OREGON SHEEPMEN MUST CLASSIFY WOOL AT THE SHEARING PENS

"A subject of great interest to sheepmen is the preparing of wool for market," says C. H. Harding, a wool manufacturer of Philadelphia. In an address which has attracted a great deal of attention in the northwest. "When first I began to handle wool for combing purposes the rule was generally stated and carefully observed that whatever came off a sheep in handling him under the shears must be wrapped in the fleece and go to market with it. "It is not to the rigid enforcement of this principle, but rather to accident that I attribute the thousands of 'finds' that have come to notice in opening fleeces — unwashed pieces from unwashed fleeces, and frequently of entirely different quality, old shoes, overalls, brickbats, pieces of harness, cobble stones, shears and cow bells. The principle still seems to obtain that fleeces must be so put up that they must carry the sheep's whole wardrobe and perhaps some of his surroundings.

"In fact, we are on the level of the growers of Morocco, Tibet, Turkey and China, with one exception. These countries being largely under the commercial influence of England, have followed, more or less, her practices in putting up the individual fleece and so they are free from the singular confusion of ideas that prevail.

"The value of wool, from a manufacturer's standpoint, is the worth for his purpose of a scoured pound of the article he uses; what he may pay for the pound in the grease is a secondary matter. And this raises a most important question as to what can be done at the place of shearing in the way of classifying wool for market. If, indeed, you can do anything in this country.

"It has been suggested that we examine the method in use in Australia, which has also been adopted in South America, without being there carried into such minute detail. The governing principle is that the average price realized for a properly classified clip is always more than the price it would bring in bulk, plus the cost of classing at the shearing floor, and I thoroughly believe the same will be the case here when once we pass the experimental stage.

"And now we return to the question of what is possible and likely to prove profitable here. The points to be considered are: First, can wool be put up at the shearing point in such shape that mills buying in lots of 25,000 or 50,000 pounds can get the thing wanted? Now, they must buy here mostly in bulk and chance the disposal of the unsuitable (however good it may be for some other mill) or they must buy from the Eastern wool house.

"And it seems perfectly possible that the gray and black, the bellies and loose locks, the heavy tags, might be taken out, packed and branded, separately. Then it might do to take off the coarse part lying on the hips and shanks of each fleece, sometimes a very small part, and pack separately as 'skirts.' The fine and medium, together or separately could be divided into 'combing' and 'clothing,' putting into the former only the sound fleeces with two inches or more of length of staple. The medium and low medium, together or separately, could be divided in the same way, making three (3) inches the dividing line between combing and clothing.

Quality, Name and Ranch. "Branding the bales with the quality, the name and ranch name of the grower, you have something ready for a market that could take much of it 'as is,' and at its value to the mill, if the mills could be put in touch with your market place. But no plan conceived will put all the wool marketed, into all the mills that may use it, so as to turn it into cash on any particular date or any one season of the year.

"There will be mistakes and disappointments, and some failures, in the trials of any new plan like this over so wide an area, by so many different men, but the fact of its continued success elsewhere is guarantee of like success here, when you shall try it with earnest, patient persistence. And if the next 30 years shall witness a progress in your methods at all comparable to your progress in the last 30 years in other matters pertaining to the wool clip, its history will be second to that in no other country in the world."

GOOD ROADS MOVEMENT.

Eastern States Spend Enormous Sums on Wagon Roads.

Four states, New York, Massachusetts, New Jersey and Connecticut, have in the past 10 years spent about $10,000,000 as state aid for building wagon roads. About $6,000,000 has been added to this sum by the counties and towns where the state roads were built, and about 2,500 miles of state roads have been completed in these four states.

Pennsylvania last year appropriated $6,500,000 for the building of state roads. Wherever state roads have been built the selling price of farm lands has been increased from 20 per cent to 50 per cent, and even more in some cases. The 2,500 miles of state road already built have been of such benefit to the farmer that they have caused a great demand for more good road.

Five states found it good to aid in the building of wagon roads by state appropriations. Why should not the national government aid in building roads in every state of the union? Congressman Brownlow of Tennessee has answered this question by introducing in congress a bill appropriating $24,000,000 as national aid for building wagon roads.

This sum is available at the rate of $8,000,000 a year for three years, and is distributed to each state according to its population, except that no state shall receive less than $250,000.

The states or counties receiving this money must add a like amount. This appropriation will build between 6,000 and 7,000 miles of splendid national road in each state of the union. It seems to many farmers that it is time for the national government to aid them, and they hope the bill will become a law.

Bright's Disease and Diabetes News.

To the People of Pendleton: As San Francisco druggists personally acquainted with the facts we are asked to certify to you the curability of chronic Bright's Disease and Diabetes, and however unreasonable it may seem to you, yet such is the fact. Up to a year ago we never heard of a genuine case of chronic Bright's Disease or Diabetes recovering. Now it is a common occurrence in this city. A great discovery has undoubtedly been made. Many prominent people here have recovered and every one of us whose names are appended hereto have either had recoveries among our customers or have genuine chronic cases now recovering. And the percentage of efficiency seems to be very high, for there are very few failures. Yours, etc.,

STRONG TESTIMONY.

This is Pendleton Testimony and Will Stand Investigation.

If you should doubt the following and wish to investigate, you haven't to go to some other state in the union to prove it. It's not a long story published in Pendleton newspapers about a resident in Kalamazoo, Mich., or Tampa, Fla. It's about a resident of Pendleton and given in his own words. No stronger proof can be had. H. A. Thompson, retired, who lives on Stonewall Jackson street, says: "My kidneys troubled me by spells for 10 years and at such times with a steady dull aching across my back. I used large quantities of various kinds of medicines said to be good for it, but they never benefited me enough so that I could notice it. Finally I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at the Brock & McComas Co. drug store and I found them to be just what I needed. They went right to the spot and not only relieved my backache, but cured it permanently. I will be only too pleased to tell others about the merits of this remedy."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents per box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—DOAN'S—and take no other.

NATURE SPARES

The Stricken Rose From Grief.

What a fortunate provision of nature it is, that deprives the rose of mental suffering; for how poignant would be its grief to discover, in the height of its blooming glory, that a canker fed at its heart, and that its beauty and fragrance were doomed forever. Nature always spares the suffering; she is a veritable store-house of pleasing rewards, for those who seek her aid. In the years gone by falling hair and grayness have cast a gloom over the lives of thousands of young women, but thanks to the investigations of scientists the true cause of hair destruction is now known to be a germ or parasite that burrows into the hair follicles. Newbro's Herpicide absolutely destroys this germ, thus permitting the hair to grow as nature intended. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. F. W. Schmidt, special agent.
