originated from the Scriptural teaching that husband and wife are one. This was the rule of law so far back as Bracton (died 1268), and it was decided in the case of Bon versus Smith in the reign of Elizabeth, that a woman by marriage loses her former name and legally receives the name of her hus band. Altogether the custom is involved in much obscurity

holy Cont of Treves

The boly cout preserved at Treves, in Germany, is claimed to be the seamless garment worn by Christ and for which the Roman soldiers east lots during the ernelfixions It is a tunic about five feet long, cut narrow at the shoulders and gradually widening toward the knees. Many infracles are said to have been performed by this robe.

Its history for the last 700 years is the story of the relic prior to the twelfth century. The Catholic church relies for proof of its authoric church relies for proof of its authenticity upon a tradition that it was one of a chestful of relies sent as a gift to the church at Treves by the Empress Helena. She is said to have found the cont at Jerusalem while in search of the true cross.

A legend says that in the ninth cen tury the holy coat was concealed from the Normans in a crypt of the cathedrai. There it remained forgotten until 1196, when it was rediscovered and placed in the high altar.

An Extraordinary Shower

Daniel O'Connell, the Irish agitator, once complained in the house of commons of a report of a speech in a Lon don newspaper which, he said, put into his mouth opinions he had never expressed. He vowed that if the editor did not apologize he would move that he be brought to the bar for a breach of privilege

Next day the reporter of the speech waited upon O'Connell and gave a most remarkable explanation. He stated that during his walk from the house to his office in Fleet street the rain streamed into his pockets and obliterated the notes of his speech.

"I accept the explanation," said O'Connell, good humoredly, "but let me say that it must have been a very extraordinary shower of rain, for it not only washed out of your notebook the speech I delivered, but washed in another of an entirely different char-

How to Light a Solid Body.

Cadogan Morgan was the first electrician to experiment with electric light in solid bodies. This was in 1785. He first inserted two wires into a stick of wood and caused the spark to pass between them. This had the effect of iiluminating the stick a beautiful blood red. An ivory ball, an orange or an ap ple may be lighted in the same manner. Some experimenters prefer the lemon and free you from all the disagreeable symptoms of Indigestion and Dyspepsia. Eat what you like at any time, and take an Acker Tablet afterward. Positively guaranteed. Your money will always be retunded if you are not satisfied. Write to us for a free sample. W. H. Hooker & Co., buffelo N. Y. for this purpose, it being very suscepti-ble to the electric discharge, flashing forth at every spark as a spheroid of brilliant golden light. The wires used for this purpose should be brought within about half an inch of each other Inside the lemon.
