Their Mother, Who Had Eloped and Dispuised Them Died at Echo and Her Paramour Deserted the Children-The Father Recognized Them at a Chance Meeting in This Place -He is Married and Lives in

A strange case came to light last Saturday afternoon when Fred Marshall, a teamster in the employ of Collier, the fuel man, found his two daughters, Bessle and Edna, Lamsdorff a long note referring to who had been kidnapped from his the situation in the far east, in home in Boise over three years ago. had gone into the Alexander Department Store and there discovere-ed the little girls in the care of Mrs. Cook, the daughter of Rev. G. W. Rigby, who had taken them when their mother died over a year ago at Echo.

The history of the case is a culiar one. Over three years ago Mr. Marshall was living with his wife 'n Bolse, when she eloped with a man named Dan Clifford, taking the children with them. Although Mr. Mar-shall made every effort to find them he could not get trace of the fugitives, and at last came to this part of the country, where he has since lived

About a year ago Mr. Rigby was called to Echo to attend the funeral of a woman who had died with typhoid fever, and found there were two children left by her called .om and Dick. One of them was taken down with the fever and it was then discovered by the neighbors that the little sufferer was a girl. Feeling sorry for the child. Mrs. Cook, who resides in the vicinity of Pendleton, on a ranch, sent for the girl and has since cared for her as

CASH AND TARGETS FOR TOURNAMENT

LOCAL SPORTSMEN HOPE TO SECURE JUNE EVENT

Will Begin an Active Campaign for Eight Hundred Dollars Cash and Targets at Three Cents Each-Will Be a Great Event.

At a meeting of the Pendleton Sportsmen's Association held in the council chambers last Saturday evening, it was decided to offer to the board of directors of the Northwest Association a purse of $800 id-ded money and targets at 2 cents the Northwest tournament, for the latter part of June,

This will be the largest purse of-fered for the shoot in the history of the asociation, and it is thought safe to say that the board will decide on this city as the place of the next tournament.

The local association will not ask the merchants for money to make up the purse, but will raise the amount by the advertising space in their program, which will be a very pretty souvenir of the time, and by other plans which will give value re-ceived to those who help them in their efforts to bring the meeting

The exact date of the tournament is not decided, but will be set by the local association which gets the meeting. If it comes to this city it is probable that the time will be set for the latter part of June

Ferguson. the present gener I manager of the Woolen Mills. The consideration

This stock, in addition to the stock held by T. W. Ayres, Sr. which was purchased by Mr. Ferguson at the same time, makes him the largest holder of Woolen Mill stock with the exception of E. Y. Judd.

Mr. Ferguson will continue to act as general manager of the Woolen Mills Company, and will start up the plant again on March 1, as announced a few days ago Mr. Ferguson has been manager of the mills since Mr. Ferguson has been general manager of the mills since May 1, 1902, and to his careful and able di-rection is largely one the increasing business and southern business and popularity of this in-stitution. Pendleton blankets have heen introduced into every corner of the globe, with flattering returns to the management, and the future of the mills is more promising if pos sible, than the past. Since Mr. Ferguson became man-ager, the business of the mills has widened until New England yachts, Pullman sleepers, private cars most every state, Alaskan bunks and bedrooms, Japanese French boudoirs, Russian cosy corners, Spanish piazzas and thousands of American homes have been supplied with Pendieton Indian robes, and the fame of the city and the in-stitution has been carried to every quarter of the world. The repairs on the engine are now being made and all will be in readmess by March 1.

The first task to complete upon starting up again is to finish the axhibit being prepared for the World's Fale at St. Louis, which will be an independent display, but will join
