M'RAE COMBINED

GOOD PROGRESS BEING MADE BY THE INVENTOR.

His Contrivance Has Some Points of Superiority Over Any Combined Now Made, Being of Lighter Draft, More Simple and Also Economical—Expected to Revolutionize the Industry.

Alex McRae has received the preliminary papers and drawings from the patent office at Washington, preparatory to granting him a patent on his combined harvester upon which he has been working for the past two years. After they have been verified by the inventor and signed by him they will be returned to the department.

Mr. McRae is very proud of the new machine and has great hopes for it. During the next year he will build one or two and put them in operation, and after they have been demonstrated to be a success, he will begin the construction on a large scale.

The chief points of improvement in the machine are its lightness of running, its simplicity of construction, and saving of waste in threshing.

The apron system of the old machines is done away with and the straw, grain and chaff is thrown on to the rattle-rakes as soon as it leaves the cylinder, and the separating begins. There are also three small fans instead of one, and the grain is treated to three distinct blasts of air in its passage to the sacking machine.

By a special mechanism the grain is thrown against a screen at the tall end, thus saving the waste when the extra speed of the machine causes the fans to overwork, as they do in the machines now in use.

Altogether, there are many improvements which are destined to change the combine construction in the future.

BUSINESS CHANGE.

Shift Made in the Umatilla Implement Company Firm.

Fred Webber, an old resident of this city, has bought the Pendleton branch of the Umatilla Implement Company and is now in charge of the store, all of the invoicing having been completed and the deal consummated.

E. P. Marshall and Alex McRae, the former proprietors, still own the branch houses at Helix and Athena, and will run them in the future. Mr. McRae after remaining here long enough to oversee the construction of one of his new harvesters, will move to Athena, where he will resume charge of the business there. Mr. Marshall will remain here, having so many other interests outside of the implement business that he will enter into no new venture, for a time at least.

Visitors From Baker City.

Mrs. Colbert Gale and daughter, of Baker City, are in the city for a short visit with Mrs. Gale's sister-in-law, Mrs. William Hoseason. The visitors are on their way to North Yakima, where they will be the guests of a brother for a short time.

CHANGE THE TIME

BALANCE OF EVIDENCE IN FAVOR OF THE CHANGE.

Would Accommodate Many People From as Far Away as Adams, as They Can Get a Better Combination on Their County and Private Business Transactions.

The interest in the changing of the time for the arrival of the Walla Walla mixed train in this city has not died down in any degree, and the merchants and business men are awaiting the decision of the railroad officials anxiously.

Mayor Matlock.

Mayor Matlock in speaking of the change, said that he thought it would be a good thing, though personally it would make no difference to him. It might be, however, that the railroad would have things to contend with that would preclude the idea of their making a change. If it were not too inconvenient for them, it would be better for the town.

C. E. Roosevelt.

C. E. Roosevelt, of the Boston Store, wants the train to arrive at an earlier time, and cites reasons why. Pendleton is the county seat, and many persons have to come here to transact business at the courthouse, and want to get here in time to do their work in the daytime. Pendleton is the natural trading point for the surrounding country, and unless the train comes on the old schedule, the people cannot take advantage of that fact and will be forced to go the other way. It is, of course, an advantage to the merchants, and it is well to get the people into the habit of coming here for county business, after which they will naturally come here to trade.

Mr. Roosevelt is of the opinion that the change will be made, from what has been told him by one of the trainmen. This man claims that it is the intention of the company to make the change as soon as the time card can be altered. The mixed train will leave Walla Walla 15 minutes earlier, and meet No. 8 at Milton, and from that place will increase the running speed so that the arriving time here will be 55 minutes earlier, or about 1:40 o'clock. This will be near the old schedule.

R. E. Tarbett.

R. E. Tarbett, of the Fair Store, does not think that the train will make such a great difference in the trade, as is supposed—perhaps about 5 per cent in all.

The county business is compulsory and the people have to come here to do that, and will usually have time to attend to matters at the courthouse even with the train as it is now. Then again, if a man has a bank account, every merchant in town will take his check, and it is not necessary to get into the bank for any business to be done in this city. Pendleton draws a good deal of trade from as far as Adams, but above that it is the custom to go the other way. Below Adams a good many of the people come to town in rigs, so that the train has no effect on them. However, it would be more convenient to have it reach the city earlier, and he was in favor of it.

Albert Cohen.

Albert Cohen, of the Peoples Warehouse, was also in favor of the change, as in the business of the store it would make some difference, there being many patrons of the store to whom an earlier train would be more convenient. It took daylight to trade in the dry goods or furnishings goods line, where colors had to be matched or noted, and the early train was to be desired.

