SCHOOL EXHIBITS

PREPARING FOR ST. LOUIS EXPOSITION.

Preparations for an Exhibit Already Being Made—Work Will Be Actively Prosecuted in a Short Time—Every Grade in All the Schools Will Be Represented — Specialty of Manual Training Department Work.

The faculty of the public schools is beginning to get to work on the preparations for the exhibit which they have to prepare for the St. Louis exhibition.

Owing to the fact that Professor H. S. Lyman, of Astoria, who has been appointed to have charge of the work for the department of public instruction, reached this city so late in the last term, nothing of an active nature has yet been done by the teachers, but as soon as the present term is well on the way the work will be taken up and pushed for the best results that may be obtained.

The outline of the department as issued in a circular some time ago will be followed and the exhibits will be planned on the lines suggested by the department. Each grade of the schools will have some representation in the exhibit, which will be made as general and exhaustive as possible without overdoing the matter and making what is sent too long or tiresome.

One of the principal features of the exhibit will be the work of the manual training department, which will have a specially interesting contribution to the exhibit from this city. Professor E. B. Conklin, who has the management of the exhibit under his charge, is quietly putting the work in motion, telling each assistant what he wishes of them, and in this way inducing system and quicker results.

Too-la-leet-la to Salem.

Sheriff T. D. Taylor and one guard left this morning for Salem with Too-la-leet-la, the Indian who has been giving so much trouble to the sheriff's office and the inmates of the county jail. The Indian is violently insane and very ugly when his off times come, trying to bite and kill those with whom he comes in contact. He will make a valuable and interesting addition to the collection of Indians already in the asylum.

Ibsen's "Ghost" Coming.

Lee Riley, advance agent for Alberta Gallatin's company presenting Ibsen's "Ghosts," was in the city yesterday making arrangements for the production of that play here on Friday, January 22. The "Ghosts" is an intellectual play of rare interest and promises to be one of the best things coming this winter.

SULLIVAN & BAKER.

New Firm in Charge at the Corner of Court and Thompson.

Joe Sullivan and Lee Baker have bought the Brewery saloon on East Court street, and are now in charge. Mr. Roenck, the former proprietor, turned over the keys on Saturday evening.

Messrs. Baker and Sullivan are well known in the city, having both worked here for some time. They have a long list of friends who will take a little extra step to be able to quench their thirst where this firm does business, and from the present indications a good business will be done. It is the intention of the new management to run an orderly and quiet house, where nothing of lawlessness will be tolerated.

CATTLEMEN UNITE

STATE ASSOCIATION FORMED IN PORTLAND.

Will Seek to Build Up Cattle Raising Industry by Securing Better Laws, Regulations and More Protection From Various Abuses—Committees Appointed to Attend to its Interests.

Following the enthusiasm attending the meeting of the National Livestock Association in Portland, the cattlemen of Oregon organized the first general association of the kind ever attempted in the state—the Oregon Cattlemen's Association.

This organization was effected in Portland Saturday night, and is well started for effective work in conjunction with other livestock associations in the state.

Every county in the state is represented in the organization and it will begin a campaign for the rights and privileges of the cattlemen of the state, through organized effort, along lines pursued by other like organizations, and hopes to help build up the cattle raising industry in the state, by securing better shipping regulations, better laws, better protection from thieves, disease and commission men.

The officers of the association are as follows: President, William Hanley, of Harney county; secretary, Grant Mays, of The Dalles; first vice-president, William Metcalf, of Ontario; second vice-president, C. F. Fulton, of Wasco county; treasurer, R. M. Stanfield, of Echo.

The executive committee consists of one member from every county in the state, but the president has not named all the members yet. Several important committees were appointed, among which were the following:

Stockyards—W. L. Gibson, of Malheur; S. W. Kilgore, of Klamath, and George W. Hunt, of Foster.

Transportation—R. M. Stanfield, of Echo; John Pelton, of Ashland, and Joe Combs, of John Day, Grant county.

