CLUB AND FEDERATION.

Club Directory.
The Thursday Afternoon meets once in two weeks, Thursdays.
The Current Literature, alternate Fridays.
The Woman's Club meets the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month.

Mrs. Sommerville Entertains.
Mrs. E. Sommerville threw open her cosy home on Friday to the members of the Current Literature Club and a few guests. The study for the afternoon consisted of the history of Germany at the beginning of the Reformation. A brief sketch of Martin Luther and a comparison of Savonarola, Italy's reformer with that of Germany, were given. Some time was spent looking over some very fine etchings of the characters from the works of Charles Dickens.
Miss Regena Bettenbender, who has a splendid voice, favored the ladies with a solo, also Mrs. W. Rouch sang a charming number. Refreshments were served.

Current Literature Club.
The annual business meeting of the Current Literature Club was held at the home of Mrs. Lee Moorhouse March 17. The secretary's report showed the club to be in a flourishing condition, and that a very successful year is nearing completion. The ladies are lavish in their praise of the Bay View history and literature course which they have been pursuing throughout the year, and voted to continue the same in connection with home work in current literature—all to be arranged in the form of a year book. In the election of officers for the coming year, Mrs. G. A. Hartman was chosen president; Mrs. Edwin Switzer, vice-president; Mrs. Fred Shoemaker, secretary, and Mrs. J. F. Robinson, treasurer.

Thursday Afternoon Club.
Mrs. C. J. Smith entertained the members of the Thursday Afternoon club at her home on Lewis street Saturday in a novel and somewhat unique manner. Each lady was requested to come prepared to relate a humorous story or sing a comic song. Many were the clever and mirth-provoking tales that were told and songs sung. Mrs. G. A. Hartman carried off the prize for the most laughable song. Other features of the afternoon's pleasure were the songs by Mrs. J. Ross Dickson and Miss Jessie Hartman, and were much enjoyed by those present. Delicious refreshments were served.

PETER WEST RECOVERING.
Has Been Confined to His Home for Three Months.
Peter West came to town yesterday evening for the first time in three months, having been confined to his home with diabetes.

Returned From Calgary.
C. J. Officer of John Day, is in the city for a short business visit. Mr. Officer is one of the well known stock men of that section, and has lately returned from Calgary, where he took a large shipment of horses for sale.

TO SECURE SYSTEM
ORDINANCE BEING DRAWN GOVERNING SEWER WORK.

At Present No Method Exists. Everything Being Done Hit-or-Miss — Property Owners Are Shamelessly Laggard, and Are Subject to Fine if They Do Not Connect by July 1 Next—A Word to the Sensible Man is Sufficient.

The sewer committee held a meeting Thursday evening, and a draft of an ordinance was made to govern making connections between private residences and the main sewer.

There is now law on the books of the city which provide for regularity or system in the connecting work. Each residence owner can use the material he wishes, and put it in both his house and his trench in the way he thinks best.

The committee will take advantage of this law to regulate the sewer connection work. It was decided to model the new ordinance after the Walla Walla ordinance, and it will be presented to the council at the meeting next week.

The committee is worried about the slowness of the people in connecting with the sewers. The limit of time under the ordinance will expire July 1, and half of the work will not have been done by that time.

The city authorities have been looking for some time for the man who removed the riprap from the top of the levee in the east end, and at last have located him in a resident of that district who has recently built him a new residence, utilizing the stone coping from the top of the levee for his basement and foundation walls.

The ordinance provides that the entire top of the levee be crowned with riprap composed of large flat stones, each to weigh at least 90 pounds. These stones were quarried and are just the thing for foundation stone.

The municipality's paternal proclivities, on the other hand, neither want to emigrate to such a place, or to pay for a new coping, and have been investigating the matter. They find that they cannot force the home builder to replace the stone, but that they can fine him from $10 to $100 each 24 hours until he consents to make reparation of his own free will. They think they see an opening for an investment.

RAILROAD TO DUFUR.
Branch of O. R. & N. Twenty-Seven Miles Long Through Wheat Belt.

W. S. Conroy, of The Dalles, is in the city today, and says there are now 100 men and about 15 teams at work on the Great Southern railroad, which is to be built from a point three miles above The Dalles to Dufur, a distance of 27 miles through a rich wheat district.

The new road will join the O. R. & N. tracks at the mouth of Fifteen Mile creek, three miles east of the Dalles, and while it is incorporated under the laws of Washington and is under the management of outside parties, it is thought to be a branch of the O. R. & N., and as such, the citizens of that locality hope to see it extended further south, through Wasco county.

It is expected to finish the road in time to handle the Durur wheat crop this year. Heretofore this crop has been hauled to The Dalles by wagon, and the output has been necessarily limited by this expensive way of transporting the grain to market.

EXCELLENT ADDRESS.
Preceded by a Very Pleasing Entertainment at the Court House.

A large audience met at the court house last night to listen to the lecture and entertainment on prohibition by Rev. R. W. Kelsey, of Newberg.

The speaker showed the evil effects of the liquor traffic, not only to the individual, but to the state and to the business world, and painted some strong truths in his presentation of the subject. At the close of the lecture quite a sum was secured in donations and pledges for the prosecution of the prohibition campaign over the state.

