IT IS A PARASITE.

That Causes Itching Scalp, Dandruff, and Finally, Falling Hair.

The itching scalp, the falling hair and the dandruff that annoys are the work of a parasite hidden in the scalp. That parasite must be killed to cure dandruff, and the only preparation that will do that is Newbro's Herpicide. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect."

C. H. Reed of Victor, Idaho, says: "Myself and wife had dandruff and falling hair several years. Two bottles of Newbro's Herpicide completely cured us, after several other preparations had failed to do good." Makes hair grow glossy and soft as silk. Hundreds of other testimonials just as strong. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. F. W. Schmidt & Co., special agents.

DEMARIS TO THE DALLET.

Changes Being Made in Catholic Pastorates.

If his plans are carried out Rev. A. Bronsgeest, who has served St. Peter's Catholic church so well for the past twenty-three years, will leave The Dalles the early part of next week, says The Dalles Chronicle. He expects to go at once to Davenport, Iowa, where if everything is satisfactory to him he will remain as priest in the church there.

Father Demaris, who has been located at Baker City for the past three years, will take charge of the parish in The Dalles. He is a young man in his 30's and it is thought is well suited to assume the duties devolving upon a priest in the church at this place. Father Bronsgeest expects him to arrive Thursday.

DEFECTIVE FIRE ENGINE.

Walla Walla is in Bad Shape for Fire Fighting.

Tests on both engines yesterday afternoon in Sumach street disclosed the startling fact to the city officials that neither engine could throw as much water, as expected and that the older engine could not be depended upon at all for long service, says the Walla Walla Union. The developments were a revelation to some of the members and all expressed the need of immediate action. The action came last night in an-

"ALEXANDER THE GREAT."

A Fair Plot Backed by Splendid Interpretation and Action.

The Fraser theater was well filled last night to see Warde and James in their new play, "Alexander the Great." While the play itself was not so strong as some of the old Shakespearean plays that have been so ably played by these veterans, it was a good one and brought out the human traits of the men of the olden time as represented by the playwright in the characters of Alexander, Perdicas, Cleopatra and the other members of the court and army.

The calm, cautious and unerring calculations of Perdicas, the prime minister who plotted to overthrow Alexander and rule the world, the fickleness and impetuosity of Cleopatra, who would still be queen at any cost as presented by Miss Sumner, and the man of purpose and unshakable ambition, Alexander the king as interpreted by Mr. James, composed a trio about which a strong support rallied to make a natural and realistic production. Not to plot so much as to action does the play owe its success, and of the acting nothing could be desired more than was given.

The scenery was in every way equal to the standard of the play, and the snow scene in the fourth act was so realistic that the audience grew cold as the flakes filtered down on the struggling soldiers. The presentation will be long remembered as one of the best ever seen at the Fraser.

General Henry Harrison Hayce, well known in financial circles in the West, but for some years a resident of New York City, was struck Tuesday by a street car and killed.
