SCHOOL PROGRAMS

MATCHED GAMES, DEBATES AND PROGRAMS ARRANGED.

Freshmen, Sophomores, High School and Lower Grades Will Meet in Intellectual and Physical Contest—Possibility of Basket Ball Game Between Willamette University and Pendleton.

The public schools are on the eve of a busy time in the literary and debating line. Programs have been arranged for several evenings, which promise to be very interesting and with which a great deal of pains have been taken.

On the evening of February 9 the eighth grade and the sophomores of the high school will have a debate in the assembly hall, the subject of which will be announced later.

February 12 in the evening the eighth grade will have the hall for a program of a literary and musical nature, which promise to be quite interesting.

The freshmen and sophomores will meet on the evening of the 16th for a debate.

The basket ball girls will have a Japanese social on the evening of the 19th. This event will be one of the social affairs of the school year, and is looked to with a great deal of expectation by the pupils. The young ladies of the school are taking great pains to make it a success and undoubtedly will be able to realize their ambition.

The boys' basket ball team of the Academy, will meet to settle their differences on February 23, in the evening. This game is of some importance, as it will practically settle the championship of the interscholastic teams of this part of the state.

The regular high school program which was postponed this week, will be presented on the evening of February 26th.

Willamette vs. Pendleton.

The management of the girls' basket ball team of the high school, have received a challenge from the team of the Willamette University for a game to be played in the near future, but as yet no action has been taken in regard to it. Owing to the great expense it is hard for a team to be promised a game by the high school, as it would be hard to make enough to cover the cost of transportation.

The Willamette University team is contemplating a tour of the Northwest, and would like to play in Portland, Spokane, Tacoma, Walla Walla, Baker City and Pendleton. It is thought that the Pendleton team would be able to promise the valley girls a game if they could get them here from Walla Walla. The expense would be comparatively light from that place to Pendleton, and could be covered by the gate receipts. If the Willamette girls so arrange their itinerary that they will reach this city from Walla Walla, a game may be reached.

SOCIAL EVENTS OF THE WEEK

Concerning the People of Pendleton and Vicinity • Notes Personal and Otherwise • By Our Regular Correspondent

While our Eastern cousins are watching the mercury descend to the awful depths of 18 or 20 degrees below zero, and enjoying winter sports and festivities, Pendleton people are basking in the glad sunshine. The robins have begun to return to their accustomed places and there are days that are so much like spring that at times they cause us to forget it is but the fore part of February. While the winter has been a very short one, the opinion prevails that it has been equally dull socially; but when its gaieties are recounted, there have been many social doings although none on as an elaborate scale as some of last winter's functions. The small and informal affairs seem to be growing more steadily in favor.

Then and Now.

The contrast between the American magazines of 50 years ago and those of today is so marked that it will impress the most careless reader. Take a bound volume of Putnam's Magazine from the shelves of a public library, free it from its layer of dust, turn its yellow pages, and lo, you are confronted with some of the most famous names in the literature of the 19th century. Contrast this treasure of wit, humor, pathos and sentiment—embodied in the clearest of English prose, in the most musical of English verse—with the current number of a magazine of today, and the unfavorable gulf set between the two periods will at once be apparent. The great names of literature have given place to those of men and women who have gained a passing notoriety through good or bad fortune.

Miss Hartman Entertained at Cards.

A pretty card party of the week, at which Miss Jessie Hartman was the charming hostess, was given Tuesday evening at the home of her parents, on East Water street. Miss Blanch Horn being the honored guest. Progressive pedro was played. The highest score resulted in a tie between Miss Nellie Cameron and Lachlan Macleay, the latter proving the most successful in cutting for it. The invited list included Misses Nellie Cameron, Esma Sawtell, Winnie Privett, Eldena Hendley, Ethel Johnson, Eva Froome, Freda Roesch, Bertha Alexander, Eleanor and Constance Despain, Hazel Bickers, Mr. and Mrs. Macleay, Messrs. Fred Lampkin, Ralph Wade, Al Waffle, Fred Earl, Harry Thompson, Win Stewart, Charley Meyers, Dan Smythe, Roy Ritner, Charles Sampson, George Hartman, William Keller, Berkley Halley, Ben Burroughs, Charley Cameron, Fred Hartman, Earl Borie, Oliver Kelsey, Royal Sawtell, Charles Marsh, Mark Moorhouse and Will Sturgis.

