Choose the Way.

There's a way to the right and a way to the wrong. A way for the weak and a way for the strong—

Two ways that forever at each day's dawn Are present for men to go trudging on.

One way is the way where, in many a row, Stand the trees upon which the forbidden fruits grow.

And one leads along through the carous of the day Where duty goes calling and calling away.

The way to the right and the way to the wrong Diverge at the start, nor the weak nor the strong, Nor the pitiful slave nor the monarch sublime May travel both ways at the selfsame time.

Heroes and Heroines.

We give unstinted praise to the man Who is brave enough to die; But the man who struggles unflinchingly Against the currents of destiny And bears the storm of adversity We praise unnoticed by.

We've plaudits and tears for him who falls, Borne down in the shock of strife, But a word of cheer we neglect to say To him who plods on his dreary way And fights in silence from day to day The unseen battles of life.

There's courage, I grant, required to face Grim death on the gory field; There's also courage required to meet Life's burden and sorrow, to brave defeat, To strive with evil and not retreat, To suffer and not to yield.

Some moments are there in every life When the spirit lingers for rest, When the heart is filled with a bleak despair,

When the weight of trouble, remorse and care Seems really greater than we can bear And death were a welcome guest.

But we crush it down and we go our way To the duties that lie in wait; From day to day we renew the fight, To resist the wrong and to seek the right, To climb at last to the sun crowned height And to imbibe o'er time and fate.

And thus—for my heart goes out to them— My need of praise I would give To those who struggle life's path along, The host of toil, who are patient, strong, The unrewarded, unnumbered throng Who are brave enough to live.

The Opulence of Content.

I am not rich in heaps of yellow gold, But when the bubbling bobolink has told His dreaming of the twilight in the morn My heart o'erflows, so much of joy I hold.

I am not clothed in scarlet robes of kings, But when the crimson cardinal so sings That song and raiment flash at once on me, I have the ermine sweet without the stings.

Not mine the learning of some men that are, But when I bear a lambkin from afar Bleating and save it from the pit my joy Is great as I had found an unknown star.

I have not castles, lands nor gems of art; But not for these would I my treasures part, Content enough to fill my soul with peace, An overflow of gladness for my heart.

LUMBER TRADE DULL

OUTPUT OF COAST MILLS GREATLY REDUCED.

Difficulty with Employes and Loggers Said to be at the Bottom of the Difficulty—Shingle Output of the Sound is Also Reduced—Stock Shipments Will be Heavy.

Owing to a difficulty between the sawmill men and employes on the coast, at different points, the brisk lumber shipments over the O. R. & N. have declined, until, for the first time in the history of the road empty cars are being hauled eastward.

These cars have been sent west loaded with coal, machinery, merchandise and other commodities and have heretofore been sent eastward loaded with lumber for the central and Rocky mountain states.

Gradually, this winter, these shipments have declined, as the mills reduced their output, through difficulty with loggers and employes, until they have reached the lowest ebb in the history of the road, and many empty cars are being sent east to be loaded with westbound freight.

The west bound business of the company is heavier this winter than ever, and is a standing tribute to the good management and alacrity of the officials, in hunting trade.

The shingle mills of the Puget Sound districts are also in difficulty with their employes and over half of the big mills have shut down, awaiting for the slight overproduction on the market to become dissipated, before starting up again.

Fully one-half of the shingle output of the Sound comes by way of the O. R. & N. to the markets of Utah, Idaho, Wyoming and Nebraska, and this shortage of shingles also affects trade just at the present. The company looks for the heaviest stock movement in the history of the road, this spring. The ranges are congested badly all over the west, and the cars will soon be needed in the stock movement.

EAST OREGONIAN UNKNOWN NUMBER GUESSING CONTEST

Every Subscriber to Have an Opportunity to Guess on a $100 Rubber Tired Buggy

As an Expression of Our Good Will Toward our Subscribers and to Increase our Subscription List

We Will Give Away, Absolutely Free, a Cushion-Tire Buggy, now on Exhibition in the Show Window of the A. Kunkel & Co. Implement House, Two Doors South of the East Oregonian Building.

The East Oregonian has purchased from the A. Kunkel Implement Co. a $100 cushion tire buggy. It is a beauty, strong, servicable and well finished.

