INDIAN INSANITY

DOMESTIC TROUBLE THE REDMAN'S GREATEST WOE.

Only One United States Hospital for Insane Indians—Located at Canton, South Dakota, and Contains 24 Inmates—Dementia Caused by Four Principal Weaknesses.

Canton, S. D., Jan. 18.—At the close of the first year of the national hospital for insane Indians here, the first data collected upon the topic of Indian insanity indicates that the forcing of civilization upon the Redman has been responsible for much of it. In the first year half of the capacity of the hospital has been taken up; in a few more months the last room will have been taken and additions will be necessary.

There are no comparative statistics upon which to base conclusions as to causes of more recent Indian insanity. The authorities of the hospital, Superintendent O. S. Gifford and Dr. J. F. Turner, assistant superintendent and physician agree that the chief of all the causes of insanity among the Indians is despondency. Despondency is manifested in different ways among them, but most of these manifestations would have occurred in the natural life of the Indian.

One of the consequences of the self-centering life of the Indian has been a growth of domestic difficulties. Many of the insane Indians have reached their condition because of worry over family affairs.

It is the same unrest and discontent that has been seen especially among the reservations of South Dakota, where divorce has become popular in the last 10 years.

Among these Indians who can not put aside their domestic troubles by appealing to the divorce court, insanity is found.

There are now 24 patients in the hospital, which is the only institution of its kind in the United States, having been completed about a year ago by the federal government. Superintendent Gifford states that there is no doubt that all of the 50 rooms will be occupied before another 10 years.

The four principal causes of insanity among Indians are melancholia, imbecility, idiosyncrasy and epilepsy, the superintendent declared. What is perhaps the principal cause of insanity among the whites, overwork or anxiety over financial troubles, of course, find no victims among the Indians. There are few violent cases. Our treatment is simple. We allow the patients to follow their own likes and dislikes as far as can be done safely.

We encourage the Indians to find employment as it takes their minds from their dementia. We even allow them to indulge in their native dances, providing they are not dangerously existing, as we think the normal habits of the patient are most apt to bring back the possession of his faculties.

I concluded to try it and while I had no faith in it I felt better after the second dose. After using two bottles I am stronger and better than I have been in years, and I recommend Kodol Dyspepsia Cure to my friends and acquaintances suffering from stomach trouble." Sumpter Paper Speaks in Highest Terms of the Company.

The Sumpter reporter speaking of the Clara Mathes company which comes to the Park theater tonight, says: "There was the usual large audience at the opera house last night and Clara Mathes and company proved that they were fully as much at home in the Irish drama as in the varied plays they have already appeared in. Clara Mathes, in the title role, had an easy task, merely to be sweet and sympathetic, and she was more than equal to all demands. Miss Muller, Mrs. Patterson and her maid kept the audience laughing all the time they were in view. Nora was also a very pleasing character."