W. Eugene Knox gave some very interesting and amusing impersonations at the commencement of the program, which was also enlivened by vocal selections by Howard L.

ORDINANCE BEING DRAWN GOVERNING SEWER WORK.

At Present No Method Exists. Everything Being Done Hit-or-Miss — Property Owners Are Shamelessly Laggard, and Are Subject to Fine if They Do Not Connect by July 1 Next—A Word to the Sensible Man is Sufficient.

The sewer committee held a meeting Thursday evening, and a draft of an ordinance was made to govern making connections between private residences and the main sewer.

There is now law on the books of the city which provide for regularity or system in the connecting work. Each residence owner can use the material he wishes, and put it in both his house and his trench in the way he thinks best. On the other hand, there is a state law which provides for a board of plumbing inspectors for each city, which has never been observed.

The committee will take advantage of this law to regulate the sewer connection work. It was decided to model the new ordinance after the Walla Walla ordinance, and it will be presented to the council at the meeting next week. It will specify the kind or at least the grade of the material which can be used, the manner of putting it in, and other details. It will also create the office of plumbing inspector, whose duty it shall be to watch all plumbing work done, and see that it is sanitary and properly connected in all parts.

The committee is worried about the slowness of the people in connecting with the sewers. The limit of time under the ordinance will expire July 1, and half of the work will not have been done by that time. In that case all of the old cesspools and closets in the sewer district will have to be condemned and filled up by the sewer inspector under the law. This action will mean the clogging of the work, as there will not be plumbers enough in town to handle the work, and will entail extra expense and inconvenience on the people, which they could avoid by doing the work earlier.

HE "TOOK" THE RIPRAPPING.
City's Only Recourse is to Impose a Per Diem Fine.

The city authorities have been looking for some time for the man who removed the riprap from the top of the levee in the east end, and at last have located him in a resident of that district who has recently built him a new residence, utilizing the stone coping from the top of the levee for his basement and foundation walls.

The ordinance provides that the entire top of the levee be crowned with riprap composed of large flat stones, each to weigh at least 90 pounds. These stones were quarried and are just the thing for foundation stone. When the east end resident wished to make his basement he borrowed about 200 feet of the top of the levee at no other cost to himself than the hauling, and now says that he will see the city fathers in a climate where levees are not needed before he will return or replace the stone.

The municipality's paternal proclivities, on the other hand, neither want to emigrate to such a place, or to pay for a new coping, and have been investigating the matter. They find that they cannot force the home builder to replace the stone, but that they can fine him from $10 to $100 each 24 hours until he consents to make reparation of his own free will. They think they see an opening for an investment.

Hockett and Elmer A. Newby. Those who have the management of the prohibition cause in hand in this city feel that the meeting will be productive of good. The gentlemen furnishing the entertainment left this morning for the valley to work in Western Oregon for the remainder of the season.

FUNERAL OF O. W. DUNBAR.
Held From Residence and Conducted by Rev. Warner.

The funeral of O. W. Dunbar was held from the late residence on Garden street this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Robert Warner, pastor of the Methodist church, conducted the services at the home, and the burial was made in Olney cemetery. A large number of friends attended the services and followed the remains to their final resting place. The pallbearers were selected from the newspaper offices of the city, the Tribune being represented by E. P. Dodd, A. A. Lathrop, W. E. C. Pruitt and C. W. Myers; the Guide by R. Edwards and the East Oregonian by Bert Huffman, Fred Lampkin and Charles Sampson.

DEMOREST MEDAL CONTEST.
Women of the W. C. T. U. Working Energetically on Their Program for Monday Night.

The women of the W. C. T. U. who have in charge the Demorest medal contest, which will be given at the Baptist church next Monday night, March 21, are working energetically on the program, and the entertainment promises to be one of the most interesting of the winter. It is strictly in the interest of the temperance cause and is part of a general program to be carried out in this city, during the spring months.

Miss Dunbar Quite Sick.
Miss Agnes Dunbar was removed to St. Anthony's hospital yesterday afternoon, where she is quite ill with a complication of the grip and other lung troubles. Miss Dunbar has been troubled with weak lungs for some time, and a severe cold contracted while waiting on her father during his last illness has resulted in a serious sickness.

Visiting Their Brother.
A. B. Montgomery and J. E. Montgomery of Helix, are the guests of their brother, T. G. Montgomery. The gentlemen are both grain buyers of Helix, and are now on their way to Kent, Oregon, where they will remain for some time on business.

Wilkinson Resigned.
Herbert Wilkinson, who has been for the past six years engineer at the scouring mills, has resigned his position and will commence work in a similar capacity for Robert Forster, at the planing mills, on the 21st of this month.

Resigned From Fair Board.
G. A. Westgate of Albany, one of the oldest members of the state agricultural board, has resigned from the board on account of the pressure of private business.

Herr Martin

The Naturalist
Says he bought a horse which "was thin, almost a skeleton, and so weak it could hardly walk," and began giving it coffee, in the form of infusions of the roasted beans, and sometimes ground and mixed with honey. After a few months Herr Martin refused $250 for it. The German says he has brought round many horses since by the same treatment.

Coffee is better than horse-feed put up in packages and called cereal coffee.
