WORK OF SALVATIONISTS. Seattle Man Rescued from "Dope" Habit and Restored to His Family. Rescued from a fate worse than death, John Wilson, formerly one of the most notorious "dope fiends" in Seattle, today received as a Christmas gift a letter informing him that his wife and children have been found and are waiting for him to come home, says the Seattle Star. For four years his family had been lost to him. Mrs. Wilson and the children were discovered in a Southwestern Washington town by the local Salvation Army, and a reunion was arranged. To the Army is due Wilson's rescue from the grip of the morphine habit. He was supposed to be dying when the police found him covered with loathsome sores in a box car on the water front, a month ago. The Army took an interest in his case and sent him to a sanitarium in Portland, where he was cured of his craving for drugs. The letter was delivered to Wilson at the sanitarium. Wilson was formerly a locomotive engineer, but lost his position through his bad habits. His wife believed him dead until the Salvationists found her and told her the truth. Sick headache absolutely and permanently cured by using Moki Tea. A pleasant herb drink. Cures Constipation and Indigestion. Makes you eat, sleep, work and happy. ### BALLASTING NOW DONE.

O. R. & N. Finished Twenty-five Miles of Track East of La Grande. William Hollons, general roadmaster of the O. R. & N., has returned from La Grande, having finished the work of ballasting 25 miles of track east of that place, as far as can be done this winter.

The gravel was unloaded on the roadbed and the track lifted up, but the finishing touches were not given on account of the wet weather and difficulty of doing a neat job with the wet material. This portion of the roadbed is now in the same excellent condition as that east of Pendleton, as far as Huron. Next year the company will further extend this ballast until the entire system is in the same first-class condition as that just ballasted. The new steel bridges put in place on Burnt river this season, and the improvements to buildings and other equipment prove that the company has no immediate intention of building down Snake river, and abandoning the Blue mountain route.

LA GRANDE LAUNDRY BURNED.

Caught Fire About Midnight and Was Totally Destroyed Before the Fire Company Could Reach the Scene. La Grande, Dec. 29.—The A. B. C. Steam Laundry, the oldest laundry in the city, owned by Dunn Brothers, was totally destroyed by fire last night. The fire was discovered by Night Watch Cotner, about midnight, and was then furiously burning among the heaps of linen and before the company could reach the scene was beyond all possible chance of rescue. The building was situated some distance from the business portion of the city, which accounts for the start the fire had made before being discovered. The loss is about $4,000, partly insured. Among the patrons losing heavily by the fire, were the Hot Lake Sanitarium, and Hotel Foley. The Hot Lake Sanitarium lost 1,000 pieces of valuable table linen and sheets, and Hotel Foley lost almost as much. All the Monday laundry was in, and many families are left without a stitch of the week's washing.

HAS PARALYSIS.

L. M. Huson, of Helix, is Seriously Afflicted at His Home. It is reported that L. M. Huson, of Helix, is critically ill at his home and is not expected to live. Some time ago he was stricken with an attack of paralysis, from which he has not been able to rally. Mr. Huson is well known in the city, where he has visited many times. During the carnival a couple of years ago he had a band here composed, for the greater part of his sons, which band furnished music for the carnival. He is one of the old pioneers of the county, and many friends over the country will be sorry to hear of his illness.

RUNAWAY GIRL LOCATED.

"Hello" Beauty From Spokane Leaves Home Mysteriously and is Now at Heppner. Spokane, Dec. 29.—Without doubt, Miss Frances Smith, the 16-year-old daughter of Herman Smith, who left home suddenly a week ago Saturday, is now with her aunt in Heppner, Ore. Before she left here she told a girl friend in confidence that she was ill-treated at her home and she intended to run away to her aunt, first going to Portland. At the time she made this confession to her chum she said she had $30 in money with which to pay her way. As near as can be learned, the girl traveled alone. Her father thought when he first discovered her absence that a young man had been mixed up in the case, but nothing can be learned to bear out this theory. Last Thursday, not being able to find out his daughter's whereabouts, he secured a warrant for her, charging incorrigibility. Miss Smith has been in the employ of the telephone company for a long time and is quite well known. Her disappearance last Saturday was so complete it led to all kinds of conjectures on the part of her friends, some of whom even hinted at foul play.

Major Lee Moorhouse Contributes an Article to the American Annual of Photography on Indian Photography—Six of His Beautiful Pictures Accompany This Article—High Class Journal Which is Taken as Authority on Art of Photography Invites Pendleton Artist to Contribute to its Annual Number.

The American annual is an authority on photography, and Major Moorhouse, being the recognized leader in the art of Indian photography in the United States, was invited to contribute an article, and pictures, on this all-absorbing subject, for the Annual. This publication stands at the head of its class, its technical and artistic instruction being sought after by artists in all parts of the country, and the honor of being the representative of one of the leading branches of photography, in this book, is a prize coveted by every photographer who appreciates his work and its importance in American life. Some of the best photographs to be seen anywhere appear in this Annual. All phases of photography, all branches of the wonderful art, and all the latest methods and discoveries are found in it, fully represented by the best to be obtained upon the subject.

The Indian pictures by Major Moorhouse include a frontispiece for his article, representing an Indian looking across the Columbia, near the Cascades. Sees-Yuse, head medicine man of the Columbia river tribe, in full native dress. A faggot gatherer, representing a squaw on the Umatilla reservation, carrying an enormous bundle of limbs from the grove on the river. Stella Tu-Slaps, Fish Hawk, chief of the Cayuses, and his famous picture of Sacajawea, standing near her tepee pointing westward. The article relates the difficulties and fascination which accompany the art of securing good Indian pictures, with several anecdotes from Umatilla Indians exhibiting the superstition held by the Indian against the camera. This book will go through all the European countries as the leading representative of American photography, and the Moorhouse pictures, being one of the most beautiful and picturesque features of the book, will direct attention to Oregon, Umatilla county, and Pendleton, through her esteemed artist.

Miss Gannon, Sec'y Detroit Amateur Art Association, tells young women what to do to avoid pain and suffering caused by female troubles.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I can conscientiously recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to those of my sisters suffering with female weakness and the troubles which so often befall women. I suffered for months with general weakness, and felt so weary that I had hard work to keep up. I had shooting pains, and was utterly miserable. In my distress I was advised to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it was a red letter day to me when I took the first dose, for at that time my restoration began. In six weeks I was a changed woman, perfectly well in every respect. I felt so elated and happy that I want all women who suffer to get well as I did." —MISS GUILA GANNON, 359 Jones St., Detroit, Mich., Secretary Amateur Art Association. —$5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

When one considers that Miss Gannon's letter is only one of the countless hundreds which we are continually publishing in the newspapers of this country, the great virtue of Mrs. Pinkham's medicine must be admitted by all.
