Masqueraded as a Man.

remarkable case of a woman masquerading as a man has just come to light near Rockville in the western part of this state, near the Oregon line. A few days ago Joe Monoghan a well known cowboy died suddenly at the residence of Barney Maller, en Succor creek, in Oregon. When the body was being prepared for burial it was found the deceased was a woman. She had ridden the ranges in Eastern Oregon. Eastern Oregon for 25 years, and was widely known as an expert, faithful, untiring cowboy. She worked for the cattlemen during the summer and in the winter looked after her own stock of which she possessed quite a herd The woman was small of statue but very active and strong, and was an expert shot with revolver and rifle. Her home was in a dugout near Rockville. She was well liked by all who knew her well, but she avoided people much, except as she came in con-tact with them in her work.

The deceased was about 54 years of Nothing is known of her antecedents. She served on juries in Ore-gon and voted at all elections.

Good Example to Emulate.

Dayton, Wash., Jan. 13.-Mrs. Sylin King, who lives on the Tukanon about 14 miles east of Dayton, is in receipt of a letter from the Maule Seed Company of Philadelphia enclosing a check for $50 which was sent to her as a prize for the largest and best specimen of the improved Ruby King pepper which the company

Mrs. King also received a prize from variety. These were raised on what is known as the King ranch, one of the most productive and well known ranches in this county. Mrs. King some time ago also received $100 as a prize for having raised the largest and best specimen of pumpkin.

Sugar Cane Hay.

J. A. Steach, who returned recent The ly from Kansas, brought a sack of lele sugar cane seed and will sow a part of it for hay. Mr. Steach says sugar cane is getting to be a popular hay in the Mississippi states. It is sown broadcast and sufficiently thick to make the stalks grow fine. It flourishes on dry ground and all kinds of stock are said to do well on it. Mr. Steach will distribute ... me of he seed among his neighbors and it will be tried on various kinds of soil. this proves a success, and grows and yields as many claim it will, it will be a great thing for some of our ranchers whose fields are on high dry ground.-Long Creek Light
