SOCIAL EVENTS OF THE WEEK

Concerning the People of Pendleton and Vicinity • Notes Personal and Otherwise • By Our Regular Correspondent

Have you ever started out in the morning feeling disgruntled and out of sorts and chanced to be greeted with a cherry smile? Run over your list of friends and acquaintances and try to remember which one pleases you most. Is it she who meets you with a frown, who is gloomy and sour or is it she who, smiling her cordial greeting, places you at once on better terms with yourself and the world? A smile is a tonic and if a smile has ever been a ray of light to you, then a smile from you would brighten some dark corner in some friend's heart, or some one who drops in for a call. There is much value in a smile. It is good to have one always with you, at home and abroad.

Quiet Week Socially.

Socially, the past week has been rather quiet outside of a reception and a few informal affairs. There has been little doing. Society's ranks are being rapidly depleted by the exodus of some of its members to various climes. For those who remain at home there will be a round of quiet "small and earlys" that will partially relieve the tedium, along with some good theatrical attractions, that are promised us this winter.

Much attention the past week has been given to the work of the different committees in charge of the reception and ball to be given Monday evening at Music hall, to the visitors attending the irrigation convention.

Mrs. Henderson Receives.

A very pretty reception in all its appointments was given on Friday afternoon from 4 to 6, at the home of Mrs. T. M. Henderson, who invited about one hundred ladies to meet her husband's mother, Mrs. J. T. Henderson, of Covington, Ind., who is their guest. The house was especially attractive with a decoration of ferns, palms and yellow chrysanthemums. Miss Pogson met the guests at the door, from where they were ushered into the parlor. Here Mrs. Henderson and her mother received, assisted by Mrs. George Robbins. In the dining room Mrs. Johnson served tea, assisted by Misses Winnie Privett, Emma Sawtell, Bessie and Gay Campbell. Quite a number of ladies called during the receiving hours, though the weather was very inclement.

Social and Personal.

Miss Cosbie Raley was a visitor at the teachers' institute at Weston during the week.

Miss Parkhurst, who has been the guest of Mrs. Rader, returned to her home in Chicago last Tuesday.

Mrs. A. W. Nye has been confined to her home for the past few weeks, due to an attack of rheumatism.

Mrs. J. A. Borie spent a few days in Weston, this week, where she went to sing at the teachers' institute.

Mrs. William Hislop and her guest, Miss Florence Walker, spent a couple of days at Weston and Athena this week.

A number of young people gathered at the home of Ellnor Vincent on last Saturday evening, to investigate the mysteries of Halloween.

Mrs. Fred Judd and Miss Roberts were the guests of honor at a musical given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Dickson Monday evening.

Mrs. Otto Bootcher, who has been visiting in Chicago for the past few months, returned home Wednesday, accompanied by her sister, who will remain during the winter.

Mrs. Fred Judd and son, Henry, accompanied by Miss Roberts, left Thursday evening for a visit to their former home, Hartford, Conn. They expect to be absent until after the holidays.

An informal but delightful little company that has received no previous notice, was held last Saturday afternoon, when Mrs. Norbourn Berkeley entertained a few friends at bridge whist in honor of Mrs. Fred Judd and Miss Roberts.

SAY CALL THE SESSION.

Baker Citizens' League in Favor of Quick Action.

Baker City, Nov. 7.—The Citizens' league of this city at a meeting last night decided to petition Governor Chamberlain to call the extra session of the legislature in order to relieve the financial situation throughout the state.

School districts and city governments will be compelled to suspend business if taxes for 1903 are not collected. The counties might tide over, but it would be disastrous even to them, recites the petition.

The sentiment of both people and officials is in favor of calling the session at the earliest possible date.
