SEVERELY CENSURES MORMON PRACTICES

Frederic Lockley, Sr., of Missoula, Montana, who was editor of the Salt Lake Tribune from 1872 to 1879, and whose acquaintance with and knowledge of Mormon practices cannot be questioned, takes exceptions to editorial utterances of the East Oregonian, concerning the Mormons, in the following able article:

"Missoula, Mont., March 12.—(To the Editor.)—Your editorial paragraph of the 4th inst., in relation to the Smoot inquiry, now at Washington, gives evidence that you egregiously misapprehend the Utah situation. Your ideas are altogether too couleur de rose. Distance lends enchantment to the view.

"You first tell us that 'The Mormons' faith is strong, honest, sincere and deeply grounded in his heart.' Apostle Lyman's testimony before the election committee hardly warrants that saying. Senator Hoar wanted to bring out what sacredness attached to the revelations constantly being received from the Almighty, and the apostle's vacillation was really distressing.

"In the Mormon hierarchy there are 15 professional 'prophets, seers and revelators;' the president and his two counselors, and the quorum of apostles. Before Utah was admitted to statehood, and congress exercised control over its affairs, persistent efforts were made in the courts to suppress the practice of polygamy.

"This the Mormon preachers and newspaper writers inveighed against as persecution. The Almighty had revealed to his servant, Joseph Smith, His divine will that the early Jewish practice of plural wifehood should be restored to our civilization, and the sons of the Latter-Day covenant very readily acceded to the command.

"This indulgence our laws oppose, and the repeated but futile attempts at restriction caused serious confusion. The apostle, Orson Pratt, one time discussing these harassing prosecution in the Salt Lake tabernacle, made this positive declaration (I being among his hearers): 'When man's law conflicts with God's law, the true saint has no choice, he must live his religion, though it carry him into the penitentiary.'

"That, you would say, shows that the Mormon's faith is strong, honest and sincere.

"But shortly after that, when Delegate George Cannon (himself an apostle), went on to Washington to take his seat for a third term, he being the husband of four wives, and, fearing objection might be raised to his marital multitudinousness, procured divorces from three of these connubial affinities, to show his purgation from the offense.

"No objection was raised to his admission, and the divorces were not produced; his harem consequently went on undisturbed. But it shows how lightly his religion rested upon this holy man when he was willing to sacrifice these wives of his bosom to gratify his political ambition.

"Here is how Apostle Lyman treats divine revelation:

"Do you mean to say," asked Senator Hoar, "that a revelation from the Lord which had been rejected by the people would count for nothing?"

"It would count for nothing for those who rejected it."

"Would it be binding upon the instrument of the Lord who received the revelation?"

"We should follow the wish of the people."

"Well, how about you?"

"I should be bound to do what the people direct."

"I may remark parenthetically that this testimony is all moonshine; its purpose is to mislead 'The People'—"

The case of Miss Frankie Orser, of Boston, Mass., is interesting to all women.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I suffered misery for several years. My back ached and I had bearing-down pains, and frequent headaches. I would often wake from a restless sleep in such pain and misery that it would be hours before I could close my eyes again. I dreaded the long nights and weary days. I could do no work. I consulted different physicians hoping to get relief, but finding that their medicines did not cure me, I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and as it was highly recommended to me, I am glad that I did so, for I soon found that it was the medicine for my case. Very soon I was rid of every ache and pain and restored to perfect health. I feel splendid, have a fine appetite, and have gained in weight a lot."—MISS FRANKIE ORSER, 14 Warrenton St., Boston, Mass.—$5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

Surely you cannot wish to remain weak, sick and discouraged, and exhausted with each day's work. Some derangement of the feminine organs is responsible for this exhaustion, following any kind of work or effort. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you just as it has thousands of other women.

the followers of this anointed priesthood—direct nothing.

"One-half are of foreign birth, and a large proportion, (especially the plural wives) cannot speak English; and they except without cavil whatever is given to them as of divine authority. But the divine genuineness of President Joseph F. Smith, Francis H. Lyman and others of the holy apostolate, who are yet to be put under the harrow, shows what a sham this religion is.

"When Brigham Young died and left the presidency of the church vacant, the whole apostolic quorum shut themselves up in an adobe building, called the Council House, where they remained a week, professedly holding communion with the Lord as to the succession to the vacant seat.

"The Lord's will being imparted to His chosen servants, it was announced in the tabernacle the following Sabbath to 8,000 assembled saints, and then a vote was taken.

