AGENTS FOR BOERS

LOOKING FOR SITES FOR COLONIES IN AMERICA.

Project to Colonize Mexico Fell Through an Account of Yellow Fever—O'Donald and Joubert Have Decided That Montana Offers the Best Unclaimed Natural Opportunities—Boers Hope for Ascendancy of Liberal Party in England.

Captain O'Donald, in speaking of the mission which brings him and his companion to this country, talks very interestingly of his history in South Africa and his people, the Boers.

He and General Joubert intend to settle in this country and have picked out Montana as their future home. They have traveled through the whole of the Western Continent and have not seen a country so favorable to their people as the Northwest. From Spokane down to and through Umattilla county is the best of all, but that land is all gone and for that reason the two travelers have picked on Montana as their future homes, where there is now enough vacant land to make homes for the whole of the Boer race.

Soon after the war the party started from Africa to find a place where the dissatisfied Boers could make new homes for themselves, and a locality was chosen in Mexico, but after all plans had been made and the tract laid out, the yellow fever broke out and the project was abandoned. These men are therefore not the advance guards of an organized colony, as is generally supposed, but will make their report, which is now just out, to their people, and it is expected that by fall the immigrants will begin to reach this country.

The laws, the people and the customs here are more congenial to the Boers than any other place, and they will do better here than in any country seen by the men who have been searching for them.

The war is not over but the people want peace, and rather than live where they are made the slaves of the English, they will forsake the homes of their fathers and make new ones in a foreign land. But should the fourth and last conflict come they would leave again to fight by the side of their brothers in Africa in the defense of their rights as a race and to avenge their old wrongs.

Should the liberal party in England gain control of the government, however, no one would emigrate from Africa, but they would remain there and trust to their friends in that party to right the wrongs and to free the country. It is coming to this, and if the victory comes soon but few of the Boers will ever reach this country.

Men's Good Clothes

If you want good clothes, come to a store where you will be sure to find them. We do not use the term good in a narrow sense; when we say good we do not mean simply STYLISH. We mean that the MATERIAL must be good; we mean that the WORKMANSHIP must be good. We mean that the suit ALLTOGETHER must be good. We wish you to understand that this is the Peoples Warehouse definition of the word GOOD when applied to men's clothing. Whether you want a business suit, or a dress suit, call and see us and we will be just as well able to fit you whether you be a big man, or a little man, a tall man, or a short man, a fat man or a lean man, a young man, a middle aged man or an old man. Come and tell us what you want; we will satisfy you. Prices range from $10.00 to $25.00. The celebrated makes of Hart, Schaffner & Marx and Alfred Benjamin & Co. These names stand for the highest art in clothing. The stock is now ready for your inspection.
