NEW YORK FASHIONS

New York, Jan. 16.—This is the season when the woman who can figure so far ahead buys her spring and summer gowns. Now one has a choice of the newest and daintiest fabrics besides the rarest novelties in trimming.

Every one is wondering whether the military fashions that now obtain will linger through the winter season and be fashionable at Easter-tide and subsequently during the spring. They are certainly very pretty and designed after ideas that are not at all masculine. The broad effect which they give the shoulders is a boon to the narrow-back, flat-chested sisterhood and there are hundreds of ways of modifying these particulars to suit women with whom nature has been more generous.

Military Effects in Vogue. Whether the vogue will remain or not it is remarked at present that many of the advance styles show military effects in some way or other.

Even the most delicate gowns of silk and crepe have ornaments of thick cords, ending in tassels of greater or less size and wide bands of woven gilt.

Grey silk mull is a fabric which will share popular favor with white. It comes in the most delightful tints, varying from smoke to delicate pearl and nothing prettier can be imagined than a home gown of this material trimmed and heavy white honiton laces for the thinnest fabrics take the heaviest laces, you know.

Fetching Hand-Painted Effects.

Another fashionable fabric is hand-painted gauze or rather it has the effect of genuine art, for in most instances the "painting" is woven into the goods through some marvelous achievement of the manufacturer's skill. The gauze is usually shown in faint and blurred pompadour designs of roses, poppies or bunches of wisteria blossoms, thus affording delightful combinations of velvet and tulle in the color scheme.

White frocks whether they be of silk or cotton must have the ethereal look of fairy belongings. This is the distinguishing feature of these gowns. To gain this effect delicate laces and embroideries are reserved for their decoration. The more massive garnishments can be used riotously on tinted dresses.

Simple, Inexpensive and Pretty.

A simple design that is not very expensive either, is developed in crepe albatross. This material combines the qualities of two very fashionable fabrics with a little of their cost, for it comes very wide and at prices ranging from 49 cents up. The skirt is draped over an imitation silk lining and trimmed with tucks and lace, these forming a deep hip-yoke. The bottom is finished with a flounce headed with two rows of medallions, with strips of lace insertion running over it diagonally and criss-crossing to form squares. Under this is a fringed plaited silk mull which makes an effective footing for the drop skirt.

Following the prevailing mode the bodice is supplied with a deep round yoke, coming down very long over the shoulder with lace medallions going all around it as a finish. The high collar is formed of medallions of lace, caught together and held in place by tiny bones.

Chiffon Velvet in Favor.

Chiffon velvet, whose beauty and elegance have been feebly described recently in this correspondence, is growing in favor among fashion's elite. One of Gotham's debutantes counts among her prettiest gowns a street dress of this fabric in dark blue. The skirt is perfectly plain over the hips and slopes down to a deep circular flounce above which are two rows of embroidered rings caught to the velvet with the silk.

The effect is youthful, yet the fashion is one that may be adopted by a woman of almost any age. Instead of the long coat—which is dying a quick death—there is a novel little jacket, for which a cape would be an equally appropriate name. In fact the entire effect is that of a fitted cape edged with the silk rings. Around the neck and half way down the front is a stripe of pale blue velvet, with an applique design over it, rounded at the neck and finished at the waist by rings. These little ornaments also cover the belt.

The costume is effectively topped with a big picture hat of dark blue plaited chiffon trimmed with bunches of ostrich tips in the same shade. Something New in Hat Trimmings.

Something new in hat trimmings are large sized silk cords. It is wound several times around the crown and looped and knotted at one side, the ends being brought together and fastened with a shaded cabochon in the center of the looping.

No doubt by spring the fashionable hats will be much reduced in size as the growing tendency is toward smaller designs.

Many pretty trimmings for dresses and hats are made of delicate hand-made handkerchiefs. These novelties are expensive, however and there are women who have made small fortunes this season from the sales of such accessories. While white is used most, there are pretty color combinations shown in these trimming handkerchiefs, which are somewhat at variance to the rule of nasal etiquette, but they are novel and that is the chief desideratum.—Maude Griffin.

Jacob Schurman, president of Cornell University, believes the United States and Colombia will actually fight, and that the outcome will make Colombia a quasi protectorate of the United States.

TAILOR MADE GOWNS.

Simple General Utility Dresses to Be the Style This Spring.

For the warm spring days a tailor made dress will be found useful. This should be made, as its name indicates, in a rather simple manner, carefully fitted and with strapped or stitched seams. Smart little fronts can be introduced to vary the monotony, and these can be of delicate colors harmonizing with the goods. With a costume of this sort a rather severe hat is a necessity. By this is meant a hat that is smart rather than dressy.

The blouse waist is being more and more replaced by the dress. Especially is this the case with women whose stout figures will not permit them to look well in a two piece costume. Besides the tailor made costume of woolen goods there will be worn a little later chic general utility gowns of black and white foulard, brilliantine and linen.

Dresses of blue or red brilliantine, trimmed with bands of black moire, will be both useful and smart.

A serviceable tailor made gown is shown in the cut. It is made of deep blue cheviot, with a front of tan broadcloth. This front is made plain, with two rows of buttons. The waist has two pointed straps over the shoulders, and it is made to pouch slightly in front. The sleeves are full at the wrists, with tight fitting cuffs. The skirt is trimmed with four rows of strapping. The hat worn with this is of white felt, trimmed with buff colored ribbon and a broad band of black velvet.

