We've plaudits and tears for him who falls. Borne down in the shock of strife; But a word of cheer we neglect to say. To him who plods on his dreary way And fights in silence from day to day The unseen battles of life. There's courage, I grant, required to face Grim death on the gory field. There's also courage required to meet Life's burden and sorrow; to brave defeat; To strive with evil and not retreat; To suffer and not to yield. —Woman's Home Journal.

IDLE LAND FOR IDLE MEN.

Senator Hoar has introduced a general colonization bill in the senate, the purpose of which is to establish a bureau of colonization.

This is the original idea of Commander Booth-Tucker, of the Salvation Army. He has crystallized his thought on the salvation of idle men and the reclamation of idle land, into a bill, which Senator Hoar finds worthy of support.

The bill is a plan to get the shiftless, vicious, idle and ignorant classes out of the slums of the cities, into the refreshing atmosphere of the country. It is the first step in the realization of an old ideal of Tucker's—to place the "nameless land and the landless man" together, and thereby create a new civilization.

The bill as introduced by Senator Hoar provides for the issuance of gold bonds to the amount of $50,000,000, not more than $5,000,000 to be issued in any one year, to run not longer than 50 years, at 3 per cent, the proceeds to be loaned on homesteads taken under the national irrigation act, not more than $1,500 to be loaned to any one man, the purpose of the loan being to purchase teams, tools, implements, building material and other necessities for poor men who are not able to begin the improvement of a tract of raw land.

A bureau of colonization is provided for, which is to become one of the departments of government. It would have complete control of the fund created; would receive applications for loans, investigate land offered as security and collect the loans on maturity, the money to be replaced in the colonization fund to be loaned again for the same purpose.

The scheme is transcendent, from the point of view of the humanitarian. It is absolutely practical. The government need not lose one cent more on these loans than the state of Oregon loses from its school fund loans.

It will place a home in reach of millions of poor men who long for a place where they may become self-supporting. It would reclaim the idle land and redeem the idle man, and add millions of flourishing settlements to the American desert of today.

Some such ideal plan must succeed the utterly selfish system of today. Some such salvation must be provided for the vicious, the idle and the ignorant, now festering in the crowded dens of the great cities.

The present generation in the United States will perhaps live to see the congested centers of population spread out over the idle empires. Storage of water, building of canals, preservation of forests and the rescue of the public domain from the grasping syndicates are all steps leading up to the higher plane of civilization that is coming.

Hearst is already nominated by the national democratic convention. The popularity of the man and the vigorous, sincere policy of his papers in taking up the fight against the trusts are winning friends every day, everywhere. His emphatic stand in favor of the labor unions has clinched the labor forces for Hearst. They cannot forsake a man whose great papers defend and promote industrial organization and unionism. The stockman who feels the grasp of the salt and transportation trusts and the farmer, who bends under the burden of the money power and the great combines which juggle with unrepentant harvests like they were toys, must rejoice at the Hearst crusade against their enemies, the trusts. It comes home to the thinking man to see these foes of civilization assailed in a sincere, vigorous manner. It must send a thrill through the veins of every patriotic citizen to know that Hearst has made himself hated by the money power, through his constant, persistent, unflinching demands that the anti-trust law be enforced. A man who is unpopular with the trusts can be depended upon by the masses.

The suggestion that a new Chinese exclusion act will soon be needed, brings to mind the fact that this country must sooner or later draw the line on more countries than China. The great flood of immigrants from all sources to the United States, is appalling. In 1903 857,946 foreigners came into this country. The crowded conditions in Europe will drive more here this year and how will we accommodate them? Our cities are full to overflowing. American boys are without homes and without work. It is time to consider a restriction of immigration from all sources and more emphatically from the countries where the moral and intellectual standards are low. It must be done in self-defense. Check the tide now before it becomes an unmanageable force within the United States. The natural growth of population will very, very soon supply the fullest measure which this country will be able to bear.

HOMELY WOMAN'S PLAINT.

A woman writes to the Post, complaining that men will show great politeness to beautiful members of her sex, and grant them all sorts of favors, while they will not move hand or foot in similar gallantry and kindness toward ladies not exceptionally attractive.

In courts, in public offices, in stores, in the cars the beautiful woman is even ridiculously coddled with slavish gallantry, while her plain sister may be the victim of that most exquisite of all rudenesses—no attention whatever. "Have women who are simply ordinary looking women, as the average rude man is only an ordinary looking man, no recourse?" asks the woman who complains.