Finance—William Wurtzweiler, of Prineville; R. M. Stanfield, of Echo, and William Jones, of Westfall, Malheur county.

Legislation—J. L. Siltz, of Harney county; F. W. Metcalf, of Ontario, and Pierce Mays, of Portland.

A sanitary committee is also provided for by the by-laws, but it was not considered necessary to appoint it as yet.

The board of control, consisting of the president, secretary and three members of the executive committee, is to direct the policy of the association. The board is: President, William Hanley; secretary, Grant Mays, and John Caviness, of Union county; W. L. Gibson, of Ontario, and George W. Owens, of Ashland.

Large Beetraiser.

J. L. Caviness, the most successful beetraiser in Grand Ronde valley, passed through last night on route home from the livestock convention at Portland. Mr. Caviness was well pleased with the result of the meeting and expressed his highest appreciation of the work accomplished. He believes that Umatilla county will equal, if not surpass Grand Ronde as a beet producing section.

Director of La Grande Bank.

Walter M. Pierce, of this city, was elected one of the directors of the Farmers' and Traders' National Bank of La Grande, at a meeting held on last Saturday.

WHITMAN WON CONTEST.

Takes Second Annual Oratorical Battle From the Oregon Team.

The Whitman oratorical team won the second oratorical contest from the Oregon University team, on Saturday night, at Eugene.

The question debated was, "Resolved, That the incorporation of the labor unions is desirable," with Oregon on the affirmative side.

The Oregon debaters were Herbert L. Moulton and Vernon Tomlinson, and those of Whitman were Edward D. Baldwin and Hezekiah Brown.

The contest was the most ably conducted debate ever listened to in the state university, and the Whitman people won on the grounds of having produced more proof and argument against the incorporation of the unions than Oregon advanced for the incorporation, and not by any natural oratorical ability.

The judges were Governor George E. Chamberlain, Robert Treat Platt and Judge Otto Kreamer, of Eugene.

OREGON IS FORTUNATE.

Cattle Conditions Are Much Better Than in California.

J. H. Gwinn, who spent several weeks in the central portion of California during the last illness of his father, says that Oregon cattlemen are in clover compared to California conditions.

In Tulare county Mr. Gwinn saw bands of cattle so poor that they could scarcely walk, and heard of several lots of stock cattle selling for $1 per head. These cattle were so poor that they would not stand the trip to be shipped out to where feed could be obtained. Some cattle were changing hands among local owners, and were being kept on scant ranges and straw stacks, in hopes that a rain would start enough grass to keep them alive until spring.

All through the central portion of California, the ranges and pastures are burned up, no rain having visited the country for months. The hay crop was a failure and in the absence of rain the winter range has failed so the situation is critical.

Stockmen from outside points are not buying much of this poor stock on account of the danger of losing heavily in shipping.

J. T. LIEUALLEN NOT GUILTY.

Says He Has No Ambition to Go to the Legislature From Umatilla County.

Adams, Jan. 18.—(To the Editor.)—In the Daily East Oregonian of January 15 you mentioned my name in connection with the nomination for the legislature on the democratic ticket.

In reply to this accusation, will say that I am not guilty, as charged. I may have been guilty of helping my friends to get nominations, in the past, but hope I may never be guilty of seeking a nomination myself. It is a pleasant privilege to help a friend, and one of the duties of citizenship to see that good men are nominated, but the school of politics that I attended taught that the office should seek the man, and not the man the office.

I am not a candidate for any place but am heartily pleased with those mentioned in your forecast, for the different democratic nominations, and will cheerfully help any of them to the offices they are nominated for.

Respectfully,
J. T. LIEUALLEN.

WOMEN PRAISE IT

There are thousands of women to-day praising the celebrated Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. When they were run down and in need of a health restorer and regulator they were persuaded to try the Bitters, with the result that they now enjoy perfect health. All sickly women should try it at once. Besides curing all female complaints, it is also unequalled for indigestion, dyspepsia, insomnia and constipation.
