AMONG THE EXCHANGES OF THE INLAND EMPIRE

A gentleman who is not a dreamer by any means stated that he firmly believed La Grande capitalists were ting a golden opportunity slip through their fingers in not sinking an artesian well above the site of the rity reservoir, not for cold water, but for hot. He stated that there is a vurn spring on the hillside. This water must certainly be a seepage from below, and, knowing as we all do the bot lake situated only a short distance from La Grande, it is reasonable to expect this warm spring comes from the same source. If the main body of hot water could be tap-ped. La Grande could be heated with hot water and for all time to come the fuel question would be solved.— La Grande Observer

New industry for Baker. Mr. F. Leach, for 25 years in the iron manufacturing business in Port-land, has been spending a few days in Baker City, with a view to estab-lishing his son in a branch plant here. When seen yesterday Mr. here. When seen yesterday Mr.
Leach said that he liked the appearance of Baker City very much and thought it would afford him the opportunity he was looking for. If he establishes a foundry here, it will be for the manufacture of what is known to the trade as light foundry work to the trade as light foundry work, such as window sash weights, scrap tir maleable iron work and light castings. The establishment of this institution will depend somewhat upon the rates of transportation.—Ba-ker City Democrat.

Indian Lands Sold.

One thousand and eighty-five acres Nez Perce county land passed to individual ownership yesterday and the state school fund was enriched to the extent of $21,897.30 as the result of the sale conducted at the county court house by Chief Clerk Jackson of the state land board. Of the tracts offered no bids were re-solved on 894 acres located in the reservation and Potlatch pections. offered to take the land of the ap-pulsement, but under the law this step could not be taken by the land-board authorities.—Lewiston Tribune.

MARKET REVIEWED

The market this week is the same, with one or two changes only, that it was last week. Turkeys have advanced in price a couple of cents, though the price will average about 121/2 cents when all of the sales are taken into consideration. It is found that the fowls brought into the mar ket here are not of a uniform quality, showing that the care in their raising is more a matter of chance than of intent, on the part of the than of intent, on the part of the farmers. With chickens it is the same way, the people who bring them in for sale look on them more as something that is picked up at a clear profit, than as one of the regular details of their business.

A few fresh eggs are in the mar-ket at 40 cents a dozen, but the sup-ply is very limited, and it is more a quantity of them than it is the result of liberal supply.

In the hide department the price is on the decline, and the scale has been sliding towards the bottom all of the past week. There is little demand for the pelts at this season unless they are of the best, and the buyers are not paying fancy prices for what they pay Still a good deal of what they get. Still, a good deal of business is being done by the local dealers, as there seems to be a lot

A Song of the World.

When we think of all the rushing And the rolling of the spheres; Of the coming and the going Of the sacrificial years. Of the love our hearts have lavishe

That has never been returned; Of the cruet disappointments, Of the gifts that have been spurn Then we vent our keen displeasure

On this Hi-starred universe And we ask ourselves, bemoaning.
If it could be any worse,
Till there comes an inspiration. Like a gimpse of second sight: We are none of us commissioned