Dinner and Card Party.

Mrs. Sam Thompson entertained a few friends at dinner on Wednesday in honor of Misses Lulu and Grace Hager, of Heppner. In the evening a few of the young people were invited to play pit. Those present were Misses Jessie Hartman, Bertha Alexander, Nellie Cameron and Edie Jean Frazier; Messrs. Win Stewart, William Keller, Fred Lampkin, Fred Hartman, Charles and Fred Bell.

A Series of Parties.

Mrs. Louis Hanzlker gave the first of a series of parties on last Saturday to a number of the young people. The second one was given Thursday afternoon to about 35 of her older married lady friends. The afternoon was spent very pleasantly in a guessing contest, after which light refreshments were served. On Tuesday evening of next week Mrs. Hanzlker will give the third party. To this the young people will be invited.

Progressive Pit Party.

Mrs. Clarence Penland entertained a few friends Thursday evening in honor of Miss Blanch Horn. Progressive pit was played, Fred Lampkin being the most successful player in cornering the pit, won first prize, Ralph Wade winning the consolation prize. The invited list included Misses Ethel Johnson, Eldena Hendley, Nellie Cameron, Esma Sawtell, Amy Mathews, Jessie Hartman; Messrs. Charles and Bert Bell, Mark Moorhouse, Ralph Wade, Royal Sawtell, Fred Lampkin, Harry Thompson, Roy Ritner, Charley Cameron, Roy Penland, Fred Earl and Ben Burroughs.

Miss Van Orsdall Entertained.

Miss Carol Van Orsdall entertained a number of her friends at her home on Monday evening. Music and games were the evening's entertainment, after which refreshments were served. Those present were: Edith Johnson, Josephine Cameron, Rachel Vogel, May Taylor, Mable Johnson, Laura Wyrick, Pearl Harbir, Clara Boylen, Clara Wilkinson, Fred Kees, Elmer Story, Clarence Bollerman, Glen Johnson, Newton Johnson, William Cameron, Earl Symons, Frank Pierce, Fordie Taylor.

Menzies-Swaggart.

One of the prettiest weddings of the new year took place at the Church of the Redeemer, Wednesday evening, February 3, at 8:30 o'clock, when Miss Maude Rosalinde Swaggart was united in marriage to Mr. Gordon Menzies, of Walla Walla, Wash. The church was beautifully decorated with palms, carnations and ferns. Long before the appointed hour the church was filled with friends of the contracting parties.

The Lohengrin wedding march was played by Mrs. W. C. E. Pruitt and during the impressive service, "O, Promise Me" was softly rendered. The beautiful ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. E. Potwine.

The bride looked very beautiful and was a winsome picture in a gown of cream silk organdy over white silk, en train. The white Gainsborough hat added much to the effect. The bride carried a shower bouquet of white carnations and maidenhair fern from which hung long sprays of smilax. She was given in marriage by her father, B. F. Swaggart. The maid of honor, Miss Ethel Swaggart, sister of the bride, was becomingly attired in turquoise blue argandy with white trimmings, and a white picture hat. She carried a princess bouquet of pink carnations.

Mr. Harry McBride, of Weston, acted as best man, and the ushers were Mr. Wesley Matlock and Mr. Arnold Scheurman.

Immediately after the ceremony, the bridal party was driven to the home of the bride's parents, where a reception was held.

The gifts were beautiful and numerous.

