Eight-Hour Law Does Not Apply. San Francisco, Nov. 3.—The United States court of appeals this morning decided that the eight-hour law does not apply to Alaska or the other territories.

The suit was brought by Charles Moses, a carpenter, employed on a government contract in Alaska. Moses claimed over-time and won his first suit against the United States. In the district court at Seattle.

No Interest After February 2.

Washington, Nov. 3.—The treasury department has issued a circular that interest on outstanding five per cent bonds shall cease February 2, 1904, and the principal and accrued interest shall be then paid. In the meantime redemption will continue under the terms of the September circular.

Oregon Pioneer Dead.

La Grande, Nov. 3.—John McCall, one of the earliest pioneers of Eastern Oregon, died yesterday evening at his home in Inland City, of heart disease. He was formerly assessor of Union county, and has always been an active and progressive citizen. His mother, now nearly 90 years of age, lives at Inland City.

GRAIN MARKETS.

Quotations Furnished by Coe Commission Company—B. E. Kennedy, Local Manager.

Pendleton, Nov. 3.—American holders of wheat received no encouragement from the cables this morning. Liverpool opened unchanged and closed 1/4 lower. Broomhall cables that Liverpool reflected the sluggishness.

Receipts in the Northwest are increasing slightly, creating an easier feeling in the cash grain, which is also reflected in the pit. However, we believe that when the present period of dullness ends we will have a sharp upturn. A dull market is usually a dragging one, although wheat has held remarkably strong in the face of increasing receipts. Perfect weather and extreme dullness our millers' report, continued good demand for flour.

ELECTIONS IN PROGRESS IN IMPORTANT STATES TODAY

Full Vote and Close Result Promised in Greater New York. One Man Shot at the Polls at Troy, New York

Massachusetts Socialists Expect to Poll 50,000 Votes—Two Men Killed and Two Badly Wounded at Gate City, Va.—Heavy Vote at San Francisco, With Chances Favoring Schmitz — Republicans Scratched at Salt Lake.

New York, Nov. 3.—A full vote is coming out today. The weather is mild and pleasant. Hundreds of men are watching for floaters. Two hundred police are held as reserve. All indications are that the vote will be exceptionally close.

Betting at an early hour this morning showed McClellan a slight favorite. It is estimated that $1,000,000 was wagered on the result.

Shot at the Polls.

Troy, N. Y., Nov. 3.—William Myers, a republican politician at the polls, this morning shot Philip Rely in the groin, inflicting a dangerous wound.

Farmers Vote Slowly in Iowa.

Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 3.—Cloudy weather prevails throughout the state, with prospects of rain. Reports show the farmer vote is coming in slowly. The democrats predict marked gains.

Heavy Vote in Utah.

Salt Lake, Nov. 3.—Indications are for the heaviest vote in the history of a municipal election in this city. The women voters are out in force. There is heavy scratching. Prominent gentle republican bolters are voting democratic in an effort to kill the Kearns-Perry Heath machine ticket.

Thirty additional deputies were sworn in upon representations of the democratic chairman alleging fraud.

Both sides are confident and the betting is even for mayor for Morris, Mormon-democratic, against Knox, Gentle-republican.

Socialists Expect 50,000.

Boston, Nov. 3.—Fair weather and a heavy vote. The socialists expect to poll 50,000 votes in the state.

Roosevelt Voted.

Oyster Bay, Nov. 3.—President Roosevelt arrived this morning, accompanied by Secretary Loeb. Both immediately went to the polling place. Roosevelt was in the booth two minutes.

Heavy Voting in Frisco.

San Francisco, Nov. 3.—Voting began early and is heavy. By 9 o'clock a long line of voters were at every booth. Many waited an hour to vote.

The contest is very close, but the betting favors Schmitz. In the wholesale business district they are backing Schmitz with their money, even though voting for Crocker.

Charges of open bribery were made at noon in two districts.

Ballot Boxes Scarce.

