IN NEW QUARTERS

LARGE IMPROVEMENTS ARE MADE AND PLANNED.

Force Will Be Increased at Telephone Central — Extensive Additions to Outside and Inside Equipment—Service Will Soon Be as Efficient in Every Respect as in Any City in the State.

The telephone company has moved its central office into the new quarters on Court street in the Matlock building, and is fast getting everything in shape for improved and extended service to the public.

While the lines have been run in at the new office and the boards are up and everything is working, there is a lot to do yet before the equipment is complete. Telephone boxes have to be installed, partitions put in, and the general details of the furnishing for the place put in place.

Miss Moussu, the manager of the local office, is pleased with her new place, and will be more so when it is put in shape, for it will enable her to give added service and more prompt. The old office was crowded and the whole system was congested with the work that had to be done. Now provision has been made for handling a large increase in the volume of business.

As soon as things are straightened ed around, and all is gotten into good working order, another operator will be put at the board, to ensure as prompt answering to calls as is possible, and to take the strain of the busiest hours of the girls now in the office.

The increase in facilities has been made in the outside equipment more than in the office itself. The cables have been made much larger, so there are now ends enough to carry a large addition to the business, but the board is not a great deal larger than the old one. It was not thought wise to put in a large board when in a short time the system will be changed, and the style of board will have to be changed with the system.

There may be still a little delay in the office for a few days, until all of the work incident to the change has been completed, but after that the force will be able to handle all the business promptly, giving as good a service as that in any of the cities of the state, and better than in some.

The delegates to the Christian Endeavor convention, which meets in the Baptist church this evening at 7:30 o'clock, are beginning to arrive in the city for the opening session and by tomorrow all of them will be here.

A few from the county and cities of the immediate vicinity are now in Pendleton, but the most of them will reach here this evening on the train from Portland, and tomorrow those from the East will begin to come.

Owing to sickness, Dr. John O. Rust, the pastor of the First Baptist church of Seattle, who was to have delivered the convention sermon this evening, will not be able to be present and his place will be filled by Rev. Mulkey, pastor of the First Christian church of Portland.

Thomas G. Hailey, ex-mayor of Pendleton, will deliver the address of welcome to the convention on behalf of the city this evening and Rev. Robert Diven will welcome the visitors in behalf of the churches. Rev. A. A. Winter, of Dallas, will make the response on the part of the convention.

The announcement of the committees for the convention will be made at the meeting this evening. Mrs. H. O. Meador, of Prairie City, and Rev. Strange, of Condon, arrived this morning and were the first outside delegates to reach the city.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.

Catholic Fraternal and Insurance Order.

On Sunday next a new council of the Order of Knights of Columbus will be organized at Baker City, which will in time number in its membership some of the citizens of Pendleton.

This is an order 23 years of age, but it is not before the public in a prominent way, mainly on account of its conservative attitude, and is therefore not so well known, though its membership runs into the hundreds of thousands in this country and in Canada.

It is a fraternal and insurance order, organized among the active members of the Catholic church, and is of such a conservative cast that in Portland, where there is a church membership of 2,500 or more to draw from, the council numbers but 96 members. The Portland council is the only one in the state and the one to be organized in Baker, will be the second, and representative of the entire eastern part of the state.

The degree team which will institute the new council will be composed of 60 men from the councils of Bellingham Bay and Seattle, Wash., and Portland, and it is thought there will be 25 insurance members who will take the first degree on Sunday afternoon.

The work in the Knights of Columbus is much like the Masonic ritual in some parts; and it takes a member eight months to pass through three degrees. It was the intention of Judge Thomas Fitz Gerald to go to Baker City for initiation, but owing to his recent illness he will be unable to attend.

FOR CHEAP RATES.

Movement to Secure Them to Lewis and Clark Exposition.

The commercial associations of this and of other cities, and the various organizations and men interested in the development not only of this state but of the entire northwest have been bestirring themselves for some time in the interest of cheap rates and good stop-over privileges in this section during the Lewis and Clark fair, and from the action taken at the meeting of the traffic managers of the Eastern roads held in Chicago it would seem that their wishes are to be given some consideration.

It is stated that the roads leading into the northwest have made a round trip rate from Chicago to the fair and return for $50, from St. Paul and common points $45 and from Denver and common points $40. These are 90 day tickets and are much cheaper than those granted to the Western people who wish to visit the St. Louis fair during the summer.

The main contention made or to be made however is not so much the price as to the stop-over allowed on the tickets, and this matter has been settled. On the St. Louis tickets the traveler is required to reach his destination at least ten days after the selling date of his fare.

In other words if it takes five days to make the trip, the tourist has five days lay-over privilege on the first part of the trip.

After that, he may make as many and as long stops as is possible inside of the 90 day limit. The same restrictions will in all probability be placed on the tickets to the Lewis and Clark fair.

However, if the Eastern visitor is desirous of seeing the country here he can do so better on the homeseeker's tickets sold by the Eastern roads which are indefinite in time limit. At any place west of Pocatello the homeseeker can stop for any time up to 10 days. He is required to register his ticket with the agent where he stops, and can then get side trips for half fare. If inside of 10 days he returns and takes up his ticket he can stop at the next station for ten days with the same privileges and so on until he has reached his destination. In this way, if there were stations enough along the route, it would be possible to travel for a year on the same ticket and enjoy half fare rates to all side stations while on the journey.

It is thought by the railroad authorities that the companies will give the northwest every advantage in the way of privileges to those who wish to see the country on their trips to the fair.

JOHN SOUTHWELL

DEATH OF PROMINENT CITIZEN LAST NIGHT.

Indirect Cause of Death Was an Old Injury to His Neck and Throat, Causing Congestion — Was 56 Years of Age—Was a Progressive, Well-to-do Citizen.

John Southwell, one of the prominent residents of the county, died in this city last night after a short illness at the age of 56 years.

Mr. Southwell was one of the well-known stockmen of the county, and had been in business on Birch creek for many years. He was a great friend of the public schools, and was one of the prominent members of the school board in the district in which he lived.

Early in the winter he moved his family to this city in order that his children could have the better school advantages, and it was while visiting his children that he died.

On Saturday last Mr. Southwell came into town and soon after his arrival was taken sick, having been for several days threatened with the grip. The immediate cause of his death was lung congestion, though the demise was indirectly brought about by an old injury. Some years ago, while working with a thrasher, one of the belts flew off a pulley near where Mr. Southwell was standing, and struck him across the neck, cutting a great gash in his throat. This injury nearly cost the man his life, and since recovering he had never been able to raise phlegm from his throat or lungs, so that when the mucus formed during the attack of the grip, Mr. Southwell was unable to throw it off and the congestion was formed.

Arrangements for the funeral have not been made, but will be announced later.

The total tax roll for Union county is $159,000 or $30,000 more than last year.

Country Roads Are Bad.

J. A. McLaughlin, of Gurdane, is in the city after supplies for his lumber camp and mill lands. Mr. McLaughlin owns the Gurdane sawmill, 45 miles southwest of this city, and reports the roads in bad condition most of the way out. The snow is drifted in the roads in many places and they are washed out badly. He carried over about 250,000 feet of lumber this winter, and will start the mill again, as soon as the market demands.
