The Thursday Afternoon meets once in two weeks, Thursdays.
The Current Literature, alternate Fridays.
The Woman's Club meets the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month.

One of the brilliant events of the social season was the 11th annual reception of the Current Literature Club on Friday, at the home of Mrs. F. W. Vincent. About 75 guests participated. The hostess was ably assisted in receiving by Mrs. W. J. Furnish, Mrs. J. F. Robinson, Mrs. Skiles and Mrs. James Fee. The spacious parlors were tastefully decorated with ferns and palms and tall cut glass vases filled with carnations added beauty and fragrance to the scene. The color scheme in the dining room was of the club colors, purple and white, and was pleasing and effective. A large cut glass bowl filled with violets and lilies of the valley, the club flowers, composed the center piece, and smaller bowls of the same flowers were artistically arranged around. Directly above the table were purple and white streamers gracefully fastened in the corners of the room. Heavy curtains had been placed over the windows to exclude the daylight, while many candles shed their mellow light over all. Lyman's orchestra placed behind a screen of potted palms in the Oriental room, played dreamy music while the guests chatted over the dainty refreshments. Mrs. R. Alexander presided over the coffee urn, and Mrs. T. Starkweather poured tea. Mrs. Edwin Switzer, Mrs. F. Shoemaker and Mrs. Tatum assisting. A pretty feature of the afternoon was that of each member of the club wearing a carnation in commemoration of the anniversary of the birth, January 29, of the late William McKinley, our martyred president.

Miss Hazel Bickers rendered two piano numbers, Chopin's Etude No. 12, and Godhart's Waltz, in which she gave evidence of decided musical talent, and Miss Jessie Hartman sang with rare sweetness "The Song of the Heart," which completed the entertainment for the afternoon.

Thursday Afternoon Club.

"Elbert Hubbard and the Roycrofters," furnished an interesting subject for the members of the Thursday Afternoon Club, at the home of Mrs. Angus P. Nash, on Thursday. Roll-call was responded to with quotations from the "Orphic" of the Philistine. Mrs. C. F. Colesworthy, who was the essayist for the afternoon, read a bright and ably written paper on the career of Fra Albertus. The "History of Roycrofters" and "The Roycrofters at Home" were read by Mrs. B. S. Burroughs and Mrs. J. A. Owen, respectively. Mrs. J. E. Bean gave what is conceded by many to be the very best of Hubbard's writings, "The Credo," and "The Message to Garcia." A bright little member declared Hubbard to be a fad, while others brought press clippings to sustain them in their views of his greatness as a writer and much interesting discussion was indulged in. Refreshments were served.

The Renown of Grocery Excellence

Is built on a tripod of Quality, Prices and service.

While we do not claim to sell all groceries, at all times at lower prices than any other store, we do claim and DO meet all honest competition.

It is a common practice to offer a few items at cost or less, as a "bait" to attract a customer, and then is the opportunity to overcharge on other goods. That practice has never been followed at this store. It is a common practice to sell groceries of inferior grade for goods of good quality under pretense they are worth more money. That is not done here. There are other kinds of unfair if not dishonest, kinds of competition we do not try to meet. But when it is a matter of reliable groceries, honest weight, good service and fair treatment all round,

Then we are right in the Fight.

SOCIAL EVENTS OF THE WEEK

Concerning the People of Pendleton and Vicinity • Notes Personal and Otherwise • By Our Regular Correspondent

The spell has been broken and the nucleus for a leap year dancing party which has been so long talked of, has at last come forth as a reality. Quite a number of Pendleton ladies are now actively engaged in the arrangements for a leap year valentine party, to be given at Music hall, As St. Valentine's day falls on Sunday this year, Monday, February 15, has been selected as the day for celebrating the event.

Romping the Lancers.

A great many people do not dance the lancers nowadays, says the Pall Mall Gazette; they prance it. And the odd thing is that the higher you go in the social scale the more violence you find in this particular dance until you arrive at a level where it has to be left out of the ball program altogether. There are daughters of wealthy families who say that their dress money will not run to their dancing the lancers. Stripped with torn ribbon, odd bits of jewelry and fragments of lace or chiffon, many a ballroom floor has almost suggested a kind of battlefield when a set of lancers has been finished and the disheveled prancers have disappeared in search of the never-before-so-needed refreshments.

Parish Aid Social.

An enjoyable affair of the week was the social given by the ladies of the Parish Aid Society at the home of Mrs. Thomas G. Halley, Wednesday evening. A fine musical program of several numbers was carried out. Those who assisted in this part of the evening's program were Mrs. Ross Dickson, Miss Potwine, Miss Jessie Hartman, Miss Nellie Cameron, Rev. Potwine and Fred Hartman. Mrs. Halley was assisted by the ladies of the Parish Aid.

Pleasant Card Party.

Mrs. Clinton Roosevelt charmingly entertained a few friends Thursday evening at her home on Jackson street. The evening was merrily spent at cards, after which luncheon was served. Mrs. E. P. Marshall made the greatest number of progressions and was awarded the lady's prize. Thomas C. Warner carried off the honors among the gentlemen. Those who attended were: Messrs. and Mesdames G. A. Hartman, Norbourne Berkeley, Thomas C. Warner, E. P. Marshall, Ross Dickson, Frank Clifton, Mrs. J. A. Borie, Mrs. Frank Frazier and Mrs. William Shultz.

The Parvenu Society Program.

