

Bright's Disease and Diabetes News.

San Francisco, Oct. 16, 1903.
 F. W. Schmidt's Pharmacy: Dear Sirs:—The discovery in this city of a new diuretic is saving thousands of lives. It is hard for people to believe who are not eye witnesses. You as a brother druggist will know that up to this time chronic Bright's Disease and Diabetes have been necessarily fatal. It is no longer. And I now only know this by being on the ground, but I was also one of the patients. I had both Bright's Disease and Diabetes and looked upon death as inevitable. I was so prejudiced I wouldn't buy the new treatment. I couldn't believe it. So they gave it to me to prove it. I not only recovered, but have since given it to somewhere near fifty patients and know of only three or four failures. I am a pioneer druggist of this city, have been doing business on my own premises for forty-eight years, and I now declare to you on my honor as a brother pharmacist the absolute curability of these dread diseases in about nine-tenths of all cases. I understand the business men who are placing it before the world have appointed you to represent them in your city, and I beg to tell you that there are lives to be saved and friends to be made.

Yours sincerely,
 CARL D. ZEILE.

We send for the Fulton Compounds to which the above refers and now have them in stock. They are the first cures the world has ever seen for chronic Bright's Disease and Diabetes. Free pamphlet. F. W. Schmidt's Pharmacy.

EMPLOYERS' UNION

NATIONAL FEDERATION TO FIGHT LABOR UNIONS

Will Also Aim to Standardize Material and Suppress Unfair Competition—Will Hold Up the Hands of Contractors in Fights With Organized Labor—Open Shop Issue to Squarely Drawn.

Chicago, Dec. 10.—Preliminary steps were taken in Chicago today to organize a national federation of local employers' associations in the building lines. In the opinion of those well informed as to the purposes and scope of the movement, its importance can scarcely be over-estimated. In plain words, it aims to curb the excessive exactions of the labor unions, from which the building trades have suffered of late perhaps more than any other line.

Other objects, such as the standardizing of material and the suppression of unfair competition, will be kept in view by the new organization, but all of these will be of secondary importance in comparison with the main purpose of advancing and protecting the interests of the contractors in their relations to the labor unions.

The idea of the National Association of Employers, under which name the federation is to be known, had its inception in the formation of the Building Trades Employers' Association of New York last spring. Nothing of the kind on so large a scale had ever been achieved in any city in this country, and all cities which had been disturbed by labor conflicts watched the outcome. Soon similar organizations were formed in other cities and the idea of a national federation was the result.

Represented in the federation are the following trades: Architectural iron elevator building, plastering, house drainage, mantel and tile work, masons and builders, plumbers, steam fitters, carpenters, stone cutters, marble manufacturers, painters, decorators, mosaic work and electrical work.

Declaration of Purposes.

The objects of the organization, as set forth in the call for today's conference, are as follows:

To advance and protect the interests of the contractors.

To secure equitable treatment in their dealings with their employees.

To encourage organization and the formation of associations of contractors.

To regulate conditions among building contractors.

To maintain peace and harmony between the employer and employe.

The basis of settlement of all disputes should be conciliation and arbitration.

The sympathetic strike should be absolutely prohibited.

Where conditions are proper and employees' associations exist, agreements to be made with them.

A uniform form of agreement be adopted and used in making joint agreements, wages being adjusted according to local conditions.

All agreements to embody the following principles:

There shall be no restriction of the use of machinery or tools.

There shall be no restriction of the use of any manufactured material, except prison-made.

No person shall have the right to interfere with the workman during working hours.

The use of apprentices shall not be prohibited.

The foreman shall be the agent of the employer.

All workmen are at liberty to work for whomsoever they see fit.

All employers are at liberty to employ whomsoever they see fit.

Fight Against Open Shop.

The last clause is a plain declaration for the open shop. Union men have always contested that a successful movement to establish the open shop meant the end of organized labor. For this reason it is predicted that the new association will have the antagonism of the unions from the very outset.

Foreseeing the probable aim of the new association, the American Federation of Labor, assembled at its annual convention in Boston last month, gave extended attention to the open shop issue and formulated a report strongly opposing it.

The action of the two organizations, one representing three-fourths of the organized workmen of America, and the other representing the building trades of the entire country, portend a conflict the extent and results of which can be but faintly imagined.

The organization of the building trades is the first great step in the movement urged by President Parry of the National Manufacturers' association to organize all employers of the United States in a fight against the alleged unjust demands of the labor unions. The success of this first effort, so far as the work of organization is completed, is such as to gratify its promoters.

The extent to which it has "caught on" is evidenced by the fact that nearly fifty cities were represented among the delegates present when the conference opened this morning. Among the cities are New York, Chicago, Pittsburg, San Francisco, St. Louis, Minneapolis, Topeka, Cedar Rapids, Cincinnati, Newark, Reading, East St. Louis, Detroit, Indianapolis, Cleveland and Erie.

CLAIM IS REJECTED

ACTING COMMISSIONER J. H. FIMPLE'S OPINION.

Appeal Will Probably Be Taken to the Secretary of the Interior—Question is One of Precedence of Laws: Swamp Land Grant or Allotment to the Indians.

Governor Chamberlain has received a communication from Acting Commissioner J. H. Fimple, of the United States land office, notifying him that the state's claim to 92,378.09 acres of land, situated in the Klamath Indian reservation, had been rejected.

This land was claimed by the state as swamp land in November, 1902, by General W. H. Odell, then acting as state's agent to select swamp land in this particular case, under the administration of Governor Geer, and the claim was rejected by the land department because the land claimed was situated within the Indian reservation and subject to allotment to the Indians.

The governor received the official notice yesterday morning, and the decision was submitted to the state land board. After a consultation it was concluded to place the matter in the hands of attorney General Crawford with instructions to appeal the case at once to the secretary of the interior upon the ground that the swamp land grant of 1850 takes precedence of the allotment to the Indians.

Acting Commissioner Fimple, of the general land office, in passing upon the claim, concludes:

"At the date of the passage of the swamp land grant to Oregon, March 12, 1850, the lands of the Klamath Indians were unceded and were not subject to any general grant, such as is the swamp land grant, and the swamp grant could not, therefore, operate on the lands in question.

"The Klamath Indian reservation was created by the treaty of October 14, 1854. By article 1 the Indians ceded to the United States all their right, title and claim to all the country claimed by them, reserving to themselves a certain described tract or body of land to be set apart as a residence for the Indians, to be held and regarded as an Indian reservation.

"The Indians' right of occupancy to the lands in the present reservation has never been extinguished, and the lands embraced therein are subject to allotment to the Indians.

"It is not necessary to consider the question as to the swamp claim to any lands in such reservation which have not been allotted to the Indians, as the reservation is still in existence, and until such reservation is extinguished no action regarding the disposal of lands therein, other than by allotment, can be taken.

"In view of the facts above set forth I am of the opinion that the claim of the state, under the swamp grant, does not attach to any lands in the Klamath Indian reservation."