"The witness, Lyman, says that a revelation counts for nothing if the people reject it, but the strict and effective organization of the church puts it out of their power to reject it. 'Macbeth scented the witches he met in the heath, because they paltered to him in a double sense; they held the word of promise to the ear, but broke it to the hope. That's the nature of a church election in Utah.

"Announcement being made to the congregation of saints, that the Lord had chosen his servant, John Taylor, to assume the mantle formerly worn by the deceased Brigham, it was now given to his people to sustain the Lord's appointment.

"What followed, do you suppose? A call of the roll or a viva voce vote? They don't do things that way. The oleaginous George Q. took the vote, and he first submitted it to the surviving members of the first presidency.

"They affirmed the choice, of course. Then the bench of apostles declared their will, (the whole business was cut and dried), next the elders of the seventies, and so on through the descending grades of the Melchizedek priesthood. Then came the Aaronic priesthood, bishops, deacons, teachers and others to the number of several thousand.

"All these followed suit, as they always do. Look, the voice of the people was taken; a swarm of deluded followers, without parts or passions gathered up from all the nations of the earth, one from a village, two from a family, and speaking all languages known to the typefounder.

"What could they do but assent. Impressed with the impregnability of the defense, I asked myself, as one of the audience, what vote I would give were I one of the elect. The pressure is too overwhelming for dissent.

"But if I say more I shall exceed your space. Your cheerful talk about the happiness and industry of these chosen people is a very attractive romance; it only lacks the element of truth.

"You think it is so, and give the thought expression. Now that the true inwardness of the Latter-Day religion and practice is brought prominently before the American people, if you think the matter would be of interest to your readers, I would be willing to tell them some further of the life in Utah.

"MURRAY AND MACK" TONIGHT.

Coterie of Buxom Broadway Heart-Breakers at the Frazer.

"A Night on Broadway," the second edition of Murray & Mack's musical fantasy, will bid for popular notice at the Frazer this evening.

In the new edition the author has framed a fantastic story, having for its important and almost sole object, an evening of fun for intelligent theatergoers. Kerker Morton, the composer, has written an interesting score, which abounds in tuneful numbers of the sort which make a strong bid for popularity.

The management has given this musical farce comedy a superb mounting, and a great outlay of money has been expended upon its mechanical scenic equipment and costumes.

The principals engaged are Broadway favorites and singers and comedians of merit. The chorus is composed of some scores of pretty young women and young men with good voices. There is also a coterie of "show girls," whose beauty and vocal talent are expected to work wonders in the heart-breaking line.

Water polo and indoor swimming have taken on new impetus throughout the country this season.

TO KILL THE DANDRUFF GERM.

Is the Only Possible Way of Having An Effective Cure.

If you see a woman or a man with luxuriant glossy hair, you may be sure neither has dandruff to amount to anything. In nearly every case where women and men have thin brittle hair, they owe it to dandruff. There are hundreds of preparations that "claim" to cure dandruff, but not one but Newbro's Herpicide tells you that dandruff is the result of a germ burrowing into the scalp, and that permanent cure of dandruff and its consequent falling and baldness, can only be had by killing the germ; and there is no other preparation that will destroy that germ but Newbro's Herpicide. "Destroy the cause, and you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

HEAD SOLID SORE

Awful Suffering of Baby and Sleepless Nights of Mother.

CURED BY CUTICURA

Skin Fair as a Lily with no Scar to Recall Awful Sore Writes Mother.

"I herewith write out in full the beginning and end of that terrible disease, eczema, which caused my babe untold suffering and myself many sleepless nights.

"My babe was born seemingly a fair, healthy child, but when she was three weeks old a swelling appeared on the back of her head, and in course of time broke. It did not heal but grew worse, and the sore spread from the size of a dime to that of a dollar. I used all kinds of remedies that I could think of, but nothing seemed to help; in fact, it grew worse. Her hair fell out where the sore was, and I feared it would never grow again. It continued until my aged father came on a visit, and when he saw the baby he told me to get Cuticura Soap and Ointment right away.

"To please him I did so, and to my surprise by their use the sore began to heal, over the hair grew over it, and to-day she has a nice head of hair, her skin is as fair as a lily, and she has no scar left to recall that awful sore, and it is over eight months and no sign of its returning."

Mrs. Wm. RYER, Elk River, Minn.

"Cure permanent." So writes Mrs. Ryer, Feb. 25, 1903, six years later.

Your letter of the 19th inst. received, asking in regard to the cure of my baby some six years ago. Well, the disease has never returned to her head which at that time was a solid sore on top and down the back. Once or twice since then a patch has come on her hand near the wrist, but it finally disappeared after proper treatment with Cuticura."