The Parvenu Literary and Debating Society of the Modern School of Commerce, met in regular session last evening. A well arranged program was rendered and the participants did credit to themselves and the school they represent. The numbers consisted of vocal and instrumental music, essay, declamation and debate. The question for debate was that a two-year course in a business college is better for the ordinary eighth grade student than a four-year high school course. The question was ably handled by the debaters, D. C. McKenzie, Bessie Winch and C. C. Conner. Mr. Conner, although alone, won the unanimous decision of the judges for the affirmative. The question for next Friday evening will be that the labor unions, as now conducted, are a benefit to the general public.

Birthday Anniversary Party.

A number of old-time friends of Mrs. A. W. Nye were invited to participate in the celebration of her birthday anniversary, Friday evening, at her home on Water street. The affair was a complete surprise, being cleverly arranged by her daughters, Mrs. William Shultz and Mrs. Lillian Macleay. Much amusement was afforded by a plan of the hostesses that each guest should give a description of their wedding gown. It was indeed interesting listening to various styles of gowns worn years ago. After this each was asked to guess the names of 20 different songs, hummed, or played on the piano. Mrs. N. E. Despain guessed the largest number correctly and was awarded first prize, the consolation prize falling to Mrs. Jesse Felling. One of the most pleasant features of the evening was the singing of Mrs. William Roesch, who has a lovely, sympathetic voice. After this, an elaborate collation was served and the guests departed wishing Mrs. Nye many happy returns of the day. Mrs. Nye was the recipient of many handsome presents from her friends. The invited list included Mesdames G. A. Hartman, Lot Livermore, Lee Moorhouse, W. Blakeley, W. C. LaDow, Reuben Alexander, Jesse Felling, T. M. Starkweather, N. E. Despain, M. A. La Dow, William Matlock, A. M. Raley, J. E. Bean, Cass Matlock, W. M. Beagle, James Turner, Susan Welch, Mary Dismore, S. P. Sturgia, William Roesch, Strahan, Kunzie, Bishop and Folsom.

Miss Roesch Entertained.

Miss Freda Roesch entertained a few friends very charmingly at cards Friday evening at her home on Lewis street. She was assisted by Miss Effie Jean Frazier in the entertainment of her guests. The others sharing the evening's pleasures were Misses Hazel Bickers, Eleanor and Constance Despain, Messrs. Dan Smythe, Ernest Ruppe, Charley Myers and Fred Schmeer.

Entertained at "Pit."

Miss Maude Crawford entertained a few friends at her home last evening with the new and delightful game of "pit." After the various commodities on the fancied market had been cornered and bought up by the enthusiastic players, the rest of the evening was passed with music and social chat, a dainty luncheon being served before the guests returned to their homes.

Another Birthday Party.

Last evening about 29 of the little friends of Gertrude Fitz Gerald met at the home of Judge Fitz Gerald to celebrate the 14th anniversary of the birth of their hostess. The party was a surprise to Miss Gertrude, who had not been told by the invaders of their intention until they stormed the house. The evening was pleasantly spent with music and games and late in the evening refreshments were served.

Personal and Social Notes.

Mrs. A. M. Nye entertained a few friends at whist Tuesday evening.

Mrs. J. A. Borie was hostess this week for the Wednesday Whist Club.

The Monday Whist Club met at the home of Mrs. Jack Robinson, of Jackson street.

Miss Anna Bracken, of Walla Walla, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Charles Ferguson.

Misses Lulu and Grace Hager, of Heppner, are the guests of their aunt, Mrs. McPaul, of Johnson street.

Miss Floy Wells, of Meacham, who has been the guest of her sister Mrs. Dr. Henderson, left for her home Thursday.

Mrs. Frank Wamsley left today for Walla Walla to visit her mother for a few days, prior to leaving for Portland, her future home.

Miss Mildred Berkeley will be hostess tonight from 7 until 10, to a number of her friends. The event is in celebration of her 10th birthday anniversary.

Mrs. A. Kunkel, who has been seriously ill at the hospital the past few weeks, has sufficiently recovered to be removed to her home on Jackson street.

Mrs. J. P. Jones, of Walla Walla, who has been the guest of her son, Norval Jones, returned home this morning, accompanied by Mrs. Norval Jones and baby.

Miss Bertha Matlock, who has been visiting in the city the past month, the guest of her sisters, Mrs. Thomas Avers and Mrs. Eugene Vaughn, will return home tomorrow.

GRIP CONVALESCENCE.

There's nothing better than Scott's Emulsion after the grip. When the fever is gone the body is left weak and exhausted; the nervous system is completely run down and vitality is low.

Two things to do: give strength to the whole body and new force to the nerves. Scott's Emulsion will do it; contains just what the worn-out system needs.

Rich blood, healthy flesh, resistive force, more and better nourishment are what Scott's Emulsion supplies to the convalescent.

We'll send you a sample free upon request. SCOTT & BOWNE, 435 Pearl Street, New York.

All persons knowing themselves to be indebted to me will call and settle their accounts as I need the money.

Additions to School Board.

L. E. Roy has been appointed a member of the school board in district No. 1, vice E. F. Beitel, resigned. Mr. Roy has been long identified with the school work in this district, having been a member for several years, when a fight was made on his re-election a few months ago, which resulted in his defeat. His addition to the board will give it strength and insure painstaking effort along educational lines.—Pilot Rock Record.

Cattle Sold Well.

C. J. Johnson returned Saturday from Oroville, Cal., where he sold 738 head of cattle during the past two months. The bunch was made up of yearlings and 2-year-olds and a few cows and the entire number brought $21 per head.—Crook County Journal.

Adams Man Goes to Valley.

J. M. Bentley was a visitor at Adams today, having gone there to sell at public auction the effects of E. H. Conner, who will leave in a short time for his former home in the valley.
