ENFORCE FISH LAW

DEPUTY GAME WARDEN GIVES LAST NOTICE.

Says More Fish Are Killed in Irrigating Ditches and Mill Races Than if Everybody Should Fish With Hook and Line the Entire Year—March 10 the Date Fixed for Compliance With Law.

The East Oregonian is in receipt of the following communication from Deputy Fish and Game Warden A. W. Nye in regard to the violations of the fish laws by owners of irrigating ditches.

Mr. Nye regrets to be compelled to employ harsh measures in enforcing the law, but the season is getting late and he feels that the provisions of the law must be observed. His letter is as follows:

"Pendleton, Feb. 20.—(To the Editor.)—There is a question which seems to be agitating the minds of our best-thinking people, and that is, "what has become of all the fish in our streams?"

"There has been thousands of dollars spent in trying to increase the supply of trout and other fish in our streams, and laws passed to protect them, and still there are not half as many now as there were a few years ago.

"I have been making some investigations on this subject. After getting all the information I could from the best informed people in the county I find that there are more fish destroyed annually—while young—by getting into irrigating ditches and mill races, than could possibly be caught with hook and line, if every man and small boy in the county should fish continuously every day in the week and Sunday thrown in.

"I have notified owners of ditches and mill races, through the papers, once having even published the law. Some have been notified by the master fish warden of the state, but I will give them one more chance.

"I do hereby notify all owners of irrigating ditches and mill races in Umatilla county that they must have their ditches and races properly screened according to law by the 10th day of March, 1904, or I shall be compelled to enforce the law.

Yours respectfully,
A. W. NYE,
Deputy Fish and Game Warden.
N. B.—If other papers see fit to insert this notice, all right, but the law does not compel me to give it.

"SAID PASHA" TONIGHT.

Baker City Paper Compliments the Olympian Opera Company.

The Baker City Democrat, speaking of the Olympian Opera Company, which appears in "Said Pasha" at the Fraser tonight, says: "The splendid English opera, 'The Chimes of Normandy,' was given last night to a full house by the Olympian Opera Company. This popular opera is full of harmony from a musical standpoint and is filled with many dramatic situations while its humor is spontaneous and overflowing.

"Its rendition last night scored another victory for Mr. Seamans and his clever company of singing actors.

"Miss Eleanor Jenkins as Germaine made the hit of the evening, while Lottie Kendall as Seronette, was a close second with her captivating stage manners and good voice."

Pretty Music in "The Rosemary."
"The Battle of Prague" must have been popular as an instrumental pianoforte selection in the early part of the late Queen Victoria's reign, since the love-lorn youths of England's romantic nineteenth century demanding its rendition. In "Rosemary," which Howard Kyle will present at the Fraser on February 25, the popular music of the period has much to do with the unfolding of the pretty story by Louis N. Parker and Murray Carson which Charles Frohman kept at the Empire theater, New York, one entire season.

Her Coats of Arms.

Concerning a very modish woman the late Julian Rix, painter and critic, had this story to tell:

"Mr. Rix, I've come to ask you a great favor," she said as she fairly burst into his studio one fall day.

"Everything I have is at your command, madam."

"I want to show you some coats of arms and ask your advice about making a choice."

"Which side of the family do you wish to follow, maternal or—"

"Oh, neither! The herald says I can choose any of these. I want something that will look well on waistcoaters."

"Yes. Well, what about this?"

"That will do nicely. But don't you think I ought to have more than one? I do tire so quickly of things, you know."—New York Times.

Canals in England.

Canals in England date back to an early period, for the Romans built two in Lincolnshire—the Foss dike, forty miles long and still navigable, and the Caer dike. The first British made canal was constructed in 1134 by Henry I, and joined the Trent to the Witham. It was toward the end of the eighteenth century that the greatest amount of energy was expended in the building of canals, mainly due to the Duke of Bridgewater and the skill of his engineer, James Brindley. In the last decade of that century a canal mania raged.

Rebeking an Emperor.

Once, so the story goes, Emperor Nicholas of Russia asked Liszt to play in his presence. The musician complied, but during the performance the czar started a conversation with an aide-de-camp. Liszt stopped playing at once. The czar asked what was the matter. "When the emperor speaks," said Liszt, "every one must be silent." The czar smilingly took the hint, and the playing proceeded.

Purely Business.

"Are you sure," asked the captain of industry, "that you love my daughter?" "Come, I say," replied the duke, "you're not going to be sentimental at your time of life, are you?"—Chicago Record-Herald.

Rheumatism "THE PAIN KING."

Those who have ever felt its keen, cutting pains, or witnessed the intense suffering of others, know that Rheumatism is torture, and that it is rightly called "The King of Pain."

