Chicago, Nov. 17.—A crisis in the city is on today. The union pickets morning attempted to intercept the unloading of bedding supplies by the company agents were engaged to land at the barns and fired upon by the wagon drivers. A number of company detectives following the wagon in carrying out their revolvers and in the case. The pickets fled, but were again augmented by 1,300, more than five-eighths of the city's force, are guarding the lines. SOMMERVILLE MAY RESIGN

THE NECESSITIES OF BUSINESS COMPEL IT.

Action Will Leave a Vacancy in the Ticket Now on File—J. M. Ferguson Is a Candidate, and W. F. Temple May Be—Prospects Are for a Quiet Election.

The resignation of E. J. Sommerville as councilman from the first ward will be presented at the next meeting of the council. His resignation is due to the fact that his business will not allow his serving the city longer than the first of the year. In his letter he states that it is with regret that he is compelled to lay down his office after having served the city for three years, and he does it at this time in order that another may be elected to fill the vacancy at the election now coming.

The resignation of Mr. Sommerville will leave a vacancy in the ticket now on file in the office of the recorder. J. M. Ferguson has filed his petition as a candidate for the place vacant before the resignation, but as yet no one else has taken action in regard to the filling of the new vacancy.

It is said that a petition has been in the hands of the friends of W. F. Temple for several days, who are circulating it in his interest.

If this is so, and Mr. Temple accepts the nomination, the ticket will be filed and there will be one candidate for each place to be balloted upon. As it takes but one vote for each man to be elected in the event of there being no opposition, it is not necessary that there be a great amount of excitement attendant on the December election.

Teamster Gets an Ugly Slash Across the Throat.

La Grande, Nov. 17.—During a quarrel with another man at the logging camp of J. W. Reilly, near Steel Spur, 10 miles west of here, Jack Fee received a slash in the left side of the throat with a knife, Sunday morning about 6 o'clock.

The wound is an ugly one and Fee was brought to this city, where his wound was dressed.

The gash was about five inches long and six stitches were taken in sewing it up. The quarrel was the result of a dispute over a team of horses.

NEW SCHEDULE NEXT SUNDAY

O. R. & N. Will Issue Time Card for Passenger Trains November 22.

ONE IMPORTANT CHANGE AFFECTS PENDLETON.

Spokane Train Does Not Connect With East-Bound Main Line Train—West-Bound Morning Train One Hour Later and Night West-Bound One Hour Earlier—No Change for No. 6.

The new passenger schedule on the O. R. & N., will go into effect next Sunday, according to advice from headquarters at Portland, although the local office has received no notice of the change yet. On the new time card, No. 5, the west-bound local passenger train, will be known as No. 11, and will pass Pendleton at 12:30 a. m., instead of 1:45 a. m., as at present.

No. 1, the west-bound through train, due here at 8 a. m., will pass here at 9:10 and will connect with No. 8, the Spokane branch train, as at present.

No. 2, east-bound Chicago-Portland special, now due here at 5:50 p. m., will pass here at 5:15 p. m., or 35 minutes earlier than at present.

No. 6, the early morning east-bound passenger, passes here on the new time card at 4:45 a. m., as at present.

The most important change affecting Pendleton is the time of the arrival of No. 7 from Spokane. This train now arrives here at 5:45 p. m., and connects with No. 2, the east-bound main line passenger.

On the new card No. 7 does not arrive here until 6:40 p. m., and does not connect with No. 2. This makes business for Pendleton, for the reason that all passengers arriving here on No. 7 for the east, will be compelled to lay over until the 4:45 train in the morning.

No. 8, the Spokane train, will not wait to exceed 30 minutes for No. 4, the west-bound main line train, due here on the new card at 9:10 a. m.

The company will encourage the use of No. 41, the mixed train arriving here from Walla Walla at 1 p. m., by passengers wishing to connect with No. 2.

WALLA WALLA MAY LAND HOME

CITY COUNCIL STRUGGLING WITH STUBBLEFIELD WILL.

