CONTEST THE WILL

STUBBLEFIELD HEIRS SAY HE WAS INCAPABLE.

Relatives of Joseph L. Stubblefield Say the Will Donating $100,000 to the Proposed Widows' and Orphans' Home is Invalid—Suit at Law Stops all Further Progress of the Home.

After a vexatious delay of several months in determining the location of the Stubblefield home for indigent widows and orphans of the states of Washington and Oregon, and within a few hours after it had been definitely decided that the institution would be established near Walla Walla, an action was commenced in the superior court in this city which will tend to cause more trouble for the trustees of the proposed home and may hold up the matter for an indefinite period of time, says the Walla Walla Statesman.

Shortly before 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Mary McElroy and Henry White, both residents of Arkansas, through Attorneys McDonald and Rutt, filed a petition in the court praying that the will of the late Joseph Stubblefield be annulled, set aside and held for naught, and that a share of the said estate be distributed to the petitioners as heir at law of the decedent.

The petitioners allege that they are the children of Betsy White, who is now deceased, and that their mother was a sister of the deceased Joseph L. Stubblefield. After setting forth the provisions of the will as filed in the court the petitioners cite the following as a ground for action:

"That at the time of the execution of the said pretended will, to-wit: On the fifth day of May, 1902, the said Joseph L. Stubblefield did not have the capacity to make any will or testament in this to-wit: That at said time the said Joseph L. Stubblefield was not of sound mind and memory, but on the contrary was in his dotage and not in a possession of his mental faculties as to be able to comprehend or understand the legal effects of any of the provisions of said will, and his mind was so impaired and weakened as to render him incapable of making any will or testament or making any disposition or distribution of his property.

"That said pretended will, and particularly the thirty-first paragraph thereof, is invalid for the reason that the property of said decedent is attempted to be bequeathed and devised to the trustees therein named upon a so-called trust, which said trust is invalid in this: That said trustees are given by the terms of said instrument an absolute, complete and unlimited power and discretion as to executing said trust and as to the application or non-application of any of the proceeds of the said trust estate to the purposes therein mentioned, or to any purpose.

"That said pretended will, and particularly the said thirty-first paragraph thereof, is invalid for the reason that it is indefinite and uncertain who are intended to be named as beneficiaries of said trust estate; and it is indefinite, unascertainable and uncertain who the beneficiaries named in the said pretended will are.

VETERAN IN THE CHURCH.
Mother of Bishop Fitzgerald is 94 Years Old.

Newark, N. J., Nov. 22.—Religious circles are much interested in a series of meetings begun today in the Central Methodist church, by Mrs. Ossie M. Fitzgerald, ninety-four years old, mother of Bishop Fitzgerald. The purpose of the meetings, which are to continue through the week, is to refute allegations said to have been made by Methodists that the doctrines taught at the holiness meeting at the Mount Tabor campmeeting grounds of the Newark Methodist Conference are heretical.

Mrs. Fitzgerald started the Mount Tabor holiness meetings thirty years ago, and has conducted them every year since. She has recently heard of assertions that her teachings and declarations savor of bigotry and fanaticism, and that the interpretation of Biblical injunctions is in contradiction to the teachings prevalent in the churches.

Among other things she believes that Sunday must be observed strictly, and that even a child may not play on that day, and that the celebration of Christmas should not be a time for merriment, but should be observed only by impressive religious services.

TO INVADE SPAIN, American Consul Recommends Investments There.

United States Vice Consul Dandger, Madrid, Spain, reports an interview with a prominent Spanish official, who suggested the possibilities of the profitable investment of American capital and opportunities for American contractors in Spain.

The first proposition was for the building of a factory for the manufacture of agricultural implements, the government proposing to encourage such an enterprise by guaranteeing large orders for its products and the granting of many privileges to the company or individual operating the works. This proposition is now being investigated by Philadelphia parties. To contractors it was suggested that the comprehensive plans for the improvement for the city of Madrid offered opportunities.

These plans involve the remodeling of the palace territory and adjacent sections of the city and the expenditure of vast sums of money. The projects have been approved by the Cortes and King, and contractors of all countries are invited to bid for the work. It is also proposed to install throughout many sections of the city a modern sewer system, for which bids are invited from all.

There is at present much interest being shown in the development of the water resources of the Kingdom, with a view to their use in irrigation and for power purposes, and many opportunities offered, it was suggested, for the profitable investment of capital in the projects which are being exploited and concerning which information would gladly be furnished, where possible, to all inquirers.
