AMONG THE EXCHANGES OF THE INLAND EMPIRE

Hopeful for Eastern Oregon,

Mr. Alexander McPherson, who lives at Bridgeport and is one of the best known ranchers and stockmen of the Burnt river country, who was in the city yesterday, was enthusiastic over the prospects for the stock men this coming season.

He said everybody in his section had been obliged to carry most of their stock over during the winter but no one had suffered any hardships because the winter was a mild one and feed had been plenty. Prices of cattle have been low except where stock has been home fed for market and turned out as "finished stuff." Stockers and feeders have brought comparatively low prices, during the winter and all who could afford to do so have car-ried their cattle over. Mr. McPherson says that it will be months vet before anything like good prices will be realized, but an early spring is anticipated and early pastures will be ready for grazing.

Mr. McPherson does not think that the Russo-Japanese war, unless carried on for many months will have any material effect upon prices of stock and grain on this coast. Our own markets in the East will before next fall take care of the surplus stock. - Baker City Democrat.