All do not suffer alike. Some are suddenly seized with the most excruciating pains, and it seems every muscle and joint in the body was being torn asunder. Others feel only occasional slight pains for weeks or months, when a sudden change in the weather or exposure to damp, chilly winds or night air brings on a fierce attack, lasting for days perhaps, and leaving the patient with a weakened constitution or crippled and deformed for all time.

An acid, polluted condition of the blood is the cause of every form and variety of Rheumatism, Muscular, Articular, Acute, Chronic, Inflammatory and Sciatic, and the blood must be purged and purified before there is an end to your aches and pains. External applications, the use of liniments and plasters, do much toward temporary relief, but such treatment does not reach the real cause or cleanse the diseased blood; but S. S. S., the greatest of all blood purifiers and tonics, does cure Rheumatism by antidoting and neutralizing the poisonous acids and building up the weak and sluggish blood. It is safe and reliable in all forms of Rheumatism. It makes the old acid blood rich, and the pain-tortured muscles and joints are relieved, the shattered nerves are made strong, and the entire system is invigorated and toned up by the use of this great vegetable remedy.

If you have Rheumatism, write us, and our physicians will furnish without charge any information desired, and we will mail free our book on Rheumatism.

FIGHT OPEN SHOP

LATEST ORGANIZATION TO OPPOSE LABOR UNIONS.

Salvation of the Nation and All Progress Depends Upon Defeating the Ends of Organized Labor—Will Carry the Fight Directly Into Congress—Propose a National Blacklist.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 22.—From Birmingham in the South to Kansas City and Denver in the West, manufacturers and other employers have assembled in Indianapolis to complete the organization of the Citizens' Industrial Association of America. The association, which is an offshoot of the National Association of Manufacturers, has for its declared purpose the mutual protection of employers against the so-called unreasonable demands and encroachments of organized labor.

D. M. Parry of this city, president of the Citizens' Industrial Association and also of the Manufacturers' Association, delivered a strong address at the opening session of the conference today. Discussing the purposes of the new organization, he declared that the association stands pre-eminently for the open shop as opposed to the closed shop demanded by the American Federation of Labor. He said that the industrial welfare of the nation was dependent upon the ability of the present organization movement among employers to put an end to the closed-shop program of organized labor. He said that during the last year there were hundreds of strikes or labor insurrections, and that the loss occasioned thereby to the aggregate wealth of the country is a national disaster. Organized labor, he said, cannot hope to better its membership by making the country poorer.

The first tilt of the new association with the labor organizations will come over the anti-injunction bill which is now before congress and which the American Federation of Labor is bending every energy to have enacted into law. The industrial association intends to fight the passage of the bill and will use every influence it has, by means of telegrams and letters, and it is probable also that the conference will appoint a committee to go to Washington and personally conduct the fight against the measure.

Though no set program has been prepared for the conference, arrangements have been made for a number of interesting addresses to be delivered today and tomorrow, in addition to the address of President Parry and the reports of Secretary A. C. Marshall and other officers of the association. C. W. Post, of Battle Creek, will discuss the establishment of a national bureau, where a record may be kept of men who violate the law during a strike. Frederick E. Matson of Indianapolis, and Frederick Job, secretary of the Chicago Employers' Association, will speak on the anti-injunction bill, and addresses will be made on the eight-hour bill and on other matters of interest to the employers throughout the country.

If the flood came again some churches would meet it with over-shoe socials.

Bright's Disease and Diabetes News.

San Francisco, Oct. 20, 1903.

To F. W. Schmidt's Pharmacy: Dear Sirs.—As agents for the Fulton Compounds in Pendleton, there are some facts in the Call office in this city that should interest you and the editors of Oregon, as well as newspaper men generally. We copy now from a letter from Clifford House of the Call:

"However improbable may seem the statement that Bright's Disease and Diabetes are now curable in a great majority of all cases, it is well within the province of some of us in the business department of the Call to know that it is true. Mr. Edward Short of this department was given up by his physicians as a victim of Diabetes, and is now perfectly well. The mother of one of the editorial staff has also recovered from Diabetes. This was so conclusive that I told a friend, a well-to-do citizen of Duluth, Minn., who had Bright's Disease, and he too recovered.

We will also add that an ex-supreme judge, with offices in the Call building, is a late recovery. You are authorized to proclaim to the world that the most deadly diseases known, viz.: Bright's Disease and Diabetes, yield to the new diuretics evolved during experiments made upon himself by John J. Fulton of this city in his memorable struggle against the ravages of Bright's Disease.

Yours very truly,
THE JOHN J. FULTON CO.
