

THANKSGIVING SALES

Since Monday morning there has been a continued round pleasure for the bargain hunter. The store has been crowded every hour since that time. If you want to be among the lucky ones don't delay. Yesterday we had not enough clerks to wait on all the many customers, and we ask those who wait patiently to look over this inconvenience. Will do better next year.

THE LEADERS

Hermann's Advance Agent.

Ed Thurnaer, advance agent for Hermann the Great, who comes to the Frazer next Saturday, November 28, is in the city today, making final arrangements for the appearance of the great magician in Pendleton. Hermann is a nephew of the elder Hermann the Great, deceased, and resembles him so closely that those who have seen the first Hermann are often at a loss to know if the young man is really himself or the ghost of his uncle. Mr. Thurnaer came down from Walla Walla last evening, and leaves tonight for Boise City, where Hermann goes from this city.

Schwartz-Greulich Building.

The Taylor Hardware Company has commenced to lay the roof of the new Schwartz-Greulich cold storage plant. The roof will be of the new P. & B. ready roofing, supposed to be fireproof and of great endurance. The building will be finished in a few weeks.

The oldest family in England with an authentic pedigree, is said to be the Mac family, Scots, who have an accurately recorded family history, dating from 1093.