The contracting parties are wide and favorably known. The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Swaggart. She is a graduate of the E. O. S. N. S., Weston, Ore., class of 1902.

The groom is a popular conductor on the O. R. & N. The happy couple left on the midnight train for a two months' tour of Oregon, Washington and California. They will be at home to friends at the Dacros hotel, Walla Walla, after April 1.

A Surprise Party.

Miss Fay Gibson was the victim of a surprise party last evening, when a party of about 36 of her friends walked in on her at her home. Different games were played throughout the evening after which light refreshments were served. Those who formed the party were Mabel Cameron, Nona Johnson, Eleanor Vincent, Lucile Rader, Uma Vogle, Audry Rust, Hazel Rader, Jessie Folsom, Una Smith, Edna Story, Gertrude Jordan, Hazel and Flora Sheek, Bessie Marsh, Florence Davis, Alice Lang, Maud McCarthy, Hazel Berkeley, Maggie Ogle, Della Danner, Harold J. Warner, Ralph Bollerman, William Bollons, Andrew Bollons, Donald Rader, Walter Creswell, Fordie Taylor, William Lang, Nathan Wells, Clint Buzan, Glen Sturdevant, Max Hopper, John and Brook Dickson and Sherman Kunkel.

Personal and Social Notes.

Mrs. W. E. C. Prunett will entertain one day next week at a musical.

Mrs. A. D. Stillman entertained a few ladies at cards on Monday evening.

Miss Rena Ferguson is confined to her home with a severe attack of the grip.

Miss Lavelle Florence is quite seriously ill at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Thomas Ayers.

Kathleen and Eldon Furnish have issued invitations for a party at their home, Friday evening, February 12, at 7 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Lachlan Macleay left on Wednesday evening for Elensburg, and from there they will go to their home at Tacoma.

Mrs. Victor A. Chastain, of Milton, grand chief of the Rathbone Sisters of the state of Oregon, is the guest of Mrs. J. W. Maloney.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Lyons entertained Dr. S. M. Martin, Rev. N. H. Brooks and W. H. Hawley at dinner on Friday afternoon at their home.

Misses Lulu and Grace Hager, of Heppner, who have been visiting their aunt, Mrs. Dr. McPaul, for the past few weeks, left for their home today.

Invitations have been received by many in this city, to a dancing party at Walla Walla on February 10th, to be given by the Married Peoples' Club for the officers and ladies of the garrison.

Miss Jessie Smith entertained a number of her young friends at her home on Johnson street, Thursday evening. The game of pit was the order of the evening, intermingled with instrumental and vocal music.

Journal Representative Here.

H. W. Brooks, a representative of the Oregon Daily Journal, arrived in the city this morning from La Grande and other Eastern Oregon towns. Mr. Brooks has found the Journal to be constantly growing in popularity and circulation in every place he has visited. In most of the towns of Eastern Oregon it has a larger list of daily subscribers than the Telegram and Oregonian combined and the train sales are phenomenal. He will remain in Pendleton for several days.

Miss Conklin Has Returned. Miss Lucretia Conklin has returned from a visit to the home of her father in Earlville, Ill., where she was called by his serious illness.

She found her father much better than she had expected from the telegrams she had received, and left him recovering his health.

Grand Chief Chastain.

Mrs. V. A. Chastain, the grand chief of the Rathbone Sisters, met with the Damona lodge of this city last night for her regular visit of inspection. After the meeting a reception was tendered the visiting officer at the hall. Mrs. Chastain returned to her home in Milton this morning.

Returned From California.

Sam Pelsor, who has charge of the grocery department of the Alexander store, has returned from a trip to San Francisco and other California points, where he has been spending a vacation of several weeks.

The Oregon food commissioner has placed the ban on jellies made by Gertz Brothers, of San Francisco, and grocers handling the same will be prosecuted. The stuff does not contain the ingredients advertised in the formula.