Each receipt for $1.50 for the Daily, Weekly or Semi-weekly East Oregonian, to any address, the person to whom the receipt is issued, will be given an opportunity, absolutely without cost, to have a guess at the unknown number, and the person or persons guessing nearest that number will receive as a present and without any compensation whatever, and merely as an expression of good will on the part of the East Oregonian toward its subscribers, the $100 cushion tire buggy advertised in this paper and on exhibition at A. Kunkel & Co's. Implement house two doors south of the East Oregonian building.

How to Participate. Each receipt for $1.50 for the Daily, Weekly or Semi-weekly East Oregonian, to any address, the person to whom the receipt is issued, will be given an opportunity, absolutely without cost, to have a guess at the unknown number, and the person or persons guessing nearest that number will receive as a present and without any compensation whatever, and merely as an expression of good will on the part of the East Oregonian toward its subscribers, the $100 cushion tire buggy advertised in this paper and on exhibition at A. Kunkel & Co's. Implement house two doors south of the East Oregonian building.

No commission is allowed to any agent or solicitor for securing subscribers under this offer, and the person so subscribing does it with the understanding that the East Oregonian is accepted as payment in full for the money paid.

Monday, January 18, the following committee of business men met at the office of the East Oregonian and formed the unknown number that will get the $100 rubber-tired buggy. The committee consisted of M. A.

Rader, the furniture man, E. T. Wade, the real estate dealer, G. A. Robbins, proprietor of the Owl Tea House, Glenn Winslow the jeweler, and A. Kunkel, the implement man.

Ten numbers from one to naught were cut from a calendar. These numbers were sealed up in 10 different envelopes by the committee. The 10 envelopes were placed in a hat and thoroughly shuffled and shaken. Three members of the committee then took out one envelope each, which were marked one, two, three, in the order in which they were taken out.

These three envelopes were then placed in a larger envelope and sealed and a wax seal placed on the flap and delivered to the chairman of the committee, M. A. Rader, to keep until the day the buggy will be drawn. The remaining seven envelopes containing the other numbers were then burned in the presence of the committee, thus insuring an absolutely unknown number.

Each and every one of the committee was thoroughly satisfied with the absolute fairness of the method of selecting the unknown number, and signed the following statement: "We, the undersigned, were present at the East Oregonian office Monday afternoon, January the 18th, and assisted in forming the unknown number according to the plan published, to be used in the East Oregonian guessing contest."

Under the rules of forming the number, it is impossible for anyone, not even the members of this committee, the publishers of the East Oregonian, or anyone else to know what the number is. (Signed.) E. T. WADE, A. KUNKEI, M. A. RADER, GLENN WINSLOW, G. A. ROBBINS.

Upon the day when the envelope is to be opened and the buggy awarded to the person guessing nearest to the number, the numbers will be assembled in the order in which the envelopes are marked. It may be as low a number as 012 or as high as 987. As a matter of course, it must be three different figures, as no figure was used twice. Somebody will get a splendid $100 present when the 975 receipts have been given out. The unknown numbers will be formed by putting together the three numbers in the order as marked, one, two, three, on the envelopes on which they are contained. The unknown number will not be assembled until the guessing contest is completed, hence no one will know what it is to be until it is publicly announced to subscribers.

Limited Competition. The number of receipts issued in this contest will be limited to the number of guesses possible in the range of the numbers between 012 and 987, as the unknown number must be composed of a figure within those limits. The unknown number cannot be less than 012 nor more than 987.

To be a perfectly fair and legitimate guessing contest the number to be guessed at must be and remain absolutely unknown. There must be no chance for the East Oregonian, the committee, or any subscriber to know the number and this plan will insure that result.

The receipts for this guessing contest will be numbered in duplicate, but the stub will be only for the purpose of identifying the subscriber who is the successful guesser—each subscriber writing the guess number on the back of his receipt—each one making his or her own guess at the unknown number. As soon as the receipts are all sold the guessing contest will be over and the nearest number awarded the buggy.

How the Guesses are Made. On securing a receipt for $1.50 the person wishing to guess will write his guess on the back of the receipt in ink or indelible pencil, writing only one guess on each receipt, and depositing the same in the sealed ballot box provided at the East Oregonian office for that purpose. Subscribers out of town will be allowed to make their guess in the same manner, and send the same in a sealed envelope plainly marked "East Oregonian Guessing Contest," and they will be deposited in the box. The seals on the box will not be broken until all the receipts in the guessing contest are sold—975 receipts in all. Subscribers can get their receipts any time after the committee has met and drawn the three numbers which will give the lucky holder of the receipt with the same number the buggy.
