R. & N.'s Plan to Stop Regular Trains at Drive, is Appreciated. Many people in Pendleton have signified that they will attend the big rabbit drive to be held on the hills west of Foster next Sunday. The plan of the O. R. & N. to stop No. 1, the west-bound morning train, at mile post 197, to allow the hunters to get off, right at the drive, meets with hearty appreciation among the sportsmen. The evening train will also stop at the same point to pick up the crowd returning to Pendleton so the day can be spent at the drive and the return trip made on the regular evening train. No special train will be run. Those taking advantage of the $1 round trip rate must go on the regular west-bound train which is due to leave here at 9:10 a. m., and must return on No. 2, arriving here at 5:45 p. m. Major Lee Moorhouse will take views of the drive and a large crowd is expected to attend. OREGON HAY FOR MANILA. Transport Dix. Will Load Government Supplies at Portland for the Philippines. A telegram from Senator Fulton to the Portland Board of Trade conveys the certain information that the government transport Dix will load oats, hay and other supplies at the port of Portland for the use of the army in the Philippines. This is the first shipment of government supplies to be sent from the port of Portland and that city is justly elated over the fact. The supplies will be purchased in Oregon, with the exception of a portion of the cargo of hay, which will be picked up at San Francisco, en route to Manila. The oats will be bought in Oregon, exclusively, but owing to a previous contract for hay having been let in San Francisco, about 50 per cent of the hay cargo will be loaded at that point. The Dix is expected to arrive at Portland about February 1. G. W. Hanley, of Big Timber, Montana, is 108 years of age. He is a veterinarian by profession and as active, healthy and sound mentally as the average man of 65 to 70 years of age. You may as well know Schilling's Best—at your grocer's. POTWINE RESIGNS

RESIGNATION FORMALLY TENDERED LAST NIGHT.

Its Full Text Appears Below—Mr. Potwine Has Been in Charge of This Pastorate Nearly Twenty-two Years—A. W. Nye Was Appointed to Fill Vacancy in the Vestry—Church is in Good Condition Financially.

The semi-annual meeting of the parish of the Church of the Redeemer was held last night.

The report of the treasurer showed the church to be in good condition financially, with all of the debts paid, and a small balance in the treasury of $200.

A. W. Nye was elected to fill the vacancy in the vestry caused by the removal of W. E. Garretson from the city.

At this meeting the resignation of Rev. W. E. Potwine was read and referred to the meeting of the vestry, which should meet this evening, though no call has been given for it. The members of the parish are greatly opposed to Mr. Potwine leaving the church and will make efforts to have him change his mind. With the resignation Mr. Potwine made a statement to the parish which is printed below:

To the Vestry and Parish of the Church of the Redeemer, Pendleton, Ore.

Dear Brethren:—Being about to communicate to you an important action touching his relationship to you as a congregation and parish, a few remarks of a semi-historical character and a measure explanatory of it, may properly find place here.

Late in the month of May, in the year 1882, while your present rector was about finishing his course in divinity in the East, he received an invitation from Bishop Morris to take up missionary work in this diocese. The invitation was promptly accepted and your rector was happily assigned to this field and placed in charge of the Church of the Redeemer and the territory contiguous to it.

He arrived on the ground in August of the same year and began his work. This congregation was then in a formative and dependent condition, having only a small membership and a very inadequate equipment. Developing strength, however, with the growth of the town in the course of the next few years, and prompted by considerations of self-respect and justice toward the Board of Missions, a successful effort was made in the spring of 1888 to assume independence. Acting under the authority and guidance of the canons of the diocese, the members of the congregation formally organized themselves into a parish, perfecting the same by choosing a vestry and incorporating under the laws of the state.

A "call" was immediately extended to the present incumbent to become the first rector, at a stipulated salary of $600 per year, including the use of the rectory. The proposition was accepted and the congregation began its career as a self-sustaining parish. During the first two years this stipend was voluntarily increased to $70 per month, at which figure it has remained ever since. About 12 years ago your rector tendered his resignation to take up the duties of general missionary; but at the solicitation of the vestry, and with the approval of the bishop, he was induced to recall the action and to continue the work with the hope of carrying it to a greater degree of completion and placing the parish in a stronger footing. From this review of his rectorship it will be evident that your present rector will soon have completed a period of continuous administration here of nearly 22 years. It has been a period of slow but steady growth, marked, here and there, by signs of spiritual development that have been most thankfully observed, and chequered by incidents some of which have served to encourage and cheer him in his ministry far beyond his deserts. Not least among these incidents have been the increasing evidences of personal esteem and affection, the remembrance of which will ever be held as his most valued treasures.

