PENDLETON RETAIL MARKETS

Quotations on Staples Furnished by Local Merchants and Revised Daily.

The reported reductions in the price of meat on the block have not taken place. All kinds of first-class meats are just as high as at any time during the past year, and because some of the shops have marked cuts of meat and placed the prices of them in the windows, many have been led to believe that this meant a reduction. The leading butchers deny that prices have been cut, or that there is any prospect of such being done. In the grocery market there is a possibility that coffee will experience a slight raise, and that coal oil will also soar once more. The markets are all quiet, and uneventful with no new features worth mentioning. Hay and feed are moving more briskly on account of the freezing weather of the past two days. Flour and mill stuff remain the same.

DEFIES TIME AND DYNAMITE.
Russell Sage is 88 Years Old and Looks for Many More Years.

New York, Dec. 4.—"I have lived to celebrate the twelfth anniversary of my lucky escape," said Russell Sage, the dean of Wall street, today in reference to his escape from death on December 4, 1891, at the hands of a lunatic, who exploded dynamite in the aged financier's office. "I expect to live to see the twentieth anniversary," added Mr. Sage. "If I am spared until then, I will be in my ninety-sixth year—a pretty old man."
It was just twelve years ago today that the financial world and the public in general were startled by the news of the attempt on Mr. Sage's life. On that day Henry Norcross of Boston approached Mr. Sage and demanded several hundred thousand dollars, threatening unless it was immediately paid to drop on the floor a valise he carried and which he said was filled with dynamite.
Mr. Sage did not produce the money promptly enough, and his visitor let the satchel fall. A terrific explosion occurred. Mr. Sage was practically unharmed, the mad visitor was blown into pieces, a clerk named Laidlaw was badly injured and the office was wrecked. Afterward Laidlaw sued Mr. Sage, claiming that the financier used him as a shield. The case has been fought through many courts and is yet unsettled.

PRESS PARLIAMENT.
Newspaper Men from All Over the World.

St. Louis, Dec. 4.—The executive committee having in charge the World's Press Parliament, to be held in St. Louis next May, has announced tentative plans for the gathering.

The parliament will include representative newspaper men from every country where newspapers are published. Arrangements already perfected indicate that it will be the largest and most notable gathering of newspaper workers ever held. The invitations have been sent to leading journalists throughout the world. The National Editorial association of the United States has voted to meet in St. Louis at the same time, and among the state press associations which have already decided to participate in the gathering are those of Kentucky, Utah, North Dakota, Minnesota, Mississippi, Massachusetts, California and New York.

The sessions of the parliament will be held in the morning in Festival hall and the afternoons and evenings will be devoted to viewing the sights of the exposition.
