few days ago from California, where she spent a month or more visiting Rev. Moore, an evangelist from St. Louis, Mo., will begin a protracted meeting at the Christian church Sun-day, Dec. 13. The meeting will last for an indefinite period.

Philadelphia Women.

"Philadelphia, for a city of its size, is singularly lacking in prominent women-women of national reputation and importance," said one of her club-"Of course there are many women here who are identified with various movements that tend to give them local prominence, but that is all. They are scarcely known outside their

"Dr. Hannah W. Longshore, who was the first woman to practice med icine in America, and Mrs. E. D. Gil-lespie belonged to the class I have in mind, but they are dead. I might also mention Agnes Repplier and Florence Enrie Coates in literature, Cecilia Beaux in art and Mrs. Cornelius Ste venson in archeological research, but even these women are prominent only as appealing to a limited class. I mean is we have no great leaders."-Philadelphia Record.

Venetian Lace Work.

Venetian point lace differs from roy at battenberg and other laces in that it is worked on the right side of the pattern justend of the reverse side and because there are no braids used in its construction. The work also proceeds from left to right after the manner in which a picture is drawn. The pat tern is drawn on muslin, which in turn is basted on a heavier material and outlined with heavy lines thread and heavier cord, which add raised effects to the pattern and are buttonholed over very closely, thus giving a solid foundation for developing the numerous fine stitches, which are worked in very ing about my household duties," many women assert, but that is the greates mistake possible. Under ordinary circumstances a few sets of muscles are called into activity, and the mind at the same time is fully occupied.

For physical exercise to be helpful the mind should be at rest. A walk of twenty minutes' duration in the open air is an absolute daily necessity and should be at a reasonably brisk pace. Deep breathing should be practiced on these walks until it becomes a fixed habit.

Dining Room Decoration.

An appropriate overmantle decora tion for a dining room is the following. done in burnt and illuminated work An inscription in quaint lettering reads "Cheer and great welcome make a merry feast." A border of pomegranate blossoms encircles this, and an extremely pretty effect is secured by out-lining a Cupid standing beside a fagot fire, over which haugs a steaming pot, which the graceful little god stirs with a wand. The vapor floats over the panel in sweeping lines.

Bathing, like cating and sleeping and exercising, should be done regularly It should also be regarded as a pleas of a bath as small children contemplate washing dishes or doing some other disagreeable task does not get the real, full, jolly benefits of the tub. Those who find the daily bath restful. stimulating and pleasant cannot get along without it.

Mackintoshes, when dirty, can be easily cleaned at home. Spread out the garment flat on a table, and scrub it with warm water and yellow soap in which a little carbonate of ammonia has been dissolved. Hinse in cold wa-ter and hang in the air to dry. On no account put it near the fire.

Mr. Matt Mosgrove has gone to Portland on a brief business visit,

The first snow of the season made its appearance last night and this morning the ground was covered with about three inches of the beautiful, and the sleigh bells are very much in

Last night the Ladies' Philharmonic Quartette, of Chicago, gave a concert in the new opera hall. A large and appreciative audience greeted them and every number was heartly en-joyed from first to last. This is the second time the young ladies have been before a Milton audience and should they come again would be given a large house

A case of diphtheria is reported in the family of J. W. Smith. A boy about 9 years of age has it, but at present is not considered dangerous.

Mississippi operates a large plantation with convict labor. Its profits during the past year have relieved the state of the necessity of issuing bonds.
