WINTER LAMBING.

Wallowa County Sheepmen Make Successful Experiment.

J. H. Dobbin, one of the heaviest owners of sheep in Wallowa county, is experimenting with winter lambing this year and is now lambing a band of 2,000 head at his home ranch near Joseph.

He is well prepared with sheds, feed and plenty of straw bedding, and so far has sustained no loss, although the weather at Joseph has been very cold and stormy all through February and March.

The usual lambing season in that vicinity is May and by lambing in March he will be enabled to place these early lambs on the market at least two months ahead of the regular crop, and will thereby realize a handsome profit by being first in the field with early lambs.

If this experiment proves successful other Wallowa sheepmen will prepare to follow Mr. Dobbin's example. Spring in Wallowa county is a month later than in Umatilla county owing to its altitude of over 3,000 feet, and warm sheds there are very necessary, while in Umatilla county it would be safe to lamb in March nine years out of ten on the range, owing to the extreme mildness of the climate.

Two Girls and a Boy.

There were three St. Patrick's day babies born in Pendleton yesterday. Mrs. A. B. Stevens, of Umatilla, gave birth to a girl; Mrs. Puri Bowman, to a boy, and Mrs. Elmer E. Snyder to a girl.

San Luis Obispo county, California, has prepared an exhibit for the World's Fair (and secured space for it, too.) weighing 10,765 pounds.

Full instructions have been sent out from the chief surgeon's office in Portland, as to the nature of the examination, and all local physicians will act under these instructions. Dr. K. A. J. McKenzie has just returned to Portland from a tour of the system in which he instructed the local physicians fully, as to the examination.

Special tests will be made as to colorblindness among all employees who give or take signals, or handle trains or engines in any capacity.

ARE DIPPING CATTLE

INTERESTING PROCESS AT RIGBY-CLOVE SHOPS.

The "Wade Herd" is being immersed in a Solution of Sulphur and Lime—Process Will Probably Be Completed by Tomorrow Night—Total Expense From Five Hundred to Six Hundred Dollars.

The work of dipping the Wade cattle was commenced this morning under the supervision of the representatives of the government bureau of livestock industry.

A vat has been constructed at the Rigby-Clove foundry eight feet deep and long and wide enough to take in the biggest animal in the herd. A cage has also been built which fits into the vat, and the cattle are driven into the cage and lowered into the dip by means of the hoisting engine at the foundry.

The dip is composed of about 40 parts of lime to 60 of sulphur, boiled in a specific amount of water. At the time of dipping the dip is supposed to be at a temperature of about 105 degrees.

If there are no hitches in the program all of the cattle will have been through the ordeal by tomorrow night.

It is estimated by the officers in charge of the process that it will mean a cost of about $500 or possibly $600 to the owners, taking into consideration the building of the vat and the extra feeding to be borne by W. T. Rigby, the owner of the cattle.

The trial court found for the plaintiff, and the defendants now wish to take the matter to the supreme court.

Herr Martin

The Naturalist

Says he bought a horse which "was thin, almost a skeleton, and so weak it could hardly walk," and began giving it coffee, in the form of infusions of the roasted beans, and sometimes ground and mixed with honey. After a few months Herr Martin refused $250 for it. The Gorman says he has brought round many horses since by the same treatment.

Coffee is better than horse-feed put up in packages and called cereal coffee.
