SKETCH OF J. H. RALEY.

Oregonian Reviews Life of One of Pendleton's Foremost Citizens.

The following brief sketch of Colonel J. H. Raley of this city appeared in the Portland Oregonian of a recent date and recalls to old-timers of Umatilla county many thrilling periods of pioneer history:

The name of Colonel J. H. Raley is linked with the early history of Oregon; and the historian whose writings of the men who assisted in framing the law of the state, and who contributed brain and skill to build up an empire in the great Northwest, will find in Colonel Raley one whose hopes and ambitions have always been with the state of his adoption, and whose talents have been given to the advancement and prosperity of Oregon.

Born January 29, 1855, in Nebraska City, Neb., young Raley crossed the plains with his parents, Jonathan and Rachel Raley, when he was about 7 years of age. During the winter of '62-'63 the family "camped out" in the suburbs of Portland. The following winter was passed at Mill Plain, near Vancouver, Wash. In the spring of 1864 the family moved to the present site of Pendleton and it was here that the eminent jurist spent his childhood days and drank in the patriotism that has characterized his life. Judge Raley's preparatory education was received at home and in the schools of Pendleton. Later he attended the State university and was a member of the first class graduated from that institution.

Though a number of memorable events have occurred during Judge Raley's life, the most important was his marriage to Minerva A. Pruett, of Portland, August 19, 1879. His political career began early in life. He was one of the first councilmen of Pendleton and was the fourth mayor of that city. He was elected county surveyor of Umatilla county in 1880 and again in 1882. In 1888 Judge Raley was elected to the state senate from Umatilla and Union counties and had the honor of re-election in 1892. His political faith is Democratic, and he is one of the staunchest admirers of Thomas Jefferson's principles.

He was the choice of his party for congress in 1894, and for Attorney General of Oregon in 1902, but was defeated. He is an attorney by profession and is father of the irrigation law and the Weston Normal school, and is a director of the Lewis and Clark Centennial exposition.

SEEKS CURE FOR LUMP JAW.

C. A. Rhea of Heppner Will Put the Subject Before Stock Convention.

C. A. Rhea, a well known citizen of Eastern Oregon, who made his fortune in the cattle business, is preparing a hard problem for the delegates to the livestock convention, who are to assemble here January 11, says the Telegram.

"I have never seen or heard of a cure for big jaw in cattle," Mr. Rhea said today, "and I am going to ask the gentlemen of the convention if they know of any."

"We, in Eastern Oregon, call the disease 'big jaw' for want of a technical name, but I have never known a cattleman who had a cure for it. I have been in attendance at several livestock conventions and have heard the subject discussed somewhat, but nobody would suggest a remedy."

"Yet, wherever there are large herds of cattle this disease can be found. The affected animal's jaw begins to swell, the teeth will ulcerate and the beast cannot eat; it has to literally starve to death."

"We have cut the carcasses open and found the lower jawbone honey-combed and full of pus. Some cattlemen think the trouble is caused by the animal getting gravel between its teeth, but not one knows positively."

"In Morrow county we have lost many cattle by 'big jaw' since I went into the cattle business in 1865, and the disease still carries off quite a proportion every year. The only way I know of to prevent loss is to sell the animal before it gets too poor."

SURE INDICATOR OF BAD BLOOD OLD SORES, ULCERS, ABSO

The best evidence of a bad condition of the blood and system, is an old festering sore, running ulcer, or abscess. The bodily impurities are not passing out through the pores, are left in the system to clog and poison the blood. So the poison permeates the system that every little scratch inflames and festers. Everything about an old sore or ulcer tells They affect the general health, they require constant attention, and are a source of anxiety and trouble all the time, and in some cases highly offensive. There is danger, too, of these places becoming cancerous if not treated promptly and in the right way. Washes, salves and ointments are good for external use, but they can't stop the discharge or change the condition of the blood, and for this reason the sore never heals permanently.

Not until the blood is purged of impurities and the system cleansed of all harmful substances should the ulcer heal, or the effect upon the system might prove disastrous. S. S. S. goes into the circulation and searches out and removes the cause of the old sore and invigorates and builds up the polluted, sluggish blood again, and as the poisonous matter is driven from the system the sore begins to heal, new flesh forms and the place is soon covered over with fresh skin and the sore is gone for all time. Where the debilitated from the effects of chronic sores, ulcers, abscesses, boils or other severe skin eruptions will build it up again and strengthen all parts of the system. Contains no strong mineral salts. Feed entirely vegetable. It is a Blood Purifier and Invigorant. Do not depend upon local medicine. Get your blood right, and the trouble will disappear. Write us should you desire medical advice, without charge.