The picturesque element is obtaining a greater hold in house dresses. Here the empire, the Louis XV, and even certain styles suggesting the medieval are to be found.

over a full soft front of lace. The sleeves are elbow length and are either of the goods with soft ruffles of lace or of the all over lace of which the front is made.

Flowered china silks now come in all the pompadour colorings and are charming for these dainty house gowns. They are tucked in clusters or trimmed with butter colored lace applique.

Fichus, with long ends reaching to the feet, are very handsome and give the wearer a stately air.

The wrapper in the illustration represents one of the most fashionable and latest designs. It is made of accordion plaited goods or rough crepe. The neck is finished off with two broad tucked collars, banded with cluny lace insertion. Where the collars meet in front there is a long sashlike pendant reaching below the knees. The sleeves are on the picture order and are heavily trimmed with the insertion. The bottom of the skirt is finished by a double full ruffle, banded with the insertion.

EAST OREGONIAN UNKNOWN NUMBER GUESSING CONTEST

Every Subscriber to Have an Opportunity to Guess on a $100 Rubber Tired Buggy

As an Expression of Our Good Will Toward Subscribers and to Increase our Subscription List

We Will Give Away, Absolutely Free, a Cushion-Tire Buggy now on Exhibition in the Show Window of the A. Kunkel & Co. Implement House, Two Doors South of the East Oregonian Building.

The East Oregonian has purchased from the A. Kunkel Implement Co. a $100 cushion tire buggy. It is a beauty, strong, serviceable and well finished. For each year's subscription to the Weekly at $1.50 or for every similar amount paid on the daily or semi-weekly the subscriber is entitled to one guess at an unknown number of three figures, that will be placed in a sealed envelope. This is not a drawing, lottery, or gift enterprise of any kind.

How to Participate. Each receipt for $1.50 for the Daily, Weekly or Semi-weekly East Oregonian, to any address, the person to whom the receipt is issued, will be given an opportunity, absolutely without cost, to have a guess at the unknown number, and the person or persons guessing nearest that number will receive as a present and without any compensation whatever, and merely as an expression of good will on the part of the East Oregonian toward its subscribers, the $100 cushion tired buggy advertised in this paper and on exhibition at A. Kunkel & Co's. Implement house two doors south of the East Oregonian building.

For each $1.50 paid the holder of the receipt will have an opportunity of making one guess. For example if you send $1.50 for one year's subscription to the Weekly or $2.00 for one year's subscription to the Semi-weekly you are entitled to one guess. If you pay $5.00 for one year's subscription by mail to the Daily you will get three guesses. If you pay $7.50 for one year's subscription to the Daily delivered by carrier you will get five guesses, or if you pay $3.75 for six months of the Daily by carrier you are entitled to two guesses.

No commission is allowed to any agent or solicitor for securing subscribers under this offer, and the person so subscribing does it with the understanding that the East Oregonian is accepted as payment in full for the money paid.

Unknown Number—How Prepared. The unknown number that is to be guessed will be made up in the following manner. The ten numbers from nought to nine will be put on separate slips of paper and folded so as to be unseen, and a committee of subscribers will be asked to conduct the assembling of the unknown number. This unknown number will be formed at the East Oregonian office on January in the following manner: The ten numbers from nought to nine, inclusive, on separate slips of paper, in small sealed envelopes, will be placed in a box, shaken, and a blindfolded person in the presence of the committee will draw out three of those ten numbers, marking the first one, the second two and the third three in figures, and they will then be placed in a large envelope, sealed up and delivered to the chairman of the committee of subscribers until the contest is closed when the buggy will be turned over to the person guessing nearest to the selected number.

The remaining seven numbers from which the three numbers were drawn, will be burned unopened by the committee, so that no one will know what they were. The unknown numbers will be formed by putting together the three numbers in the order as marked, one, two, three, on the envelopes on which they are contained. The unknown number will not be assembled until the guessing contest is completed, hence no one will know what it is until it is publicly announced to subscribers.

number of guesses possible in the range of the numbers between 0 and 987, as the unknown number must be composed of a figure in those limits. The unknown number cannot be less than 012 nor more than 987.

To be a perfectly fair and sane guessing contest the numbers must be guessed at must be absolutely unknown. There must be no chance for the East Oregonian, the committee, or any subscriber to know the number and this will insure that result.

The receipts for this guessing contest will be numbered in the East Oregonian office, but the stub will be only for the purpose of identifying the person who is the successful guesser. The subscriber writing the guess will place it on the back of his receipt, making his or her own unknown number. As soon as the receipts are all sent the guessing contest will be over and the person awarded the buggy.

How the Guesses are Made. On securing a receipt for the person wishing to guess will his guess on the back of the receipt in ink or indelible pencil, write one guess on each receipt, and post the same in the sealed box provided at the East Oregonian office for that purpose. Send your guess in a sealed envelope, and send the same in a sealed envelope to the East Oregonian office. The receipts in the sealed box will not be cut open until the receipts in the guessing contest are sold—975 receipts in all. Subscribers can get their money any time after the contest is met and draw the buggy which will give the same number as the receipt with the same number.