Viewed from the standpoint of the world, the parish is now in a comparatively prosperous condition. The congregation is united, strife and dissension being strangers to the fold. No burden of debt rests upon your shoulders to hamper and delay every forward movement, but, equipped with a substantial house of worship, adequate for present needs, and fairly well furnished for the reverent performance of the holy offices of the church, provided with a rectory and parish house, and having among the members of the parish a corps of faithful, efficient and devoted churchmen and churchwomen, whose greatest need in the extension of the influence of the church as a spiritual power is a competent and consecrated leader, who may rally to his support all the latent resources therein, it seems to your present rector that the time has come for him to retire from the field and relinquish the duties and privileges to other and more capable hands. Humbly seeking the guidance of Almighty God in the proposed action, and earnestly desiring the highest and best interests of His church and of this parish, he has decided to tender you his resignation as rector of this parish, to take effect on Monday in Easter week, April 4th, 1904, invoking upon one and all the peace and blessing of the great Head of the Church, and praying that in all things pertaining to His Kingdom God's holy spirit may direct and rule your hearts. (Signed) W. E. POTWINE.

DENIES CHARGE OF INCEST.

Father of Infamous Minx at Walla Walla Cruelly Wronged.

Walla Walla, Jan. 7.—F. G. Naylor, of Athena, father of Louisa Naylor, who charges him with criminal relationship extending over four years, denied his daughter's story in toto while in the city yesterday, branding it a concoction fabricated by the girl to have him drop his case against Edward Tracy, the young Milton carpenter now in the county jail for alleged rape on Miss Naylor.

Naylor says he will prosecute Tracy to the limit, and brought with him Attorney Will Peterson of Athena to assist in the case.

He says that his daughter until she met Tracy was a very dutiful girl, that she had a good home and that he kept her well supplied with clothes and money. Soon after she began keeping company with Tracy, he stated, they asked his consent to their marriage, which he refused, alleging that Tracy was not capable of properly caring for the girl.

PERSONAL MENTION.

J. Taibert, of Milton, is in the city for a brief visit.

L. A. Esteb returned to his home at Echo this morning.

PARISH AID OFFICERS.

New Board Chosen—Will Give a Social During the Month.

The ladies of the Parish Aid Society met yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Lee Moorhouse, for their annual election of officers. Mrs. Lee Moorhouse was elected president, Mrs. A. D. Stillman vice-president, Mrs. J. F. Robinson, secretary, and Mrs. Frank Frazier, treasurer.

It is the intention of the ladies to give a social at some time during the present month, and as Mrs. Thos. G. Halley has promised to entertain the ladies at some time, it is the intention of the society to ask her to place the date for some day in this month, when they will hold their social at her house.

Plant Exposure.

All the windows of a house can be utilized for plant growing provided we are careful in our selection and adapt the plants to the window it is to grow in. If I were asked to give a list of plants adapted to the several exposures, the list would be something like this: For eastern windows, fuchsias, begonias, callas, Chinese primroses, Primula obconica, azaleas, plumbago, stevia, lobelias and all kinds of bulbous plants; for southern windows geraniums, roses, chrysanthemums, carnations, lantanas, oxalis, oleanders, abutilons, hibiscus, marguerites and most of the plants having richly colored foliage; for western windows bright leaved plants and a few of the more "accommodating" plants like the geranium, provided the effect of too strong sunshine is modified somewhat; for northern windows ferns, arcararias, English ivies, palms, aspidistra, ficuses and scignellias. Roman hyacinths, Primula obconica and Chinese primroses will often bloom well in sunless windows.—Home and Flowers.

Children and Secrets.

Never talk secrets before a child—"little pitchers have long ears." If you do, and he repeats what he has heard, as most likely he will, and thus perhaps makes mischief, it will be wrong to scold him. You will for your imprudence have yourself only to blame. One woman meets another woman on the street, and they will stop and gossip about all sorts of things while the small boy or little girl standing beside them listens to all they say. We should be especially careful in the presence of children of what we say and of whom we speak.

Woodmen of World, Notice.

Pendleton Camp No. 41, will have installation of officers Saturday evening, January 9. All members are earnestly requested to be present.