Prominent Citizen Offers to Sell 40 Acres at Reduced Cost and Donate Part of the Proceeds to the Home Fund—Ladies Relief Society Offers to Give to Property.

The city council of Walla Walla is struggling desperately with the Stubblefield home proposition, with very good prospects of succeeding in landing the prize at this time.

The county court declined to donate $10,000 of the people's money from the county treasury, for the purpose of bringing the home to the county, so the council, awake to the importance of the institution, took up the fight for the funds.

The matter now stands like this: W. W. Baker, a wealthy citizen of Walla Walla, has agreed to sell the city a choice tract of land in the suburbs, consisting of 40 acres, for $14,000, the amount being $1,000 less than the actual value of the tract on the market. In addition, Baker offers to donate $5,000 in cash to the fund, and the Ladies' Relief Society of Walla Walla has offered to donate, free of charge, their property in the city, valued at $3,500, as part of the fund, leaving the council with $1,500 yet to raise.

The council is in favor of voting this amount in order to secure the home for that city, and from all appearances the deal will be closed soon and the home will be located at Walla Walla.

The only objection raised to this procedure so far, is to the valuation placed on the Baker land, but when it is remembered that he has donated $5,000 in cash to the fund, in addition to reducing the price of his land from $20,000 to $14,000, this objection does not have much weight with the council.

LOOKING FOR LOCATION.

North Yakima Hotel Men Are in Town, But Find Nothing Here as Yet.

A. N. Hall and E. W. Dooley, who have been for some time conducting the Yakima House, in North Yakima, are in the city looking for a location in the hotel line, but as yet have found nothing.

It has been reported that they had come to take charge of the Hotel Pendleton, but the rumor seems to be without foundation, for the present, at least. Mr. Van Dran, in speaking of the rumor, now spread currently, said that there was nothing in it, as far as he knew. The gentlemen had asked him if he would sell, but beyond that there had been nothing done. If he could get the price that he wished for his interest in the Hotel Pendleton he would sell and go to a larger town, perhaps in Southern California, but no arrangements had been made for the sale, and the question has not been discussed.

The gentlemen are still in the city at the Hotel Pendleton, in fact, but they had not made their first steps in securing a location as far as the Pendleton is concerned.

The case of E. Dean vs. the Pendleton Savings Bank, was filed in the office of the county clerk this morning. It is a suit brought to recover payment on a bill of exchange bought by William Knox of the bank, and afterward acquired by the plaintiff.

Cincinnati, Nov. 17.—The second trial of former Assistant Attorney-General Postoffice Department Miller and Attorney Bohms began in the federal court this morning. They are charged with conspiracy to secure a bribe from Get-Rich-Quick, Ryan.

THANKSGIVING SERVICES.

Steps Will Be Taken to Hold Union Services November 26.

Owing to the fact that the president of the Ministerial Association has been out of town much of the time lately and has since resigned, there has been no action taken as yet by the churches in relation to the holding of an occasion in the city on Thanksgiving day.

It has been the custom to hold union services in the morning, in which all the churches of the city took a part, and this will in all probability be done this time, as soon as the Ministerial Association meets, which will be on Monday next. It is now late to prepare an elaborate program, but some provision will be made at the meeting.

The Church of the Redeemer will hold special services in the morning, as is the custom of that church, at which time a specially prepared sacred concert will be given.

SUIT ON BILL OF EXCHANGE.

E. Dean Brings Action Against Pendleton Savings Bank.

The case of E. Dean vs. the Pendleton Savings Bank, was filed in the office of the county clerk this morning. It is a suit brought to recover payment on a bill of exchange bought by William Knox of the bank, and afterward acquired by the plaintiff.

The bill was drawn on the Corn National Bank of Chicago for $100 on July 31, 1903, in favor of Knox, and when it was presented for payment it was dishonored. The plaintiff asks for the amount of the bill with interest from the date of issue, and for the costs and disbursements of the action. Perry & Assoc are the attorneys for the plaintiff.
