THE STOLEN HORSE.

An Old Proverb With a New Application.

The woods are full of "so-called" remedies for baldness.

You may call anything in creation a remedy, but to use them is like locking the stable after the horse is stolen.

Ealdness and Dandruff are caused by the germ—if you don't kill the germ the hair will fall.

Scientists have labored with the problem as a preventative for baldness for many years.

Newbro's Herpicide is the product of a modern idea, and will cure dandruff and prevent baldness because germs cannot exist when you apply Herpicide.

Herpicide is a vegetable hair dressing and scalp disinfectant as well as a cure for Dandruff.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. F. W. Schmidt & Co., special agents.

"Jessie Shirley."

The Walla Walla Union has the following to say of Jesse Shirley's performances in that city: "Jessie Shirley surpassed herself in 'Nell Gwynne' last night. Her conception of Charles II's favorite mistress seemed peculiarly snappy and taking, and Miss Shirley appeared to have a cast well suited to her attainments. —Quarrie as Charles II was good, and the company generally showed up even better than in 'Trilby.' Tonight 'Camille' will be given and promises to prove the assertion often made regarding Miss Shirley's engagements—that she gets better the longer they last. The company played to full houses in Colfax every night." This company will be at the Frazer October 24.

Farmers' Institute at Spokane.

The Farmers' Institute at Spokane only brought out six farmers on the first day. If it had been a Quaker doctor meeting, remarks a Spokane paper, every man in a radius of 15 miles would have attended.

THE JUSTICE BUCKS.

Dispenser of the Law Don't Like to Be Grafted by Street Department.

Police Justice Hinkle, of Spokane, and the board of public works have looked horns over a charge of 50 cents which was placed against the judge for putting a plank in the sidewalk facing his property on Broadway, says the Spokane Press.

Justice Hinkle flatly refused to pay the 50 cents this afternoon, holding that the charge was exorbitant, that he would not pay for his walk at the rate of 50 cents per plank and that it was not necessary for the city to send out a man and a team to his house to lay one board. He contended that the city repair wagon goes all over the city and that the board could have been put down for much less than 50 cents.

Street Commissioner Root said this afternoon that the board itself cost 15 cents, and that a man and a wagon had to be sent out from the city supply yards purposely to lay the board, that the police reported a dangerous hole in Justice Hinkle's walk and that the hole had to be repaired at once. Furthermore, it was pointed out in the office of the commissioner that the carpenter laid a plank in the sidewalk of a private citizen the other day and charged $1.25 for the plank and labor; that Justice Hinkle go off easy.

The matter between the justice and the police department ended for the time being by the department deciding to do more repairing for the justice's sidewalk and to charge a lump sum.

Justice Hinkle is waiting for the bill.

PRECIOUS METALS.

Lithium. Quoted at $1,100 a Pound. Used to Cure Rheumatism.

A writer in the New York Herald says that one of the most curious of the rare metals is vanadium, which melts at 2000 degrees F., and is not attacked by either muriatic acid or nitric acid. It increases the ductility of copper and iron and would be valuable to electrometallurgists on account of the properties named if the price of it were not so high—$592 a pound. Its chief use at present is for coloring glass.

Uranium is likewise employed in the making of glass and porcelain, though it is expensive, being worth $86 a pound.

Lithium is valued today at $780 a pound and is the hardest metal known. It is used for tips of gold pens. Palladium costs $182 a pound and is employed for astronomical instruments.

Platinum, which is quoted at $1,100 a pound, is prescribed by doctors for rheumatism—its salts, that is to say—but no use has been found for it outside of medicine.

Selenium, which is one of the cheapest of the rare metals, is worth $22 a pound. It has the strange property of losing its resistance to the electric current under the influence of light and accordingly is used in certain instruments, such as the telescope, which utilizes light rays as a means of conveying signals.

There is one drug which is worth more than its weight in gold. That is pseudo-physostigmine. In the pharmacists' list it is quoted at 81 a grain, or $75.50 an ounce. The seed from which the drug is made grows in India and Brazil as well as in parts of South Africa. This seed, tradition says, was once used by native chiefs as an ordeal. The ordeal generally resulted in the death of the man upon whom it was tried and so was considered as a great truth finder. The prepared drug is sometimes used now in prescriptions for the treatment of heart disease.

If you are troubled with impure blood, indicated by sores, pimples, headache, etc., we would recommend Acker's Blood Elixir, which we sell under a positive guarantee. It will always cure scrofulous or syphilitic poisons and all blood diseases. 50 cts. and $1.00. F. W. Schmidt & Co., druggists.