R. Alexander.

R. Alexander, of the Alexander Department Store, is in favor of the change as much for the convenience of the traveling public, as for other reasons. He knows that the town would derive some benefit from the change, but at the same time it would be more a matter of convenience than of profit. The fact that this is the county seat, and that people have to come here to transact business at the court house, is the greatest argument in favor of the change.

E. M. Lyons.

E. M. Lyons, of the St. Joe Store, also is of the opinion that the time should be changed for the convenience of the people of the upper end of the county, as much as for the good of the city. It is not so much the profit of the merchant that is at stake, as the fact that it is indirectly to their advantage by so regulating the time of travel that people come here for their business, and then trade after that is done. It is less expense to the people, and at the same time for the good of the town.

Letter From Supt. O'Brien.

J. R. Dickson has received an answer to his letter and petition sent the latter part of the week to Superintendent O'Brien of the O. R. & N. The letter is as follows:

J. R. Dickson, Prest. Commercial Association. Dear Sir: Your letter of the 6th inst. inclosing petition in regard to the change in the schedule of train No. 41 is at hand and noted. Matter is being investigated, and if there is any possible way to arrange matters will be glad to meet the wishes of the petitioners in the matter.

Yours truly,
J. P. O'BRIEN.

This is understood by those interested to be very encouraging, and all have hopes that the time will be changed at an early date.

A WOMAN'S SOUVENIR.

Volume Recounting Achievement of Northwest Women to Be Issued Soon.

Mary Osborn Douthitt, of Portland, address of the Oregon Souvenir, a book of 200 pages, recounting the work and accomplishments of the women of the Northwest, is in the city today.

Miss Douthitt is soliciting write-ups, facts, history and data for this important work, and is being assisted by the Women's Clubs and pioneer women in all parts of the state, in her work. The book will be a beautiful souvenir of woman's work in this pioneer country and will be issued in an elegant binding, in order that it may be a thing of beauty in a library, as well as a history and family record, as it were, of the achievements of women in "the Oregon country."

She will give a prize for a cover design (any artist from the Northwest who has received his or her art education in the Northwest.) This contest must be confined to artists of the Northwest strictly, as it is designed to be a native product throughout.

She will also give a prize for the best design for illustrations for a story in the work, the design to be furnished by a scholar of the public schools of the Northwest. The volume will be issued about March 1, 1905.

OSTEOPATHY AND ELECTRICITY

Physician Who Combines the Two Systems Here to Locate.

Dr. O. S. Matthews and family, of Sprague, Wash., are in the city, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Crank. Dr. Matthews is an osteopath and electric physician, and will locate here if he can make the necessary arrangements for the installation of his apparatus. He will put in a large electric bath machine and a Turkish bath establishment.

Will Investigate Beef Prices.

Representative Martin, of South Dakota, has introduced a resolution requesting the secretary of commerce and labor to investigate the causes of the decrease in the prices of beef cattle since July 1, 1903, and the unusually large margins between the prices of beef cattle and the selling price of fresh beef, and whether these conditions have resulted from a trust combination.

Marriage License.

A marriage license was issued to Bert C. Reeder and Miss Emma Roumagoux, yesterday. Both of the parties are well known residents of the vicinity of Nye, the prospective bride being the daughter of Francis Roumagoux, who died a short time ago with pneumonia. Mr. Reeder is a prominent young farmer of that vicinity.

Recovering From Operation.

Mrs. Della La Rone, who was operated on for tumor yesterday at the St. Anthony hospital, is resting well today, and is now on the road to recovery. Drs. Smith and Ringo performed the operation.

FUNERAL OF AHIRA MORSE.

An Old Soldier, Paralyzed and Helpless for Ten Years.

The funeral of Ahira Morse, who died a couple of days ago at Freewater, was conducted yesterday afternoon from the family home in Freewater, under the auspices of the G. A. R.

Ahira Morse was one of the old residents of the county, and has for many years been an invalid. During the summer of 1894 he was stricken with paralysis and from that time his mind was so affected that he became unable to transact business. As a result his wife, Amanda Morse, was appointed his guardian, he being considered non compos mentis by the courts.

Since that time he has lived at Freewater, cared for by his wife, and unable to help himself. The deceased was a member of the Stone River Post of the G. A. R. at Milton.

Modicum, the winner of the Burns handicap, won $10,000 for his owner in stakes and bets in one event last week. This same owner paid $750 for the animal.