Covington, Ky., Nov. 3.—Before 10 o'clock the ballot boxes at six polling places were filled owing to the size of the ballots. The judges notified the voters no other boxes were available. Later an old supply was found. A long line of voters waited until locksmiths picked the locks, when the voting proceeded.

Nebraska Will Be Republican.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 3.—Democrats generally concede the election of Barnes, republican, to the supreme judgeship.

Two Killed and Two Wounded.

Gate City, Va., Nov. 3.—In an election fight at Fairview, 20 miles away, this morning, John Ashbaurn, democratic judge of election, and I. Nickols, also a democratic election judge, were killed. Isaac Catron, republican, was shot through the neck fatally. Alex Kees, republican, was shot through the hips seriously. Cause of the fight not yet learned.

Fatal Fight at Louisville.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 3.—In a fight in the 11th ward this afternoon a republican election officer fatally wounded a democratic officer.

Democrats Claim Maryland.

Baltimore, Nov. 3.—Exceptionally heavy vote. Democrats claim the state by a big plurality.

Republicans Claim Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Nov. 3.—The election is uninteresting and quiet, the republicans claiming the city election by 100,000.

Mixed in Rhode Island.

Providence, Nov. 3.—Conservative estimates concede the re-election of Garvin, democrat, for governor, and the state legislature as republican.

GOV. CHAMBERLAIN IS UNFAVORABLE

Portland, Nov. 3.—The Journal is in receipt of the following telegram from Governor Chamberlain:

Willows, Cal., Nov. 3.—I am extremely reluctant about convening the legislature in special session, nor will I unless I find that a failure to do so will greatly interfere with the conduct of the several state and other institutions and place employes at the mercy of warrant makers.

This can only be determined after ascertaining the condition of the several funds in the state treasury.

I do not know how far-reaching the decision of the supreme court may be, but certain it is that the people would not complain even if no tax is levied or collected for this year. I question if an exhausted treasury is as much to be dreaded as a special session of the legislature. GEORGE E. CHAMBERLAIN.

INDIAN WAR AT NEWCASTLE, WYOMING

Washington, Nov. 3.—The interior department today received the following from Indian Agent Brennan, of Pine Ridge:

"Have received a telegram from Newcastle, Wyo., that a sheriff and posse were charged to arrest some of our Indians. A fight ensued and the sheriff and one citizen were killed. Twenty Indians are reported killed. I am urged to come at once and will leave for Newcastle tonight. Will advise as to the situation on my arrival."

Telegram From Senator Warren.

A telegram was also received from Senator Warren, which says the Indians under Carlisle Smith have been reinforced and the posse in pursuit fears further trouble. He suggests a close watch of the agency Indians for fear they will join others, thus precipitating a serious outbreak.

Only One Fight.

Cheyenne, Nov. 3.—Officers returning here discredit the story of a second battle and say the only battle they have knowledge of was the one of Saturday, in which Eagle Feather, known as Smith, a graduate of Carlisle, was killed.

He was responsible for the trouble. He assured his followers he was a bad man and could whip the whites. Mrs. Eagle Feather was shot through the breast and will die.

Last advices are that the remainder of the band are hurrying toward Rosebud agency, where they will be arrested and returned here for prosecution.

Story of the Trouble.

Douglas, Wyo., Nov. 3.—The returning posse reached here and Lusk, Wyo., this morning from the battle with Indians Saturday.

Scout Joanne Owens today told the story of the trouble. Sheriff Miller and five deputies came on Eagle Feather and his band numbering 22 bucks and 40 squaws and children, Saturday. They attempted to escape. The sheriff demanded their surrender. Eagle Feather resisted and began firing first.

The funeral of the sheriff takes place at Newcastle today and Faulkner's horse tomorrow.

KILLED HIS COLONEL.

German Army Tyranny is Reaping its Results.

Berlin, Nov. 3.—The Tageblatt today reports that while the imperial regiments were drilling at VITNA, Poland, a soldier stepped from the ranks and cut his colonel to pieces with a sabre while the regiment cheered.

