Deafness Cannot Be Cured.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

RELIC OF MASSACRE

WALLA WALLA WOMAN OWNS THRILLING MEMENTO

Little Tin Cup Saved from the Butchery at Whitman Mission—Owner Is the Only Survivor of the Massacre in Walla Walla.

Mrs. N. O. Jacobs of Walla Walla, formerly matron of Billings hall, is the only survivor of the Whitman massacre in this city, says the Walla Walla Union. Her father, Josiah Osborn, an employe of Dr. Whitman, miraculously escaped with his family by taking refuge under the floor of their room. The Indians ceased their butcheries when darkness came.

When the cows came home the odor of blood seemed to enrage them and they began bellowing and bawling, to which the dogs joined their barkings and howlings, producing a most harrowing effect on these terrified people.

Soon after dark Mr. Osborn came out from his hiding place and started toward Fort Walla Walla, the only place of refuge nearer than The Dalles.

Mrs. Jacobs' Tin Cup.

Nancy (Mrs. Jacobs), 8 years old then, in all the danger and fright did not forget a little calico reticule containing a little red tin cup, which she hung on her arm and brought through all those terrible experiences in good condition two months later to Oregon City.

Mission of the Cup.

The little tin cup, however, had filled a very important mission. Two days after leaving the mission, Mrs. Osborn, who had been very ill, was unable to stand on her feet and they were still twenty miles from Fort Walla Walla.

Mr. Osborn was prevailed to take one of the children and go to the fort for help and return for the family. During his absence Mrs. Osborn and the two children remained hid in the brush near the bank of the Walla Walla river, which was three or more feet above water.

Not being able to stand, she crawled to the bank, and, tieing a willow twig to the handle of the cup, lowered it to the river and drew up enough water to supply the children and herself, otherwise they might have perished, as they were all sick and had had little to eat for three days.

CATTLE THIEF SKIPS.

Member of Ill-Fated Pruett Family Disappears.

Canyon City, Or., Nov. 30.—Alarmed at the prospect of falling into the hands of the Prairie City Cattlemen's association and being called upon to face the charge of stealing and slaughtering a fine beef animal belonging to his brother-in-law, Fred French, Fred Pruett has entirely disappeared. It is generally surmised that Pruett is in hiding in the immediate neighborhood, although the officers seem to think that he has left the country.

Pruett is a nephew of H. M. Pruett, an old and much esteemed pioneer of the neighborhood, who has raised the young man. He has a wife and three small children. His career recalls the many disasters that have befallen the family.

His cousin "Mug" Pruett, was killed in a drunken brawl at Mitchell last Fourth of July, since which time two other members of the family have met sudden deaths, and still another was frightfully maimed in an accident at the Dixie Meadows mine.

OIL AT CONDON.

Real Thing Struck at a Depth of 72 Feet.

Condon, Nov. 30.—The well drill of the Condon Drilling company, which is being operated on Dunn Bros.' ranch northwest of town, struck a strata of blue shale or soapstone at a depth of 72 feet last Friday from which is obtained a small amount of apparently good oil.

A considerable quantity of the oil was brought up with the first bucket of water raised when the well was being sand pumped and the greasy fluid also adheres to the drill stem to such an extent that when the drill was allowed to rest on a plank over the well over night the oil trickled down enough to saturate the plank.

The oil is dark colored and heavy and gives off the well known petroleum odor which cannot be mistaken. The strata of soapstone is about three feet in thickness and after passing through it a vein of quartz containing a considerable amount of copper and iron was encountered. This formation is very hard and the drill could make but slight progress in it.
