INTERESTING PROGRAM.

High School Entertainment Attracts Large Audience.

The pupils of the high school gave another of their most interesting programs at the Assembly hall last Friday evening, to a large audience. Every number was well rendered and deserves especial mention, as each one on the program had taken pains to perfect as near as possible their work. The hall was filled with the patrons of the school and the friends of the participants, and each of the visitors was well pleased with the entertainment afforded.

IN COUNTY COURT

COUNTY TO HELP BUILD THE WILD HORSE ROAD.

Much Necessary Time Being Expended in Trying to Analyze the Tribune Printing Graft—The Evidence Shows That Tribune Proprietor Ordered the Tax List "Padded"—Suit Filed Against County for Damages by E. P. Dodd.

The county court met this morning at 9 o'clock and took up consideration of the petition for the Wild Horse road. The petition was granted, and Alex Hudson, Dave Nelson and J. W. Kimbrell appointed as viewers, to report at the May term. March 19 was set as the day when the work of viewing should be done.

In the afternoon the court took up the consideration of the county printing graft as engineered by the Tribune. The court called Otto Didion, the operator who set the tax list, and M. Schrack, the foreman of the East Oregonian office, as expert witnesses in determining the extent of the padding used by the Tribune in printing the list.

Didion testified that he had been told by E. P. Dodd, the editor of the Tribune, to vary from the copy as furnished by the sheriff, to spread his work out. He had done so for the first column or two, but that Dodd had then come and told him that he was covering too much territory, and to follow more closely, but that he would leave it to his discretion in spreading it as much as possible. It was the custom to set such printing in nonparell type, or what is called "6-point." The list as printed was put in 7-point type, on an 8-point body, being equal to leaded work.

Mr. Schrack was asked to figure up the difference, and found that the work, if printed in the same form, in nonparell type would have made 66 lines less space than what was submitted to the court. If it had been printed as it was in the copy, and in the legal type, it would have gone into seven columns of space, instead of 11 columns, as the Tribune made it reach.

It was also customary, in printing tax lists to abbreviate the names of additions; to use "S" for south, "E" for east, "Blk" for block, and "ad" for additions. This had not been done, and if it had, it would have been possible to have printed the list in much less room than was used by the Tribune.

After a number of other questions of a like nature by the court, the witnesses were excused, and the court took up consideration of the amount necessary to cut out of the bill of $616 presented by the Tribune. E. P. Dodd, the editor of the Tribune, filed today with the court a statement asking that the court advance him the sum of $100 which he claims as damages caused by the non-observance of the contract entered into with the Tribune for the county printing.

The court had entered into a contract with the Tribune people, agreeing to pay a stated price for printing to be done in the years 1902-3-4, and in many cases had cut the bills presented by the paper. The plaintiff alleges that he has been deprived of his profits by this action in the sum of $100, which sum he seeks to recover. James A. Fee is attorney for the plaintiff.

Printing Laid Over.

Late this afternoon the county court postponed the county printing matter until the next meeting of the court, on April 9.

LOUIS SOUTHWELL DEAD.

Passed Away From the Effects of Brain Fever, Aged 22 Years.

Louis Southwell died at the family home on Birch creek at 8:20 this morning, after a short illness of brain fever. The deceased was 22 years of age, and was the only son of John Southwell, who died a short time ago of congestion of the lungs.

The deceased was taken sick Thursday last, and grew worse until on Saturday night he became unconscious and died this morning without having recovered his senses.

Besides his mother, several sisters are left in the family. The son and brother was well known in this city and in the vicinity where he lived, having had charge of the farm for some time before his father's death.

and since that time being the director of the affairs of the family. As yet no funeral arrangements have been made.

EAGLES TO INITIATE.

Class of Nearly One Hundred Will Don the Eagles' Feathers Tonight.

Pendleton Aerle No. 28, Order of Eagles, will initiate a class of nearly 100 new members tonight, with appropriate program, banquet and general good time.

Elaborate preparations have been made, but owing to the large number of candidate and members, no one but members and their families can be accommodated. The order hoped to be able to secure quarters where their friends could be entertained at the banquet, but it was impossible to do so, and in addition, the number of candidates has been swelled beyond their fondest hopes.

The meeting will be held at Hendricks hall and a literary program has been arranged to precede the banquet. J. T. Hinkle will act as toastmaster and the occasion is anticipated with great pleasure by the order.

This is the largest initiation in the history of the order in Eastern Oregon.

School Board Meeting.

The school board will hold a meeting this afternoon, or evening, at which time the proposed call for an election to settle whether or not to issue bonds for a new building will be discussed, and some action decided upon.

Occupy New Residence.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Matlock have moved into their new residence on Court street. The place is being furnished in elegant style, and when completed will be one of the most modern and well appointed residences in the city.

Looking for Business Location.

C. A. Marsh, a merchant of North Yakima, is here visiting friends for a few days. Mr. Marsh was formerly in this city looking for a business location, and while here made many friends.

Large Individual Donation.

At the Christian church last night, W. H. Reeder, of Athena gave the sum of $300 to apply on the building fund of the church in this city, that being the largest individual donation taken during the meeting.

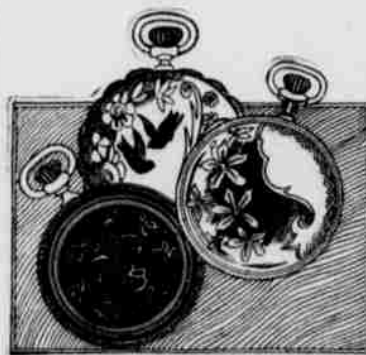

Guest of Mrs. Vert.

Mrs. Charles E. Johns of Baker City is the guest of Mrs. John Vert for a few days. Mrs. Johns is here to meet with Mrs. Gatch of Salem, who is also Mrs. Vert's guest.
