FRANCE AND GERMANY WILL ALSO RECOGNIZE PANAMA

France is Satisfied Because it Secures Protection of French Interests—American Cruisers Beginning to Arrive at the Isthmus—The Provisional Government of the Isthmus Has Officially Declared its Independence—Great Excitement Prevails at Bogota.

Berlin, Nov. 7.—The German foreign office has authorized a statement as follows: "Germany approves America's action as to Panama, which is reasonable and perfectly legitimate. Every great power would act similarly in the same circumstances. Germany recognizes the new republic as practically an American dependency. She welcomes the change and prefers that the canal be under the control of America rather than of an unstable South American state, whose whim might lead her to block the canal and bombard the passage of ships."

Paris, Nov. 7.—The news that America has recognized the new republic of Panama favorably impressed the French officials. The government has now definitely decided to follow suit provided Panama guarantees the maintenance of the rights of the French Panama Canal Company and the protection of French interests.

GOVERNOR CHAMBERLAIN IS AS YET UNDECIDED.

No Especial Demand for it Yet, Not a Member of the Legislature Having Expressed Himself in Favor of It.

Governor Chamberlain late yesterday evening gave out the following brief interview on the question of the special session to the Oregon Daily Journal. The governor said: "I have received no request from any senator or representative elected from any county that is presumed to be liable to suffer if a special session of the legislature be not called."

"If any of the counties, cities or school districts would be crippled in their corporate functions, I should hear from members of the legislature representing them. So far, I have not determined what course I shall pursue. I am looking into the matter and am informing myself as to the condition of the state's finances. I find that the business of the state would go on without interruption or serious inconvenience, even though there were no extra session, and the expenses were provided for by the issuance of evidences of indebtedness."

"Therefore, so far as concerns the state government, there is no pressing need for a special session to correct defects in the law that have been pointed out in the opinion handed down by the supreme court."

Chicago, Nov. 7.—Angered by revelations made before the graft investigation committee, Mayor Harrison this afternoon sent out 20 detectives with a blanket order to raid every gambling house in Chicago. It is the most sweeping order in years and adds a sensational chapter to the moral spasm now shaking the city.

Two days ago reputable citizens testified to games operated within a stone's throw of the city hall, although the chief of police stated there is no gambling in the city. Citizens also testified that gamblers were always given a tip from the inside when a raid was proposed. The first place raided today was a room in Sherman Place, where a policy layout was seized, including hundreds of tickets and a large sum of money. Two operators were arrested.

OREGON SCHOOLS AT ST. LOUIS FAIR

Superintendent Lyman Now Touring the State to Arouse Interest.

EDUCATIONAL EXHIBIT WILL BE CREDITABLE.

Teachers Urged to Collect Original Essays From Pupils to Form Part of the Oregon Display—Botanical and Forestry Exhibits Will Be Elaborate—Good Position Secured in Building.

Professor H. S. Lyman, superintendent of schools of Clatsop county, and also superintendent of the Oregon educational exhibit for the St. Louis fair, arrived in the city this morning on a tour of the Eastern Oregon counties, in the interest of the exhibit.

Professor Lyman finds the interest in the educational work very great in every portion of the state, and has just returned from a very successful trip through Southern Oregon, where he was rewarded by receiving assurances of active and energetic work on the part of educators and citizens interested in making a creditable showing at this fair.

He is organizing the work principally through the superintendents of the different counties and is conferring with Superintendent Nowlin today, who is also a member of the educational committee of the state in charge of the work.

Features of the Exhibit. The educational exhibit will consist in a display of the text-books of the different grades, used in Oregon schools, and a full complement of class papers and completed lessons accompanying each grade showing the faithfulness of teachers and scholars, in following the prescribed course of study mapped out in the text-books.

As one of the special features of the exhibit, Professor Lyman desires to have as many descriptive articles on different localities and industries in Oregon as possible, to lend an original, local features to the exhibit. In addition to the prescribed lessons from the text books. Teachers and principals of public schools, are especially requested to collect as many of this character of articles as possible, and forward them to Astoria.

The botanical exhibit from this state will be especially interesting on account of great variety of plates and flowers to be found and the wonderful variety of woods that can be collected under the head of forestry.

Professor Lyman is meeting with a hearty reception in every portion of the state, and feels confident that he will be able to make a showing from Oregon truly as creditable as any of the other states, which have made educational work special features for nearly a century.

Excellent Position. One fact that encourages him in his work is that President Myers, of the St. Louis and Lewis and Clark state commission, has secured one of the best positions in the Oregon building for the educational exhibit, and every visitor that passes in or out of the building, will come in direct contact with the exhibit.

Professor Lyman will have direct charge of the exhibit at St. Louis, and is very desirous of having all the state exhibits at Astoria by February 1, in order that they may be placed in the Oregon building in St. Louis by April 1, the time fixed by the management for the close of the exhibits.

It is hoped that Umatilla county teachers and parents interested in making a good showing for the state, will make a specialty of securing original descriptive articles and essays on Oregon topics, for this display.