Don't worry; serenity is the touchstone of wisdom.

ENFORCE CURFEW

MARSHAL CARNEY WILL DO THIS SYSTEMATICALLY.

Proposes to Put a Stop to Children Being Out on the Streets After 8 p. m.—They Had Better Be Safe in Jail—Expects to Enforce the Ordinance Regardless of "Influence," Remonstrances or Kicks.

The new police force went on duty last night at 12 o'clock and this morning the officers who in the past have been wearing the star of authority and conserving the peace and dignity of the city are sleeping daytimes for the last time.

Marshal Carney is on duty this morning wearing the golden star that has adorned the breast of Marshal Scheer for so long. Mr. Carney states that he is going to do one thing well at least in the discharge of his duties, and that is to enforce the curfew ordinance of the city. He is of the opinion personally that it is not the right thing to have little children running the streets at all hours of the night, and thinks that if their parents will not take the pains and trouble to see that their children are in bed when the proper time comes, that it will be better for the children in the long run to rest in the city jail, where they will be at least out of the way of temptation.

On New Year's night the city was thronged with children of all ages, ranging from 6 to 16, and at 1 o'clock not all of them had gone to their homes. This will not happen again so Mr. Carney says, as long at least as he is marshal.

At the next meeting of the council the matter will be brought up and permission will be asked of the council to allow either the fire bell to be rung at 8 o'clock, or some other bell in the central part of the city. If this is not allowed the ordinance will be still enforced, and all children between the ages of 6 and 15 years found on the streets after that time will be put in the city jail for the night. This will be enforced regardless of family or fortune, and the parents are asked by the marshal to co-operate with him in seeing that the law is obeyed.

A Kitchen Seat.

A light office stool with a cane seat, one that can be pushed under the table when not in use or easily be moved near the sink, is a wonderful health saver in our house. Sit down to prepare all vegetables, pare fruit, mix cake, clean silver and to wipe dishes. Our grandmothers thought it shiftless to sit while doing any kind of housework. We consider it a duty to ourselves and to our family to save ourselves as much as possible.—Exchange.

Play Rugs.

One of the cutest things for baby is a play rug, which may be made of felt or any material preferred in dull gray or tan, decorated with pictures of cats, dogs, flowers and other interesting objects in bright colors. This will keep baby entertained for a long time and is of equal service in the nursery or to be spread on the lawn in pleasant weather.

Ammonia.

Ammonia is one of the most useful drugs in the household. It is most effective as an agent in dissolving dirt and grease. In cleaning of any kind it should be used in about the proportion of a tablespoonful to a quart of water. It makes the water softer than rainwater and is especially refreshing in the bath.

A Vest Pocket Doctor.

Never in the day do trouble to carry, easy to take, pleasant, and never failing in results are DeWitt's Little Early Risers. A via. of these little pills in the vest pocket is a certain guarantee against headache, biliousness, torpid liver and all the ills resulting from constipation. They tonic and strengthen the liver. PROPHECY OF WOE.

Queer Tale from a Country Town in Wales.

London, Jan. 7.—All Wales is just now discussing a strange tale of a prophecy of woe reported from the town of Bethesda. Recently, while a woman was washing her 3-months-old child (so the story goes) she was thunderstruck to hear the baby say, "Blwyddyn o nadwy fydd y fwyddyn nesaf, mam." Roughly translated this means: "Next year will be a terrible year, mother."

The mother, terrified, laid the child down and ran to a neighbor's house and told a woman there of the occurrence. The woman at once ran into the house and, picking the child up, soothed and caressed it a while, and then, half playfully, half in earnest, she said to the child, "Did you tell your mother that next year would be a terrible year?" To her unbounded astonishment, the child replied, "Yes," and fell back dead.

The child was buried the following day, in the presence of large crowds, who discussed the story and spread it far and wide. Coming immediately after the close of the prolonged strike in the slate quarries, this "prophecy" has profoundly influenced the minds of the superstitious throughout the little principality.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

Love is a candle, but mostly with a sputtering wick. A woman who doesn't get seasick deserves a steamer flirtation, and gets it. When the cook stops giving notices to leave it is a sign she is really going to quit. Most people who give good reference for anybody do it because they are awful glad to get rid of them. Every woman has a sneaking idea that her son is sure to become president unless he makes a foolish marriage.

All members of the Fraternal Brotherhood are requested to attend lodge Friday evening, January 8. Hattie Stanfield, secretary.
