CONCERT IS ASSURED.

H. Nelson, Succeeds in Arranging for High Class Musical Program Next Week.

H. Nelson, who has been in the city promoting a high class concert program for this city, since he sold his interest in the Park theater, has succeeded in getting sufficient encouragement to warrant him to announce definitely that he will give a high-class entertainment one evening next week, probably Thursday.

The program will be led by Mrs. Walter Reed, the well known favorite contralto, of Portland, who has sung in this city in the past, assisted by several other stars, from the metropolis. The event will be first-class in every particular, all the numbers on the program being star numbers, each person included capable of giving an entire evening's entertainment alone.

While Mr. Nelson has secured subscribers to warrant the concert, he is still taking the names of those who wish to attend the entertainment.

A fire alarm was turned in last night about 9:30 o'clock from the Chinese house back of Lee Teutsch's store, but after a hard run the department found only a burning chimney, which was put out by a Chinaman with a bucket of water before the fire ladders could get coupled up. They turned on the water anyway, and put the Chinaman out.

W. P. TEMPLE DENIES CHARGES.

Says He Did Not Make Any Statements About Sunday Closing Before City Election.

W. P. Temple, whose defeat for councilman on last Monday was commented upon by the Morning Tribune this morning, says in regard to the statements made in that paper:

"Referring to the statements made by the Morning Tribune, this morning, to the effect that I was defeated because of the announcement that I was in favor of closing all saloons on Sunday is untrue. This announcement was made on Sunday before election, and, as Mr. Wells' petition was not filed before I left home, I did not know that I had opposition until Sunday evening.

"While I am not ashamed of being accused of having made statements in regard to Sunday closing, I must say that the report that I did make such statements is false.

"I was asked by certain parties to pledge myself to support certain measures and certain men for petty offices, and this I flatly refused to do, replying to the offer that I had always been a free citizen and would continue to be one, while in office, if elected, as well as outside of office.

"My refusal to pledge myself, as a councilman, to objectionable measures was the direct cause of my defeat, and under the circumstances I am not loser. The city needs independent men in the offices, and if I could not be elected as such I prefer to remain outside of the official roster."

LARGEST ENROLLMENT.

Attendance at High School Has Broken All Previous Records.

There are now 101 pupils in the high school, which is by far the greatest number ever registered at this time of the year in the history of the school. Last summer, at the close of school, it was predicted to the board by Prof. Conklin that the middle of the present year would see a registration of 90 pupils, and that optimistic view has been surpassed. The work of the term has been good, and the attendance has been steady, and the interest and behavior of the students throughout the schools has been of the best. The tardy list of the different rooms has been kept well down, and the teachers have made it a point to so interest their pupils that they wish to attend the school, and do not have to be compelled to do so.

The new branches of the school, the manual training and laboratory, are proving great sources of interest to the students and are an assured success.

NEW BOOKS ARRIVING.

Will Be Put in Circulation as Soon as Catalogued and Shelved.

The new library for the high school has begun to arrive, and in a short time all of the books will be in place on the shelves of the library. The schools of this city were allowed $150 this year for the purchase of a library, and so far about one-third of the number of books ordered have reached the city. They have been checked, up and catalogued, but have not yet been put in circulation. This will not be done until all of the books have been received and placed on the shelves.

CATTLE MISSING.

Believed to Have Been Stolen From Alden, of Starkey Prairie.

J. F. Alden, a stockman on Starkey prairie, is in the city today looking for some lost cattle that he thinks have been driven into this city and sold to the butchers of this city.

A short time ago it was discovered by Mr. Alden and some of his neighbors that 30 head of stock had disappeared from their range, and at first it was thought that the cattle had strayed away; but later it was discovered that they had been driven in this direction, and Mr. Starkey started on their trail.

He does not know where they have been taken, but thinks that they in all probability have been scattered through the country, here and in Milton, and other towns along the road. He was around today with some of the cattle buyers looking for the brands and marks of his stock, but so far has found nothing.

WOULD DIE FOR SHAME.

Michigan Man Attempts Suicide in La Grande Over His Sister's Career.

La Grande, Dec. 10.—B. A. Kuper, a recent arrival from Michigan, took an overdose of morphine last night, with suicidal intent, because he located his sister in the tenderloin district of this city.

Kuper came here in search of his sister several days ago, and when he met her on the street and attempted to speak to her, she refused to notice him and rushed away from his sight.

This so preyed upon his mind that he took a room in the Blue Mountain House last evening and made an attempt upon his life, by swallowing two ounces of morphine.

A physician was near at hand and administered remedies almost immediately after he had taken the drug, and it is thought that he may recover. His sister refuses to talk about him, and will not visit him nor take any interest in his fate.

Twenty valuable and stylish roadsters, the property of men of leisure in San Francisco, were burned in a livery stable fire Sunday night.