Yes, there is one recourse, and it's a wonder that so many smart women overlook it. Did it ever occur to you, madam, that feminine beauty consists of one predominant feature? And that women who are perfectly harmonious in every lineament, grace and curve may not be at all so dazzling as those who have grand eyes simply, or stunning hair, or merely a magnificent complexion, or no claim on beauty except a ravishing smile and white, perfect teeth?

The reason, of course, is that one dominating charm, one great attraction, is much more noticeable and striking than perfect harmony.—Denver Post.

KOREA'S FITFUL RULER.

During a feast which he gave not long ago the emperor of Korea had the misfortune to break a tooth. His august majesty at once threw the chief cook and all the latter's assistants into prison. A dentist who was touring the hermit kingdom heard of the trouble and gave relief to the royal sufferer, and was paid 1,000 yen (about $500) for his services. Then the imprisoned force was set at liberty, but the chief cook was sentenced to serve three months without pay. The emperor ordered another feast to celebrate the fact that the imperial jaw no longer ached.

Sven Hedin has found buried in ruins in the desert of Gobi, Chinese paper that dates back to the third century. According to Chinese sources, paper was manufactured as early as the second millennium before the Christian era.

Italy has some 5,500 macaroni factories, employing nearly 25,000 hands. A number of these factories are large, using improved machinery and steam power. The total annual output of macaroni exceeds 215,000 tons.

Eastern Asia is one of the richest mineral fuel regions in the world. The area of all the paying coal layers in Europe comprise only 22,760 square miles, an area equal to that in one of the Russian provinces—the Kazan province.

An ingenious farmer in Mezieres, France, has succeeded in grafting tomato plants on potato plants. The product is a crop of tomatoes above the ground and of potatoes below.

Married Women

Every woman covets a shapely, pretty figure, and many of them deplore the loss of their girlish forms after marriage. The bearing of children is often destructive to the mother's shapeliness. All of this can be avoided, however, by the use of Mother's Friend before baby comes, as this great liniment always prepares the body for the strain upon it, and preserves the symmetry of her form. Mother's Friend overcomes all the danger of child-birth, and carries the expectant mother safely through this critical period without pain. It is woman's greatest blessing. Thousands gratefully tell of the benefit and relief derived from the use of this wonderful remedy. Sold by all druggists at $1.00 per bottle. Our little book, telling all about this liniment, will be sent free.

CARDUI BABIES

Many homes are mere lonely abodes because no children are there. Barrenness exists in almost every case because female diseases have paralyzed the organs of womanhood. Wine of Cardui imparts health and strength to the diseased parts and makes motherhood possible in thousands of cases where barrenness is supposed to be incurable. Wine of Cardui regulates the menstrual flow and also prevents miscarriage and cures bearing down pains. Wine of Cardui removes the cause of barrenness by making the female organism strong and healthy. Go to your druggist and secure a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui. The use of Wine of Cardui will bring happiness to your home.

Wine of Cardui is worth its weight in gold. It does more than you claim. It has saved my life and caused me to become a mother when everything else failed. MRS. DORA I. E. LEFEVRE.

BRANT, VA., Feb. 18, 1902. My daughter-in-law, Lizzie Giles, found great benefit in Wine of Cardui. She had a miscarriage in March 1901, before using your medicine. She was in very bad health, so I persuaded her to try Wine of Cardui. Since then she has had a fine baby boy. Soon he will be three weeks old. She highly recommends Wine of Cardui. My daughter, Fannie Hudson, also has a fine baby boy by your treatment. She highly appreciates Wine of Cardui. MRS. LOUISA GILES.

HOLT BROS. Side Hill Combined Harvester

The latest improved two-wheel, side-hill combined harvester has proven a boon to wheat raisers. It is the most successful, most economical and easiest machine to operate ever built. These harvesters have been given abundant trials right here at home and all users are highly pleased. None have been dissatisfied and all are high in their praise. The Holt side-hill harvester on a side hill is able to stick to the side of the hill, while the header will slip down the hill. The main wheels are vertical, which braces the machine to the side hills. It works equally adapted to level land. The Holt harvesters are sold exclusively in this section by

E. L. SMITH. 218 Court Street, Pendleton, Oregon. All extras for Holt machines on hand.
