OLESON WAS UNEASY.

Was Glad O. R. & N. Was on Time, for He is to Be Married.

O. Oleson, of Ashland, was in the city yesterday the guest of B. F. Scott. Mr. Oleson is the chief train dispatcher of the Southern Pacific at Ashland and is an old railroad friend of Mr. Scott. He is now on his way to Spokane, where he will wed Miss Pengra, one of the society ladies of that city.

Until he reached the city he was unaware of having to remain here over night to wait for train connections and it took all the persuasive powers of Mr. Scott to prevent his walking to the Washington city during the night.

He left for Spokane this morning praising the O. R. & N. for being on time once when it was to be desired.

COMMITTEE WILL MEET.

TWO FIRMS ASSIGN

FIRST NATIONAL BANK THE CREDITOR OF BOTH.

Sheep, Wool and Increase of Flocks, and Much Other Personal Property to Secure Total Indebtedness by One Firm of $11,362.43, and by the Other of $45,262—Action Grew Out of the Wade Involvement.

The sheep firm of Slusher & Gould and William Slusher, have filed chattel mortgages in the office of the county recorder, in favor of the First National Bank, for the aggregate sum of $56,624.43.

In the first instrument the firm of Slusher & Gould, consisting of W. M. Slusher and S. P. Gould, convey to the bank their right and title in 4-915 head of sheep, together with the wool and increase of flock, until the cancellation of the mortgage, together with all other personal property of whatever nature, owned by the firm in the county. The mortgage is given to secure the bank in the payment of five notes issued to it, when C. B. Wade was cashier, and will total $11,362.43.

The second instrument is given by W. M. Slusher to the bank to secure it in the payment of $45,262, due on five notes issued by the bank to him, the largest of which is for $18,364.20.

The paper transfers to the bank the title to all of the personal property of the mortgagor in this county, consisting of 6,000 head of breeding ewes, 5,000 lambs and 95 bucks, together with all other property of a personal nature, owned by the defendant, whether described in the document or not.

THE SOLDIER'S CREED.

"Captain, what do you think," I asked.

"Of the part your soldiers play"

The captain answered, "I do not think,—

I do not think, I obey."

"Do you think your conscience was meant to die,

And your brains to rot away?"

The captain answered, "I do not think,—

I do not think, I obey."

"Do you think you should shoot a patriot down

And help a tyrant slay?"

The captain answered, "I do not think,—

I do not think, I obey."

"Then, if this your soldier's code," I cried,

"You're a mean, unmanly crew;

And with all your feathers and gilt and braid,

I am more of a man than you."

"For whatever my lot on earth may be

And whether I swim or sink,

I can say with pride, I do not obey,

I do not obey, I think."—Ex.
