Quotations on Staples Furnished by Local Merchants and Revised Daily.

Popcorn has made its appearance on the Pendleton markets, and the long evenings may now be enlivened by the ever pleasurable sport of corn popping, which has been one of the American enjoyments since corn has been one of the great crops. The shelled corn is worth $1-3 cents per pound, and the corn on the cob, 5 cents per pound. This is the latest new feature in the markets. The raise in coal oil promises to continue if the wholesale prices remain at the present high altitude. No wheat is moving, and the shipment of flour and feed has dropped off somewhat in the past three days,

Thibaud, five years ago, was a poor lad earning a meagre living by playing first violin in an orchestra in the Cafe Rouge, in the old Latin Quarter of Paris. The boy's rapid improvement justified his master's judgment and during the last few years the young violinist has appeared in the principal cities in Europe and met with great success.

Suppose a farmer has 5,000 bushels of wheat which he can sell at 65 cents a bushel, let him sell it and receive $5,500 in payment; then let him buy 5,000 bushels let of May wheat and margin it 5 cents a bushel. This will require $150,00.
