RIGHT TO WATER

DECISION RENDERED IN A SIGNIFICANT CASE.

Suit Brought By Milton Man Who Claimed His Neighbor Used More Water Than He Should in Equity or in Law—Plaintiff Gets Circuit Court Decision After Three Years.

Judge W. R. Ellis today filed his findings of fact and conclusions of law in the case of S. F. Harrington vs. A. L. Demaris, which has been pending in the circuit court since August, 1900.

The facts in the case are that the plaintiff and defendant owned land above Milton, contiguous and through which ran a small stream. The land of the plaintiff was below that of the defendant, and was irrigated by the stream running through the land of both. For many years the plaintiff used the water of the stream, and but a short time prior to the filing of the suit the defendant placed a dam in the stream and turned the water from the land owned by the plaintiff, shutting off his supply entirely.

The plaintiff sued to recover the use of the water and for $700 damages for the killing of his trees, and general damage to his premises caused by the withdrawal of the water.

The court, when it tried the case, went to the scene of the contention and held a session of several days, taking testimony in the case and investigating the conditions.

Today the court finds that the plaintiff is entitled to a decree, and order compelling the defendant to remove the obstructions from the stream and allow the water to flow again in its old channel so that 60 inches of water will flow through the channel, and at least 48 inches in the ditch of the plaintiff at all times of the year. The court further decrees that the defendant be enjoined from diverting the water from the natural channel in any quantity to interfere with the 60-inch flow of the plaintiff, from obstructing the channel with a dam, and further orders that the injunction be perpetual.

The plaintiff is given a decree for $700 damages, the sum asked for, and the costs of the action are charged to the defendant. The suit has been filed for two years and has been stubbornly fought. As yet no intention to appeal has been filed, though one probably will be.

MARSHAL AND RECORDER

Joseph Blakley and Thomas Fitz Gerald Leading.

There is every evidence now that the council will not select a new man for marshal. A canvass of the members leads to the conclusion that the man who will serve Pendleton as the next marshal will be one of experience, although there was a belief some time ago that a new man would be selected.

The friends of Joseph Blakley are prepared to present his name for the place, when the proper time comes, and from all appearances at this time Mr. Blakley is in the lead. He served the city in that capacity very satisfactorily and would enter the harness again with his experience and acquaintance to aid him in conducting the office to the best interests of the city.

John Heathman is also a candidate for the place, and W. Scheer, the present incumbent, would accept the appointment again.

Judge Thomas Fitz Gerald, who now occupies the office of city recorder, is in the lead for the position again. There is no disposition apparent on the part of the new council to make any change in this office, at this time, although there are other excellent men in line for the position.

Petition Filed.

A petition was filed in the justice court today in the case of Bishop & Co. vs. T. D. Gaddis, asking that the stock of the confectionery store formerly run by the defendant, but which is now in the hands of the sheriff, be sold, as it is perishable and will lose its value if kept pending the outcome of the suit. The petition was granted.

Treasurer W. & C. R. J. G. Cutler, of Walla Walla, the treasurer of the W. & C. R. was a visitor in the city today looking after the business interests of the road.