Investigation later reveals the fact that the colonel had been condemned to death and the murderer had been selected by lot.

Washington, Nov. 3.—Louis Mertfeld, a St. Louis contractor, shot and killed his wife and then suicided this morning at his Washington residence. He was recently released from an asylum.

The advance in the price of diamonds, incident to the closing of the mines during the Boer war, has not changed the policy of the De Beers combination to market but $20,000,000 a year.

THREE CASES IN SUPREME COURT

Two Were Appeals in Murder Cases and One Was a Damage Case.

DEFENDANTS FROM UNION AND HARNEY COUNTY.

Three Men Appeal From a Sentence of Life Imprisonment—Manslaughter Case From Union County—Columbia Southern Appeals a Damage Case Wherein the Plaintiff Got a Judgment for $5,382.

The supreme court heard three cases again today, two of them being appeals in murder trials, and the other a case of damages against a railroad company.

Appeal From Harney County.

The case of the State of Oregon, plaintiff and respondent vs. George S. Miller, James Colvill and Bert Bailey, defendant and appellants, is an appeal from the court of Morton E. Clifford, of Harney county. The appellants are represented by Weatherford & Wyatt, while the respondents are represented by William Miller, the district attorney in the county in which the case was tried, and Thornton Davis.

It is alleged that the defendants are guilty of killing Joseph Warren Curtis, a ranchman of Harney county. The deceased had taken up a coil, the property of Miller, and the defendants went to the ranch of the man killed, for the coil.

The men had trouble and in the melee Curtis was shot after having taken several shots at the defendants. At the trial the defendants were sentenced to imprisonment for life, and from this decision an appeal was taken.

Appeal From Union County.

The case of the State vs. Woodson Gray, jointly indicted with Wade Gray for the murder of A. M. Hallgarth, is an appeal from the court of Robert Eakin, of Union county. The appellant is represented by T. H. Crawford and R. J. Slater, while the interests of the state are looked after by Samuel White, district attorney. A. M. Crawford, the attorney-general, F. S. Ivanhoe and John L. Rand.

It is alleged that the two defendants shot and stabbed A. M. Hallgarth to death on the morning of March 20, 1903. In the lower court the defendants were convicted of manslaughter and sentenced to the penitentiary, and from this verdict they appeal.

Railroad Damage Case.

The case of D. M. Radley, respondent vs. the Columbia Southern Railway, is an appeal on the part of the railroad in a damage case brought by the respondent in the court of Judge W. L. Bradshaw, of Sherman county. W. H. Wilson is the attorney for the respondent, and Snow & McCannan for the appellant.

It is alleged that the defendant was injured by jumping from an engine just below Briggs Station, at which time he broke his left leg at the knee. The jury in the trial court returned a verdict for Radley in the sum of $5,382, and from this decision the company has appealed.

Best Harvest Ends.

La Grande, Nov. 3.—The sugar factory will close at the end of the run tomorrow evening. The amount of beets brought to the factory this season is 12,021 tons. It is impossible to say yet just what the sugar output will be, as it has not been weighed up.

First Lesson in Manners.

The first lesson in American manners learned by the male immigrants is usually imparted at the gate of Ellis Island, and must be a strenuous one to most of the new-comers. Having passed inspection, proved his fitness to become an American citizen and received his discharge from guardianship, he marshals his family and starts for the boat landing, says the New York Post.

He leads the group himself, conducting the youngest walking member of the family, and carrying a bag or small parcel in his hand. Behind him trot the children, as laden, then the wife, bending beneath a huge bundle of household goods or even a heavy trunk. Last of all staggers the grandmother, literally bent double under the load she carries. Suddenly the head of the family is rudely accosted in an unknown tongue by an official of the island. There is nothing unintelligible in the manner in which the said officer relieves the mother and grandmother of their burdens and the immigrant, to his amazement, finds himself finishing the journey to the boat carrying the heaviest of the load on his own unaccustomed shoulders, while the oldest lady shouldered the rest. This is an everyday occurrence at Ellis Island.
