APPROVED CLAIMS WILL REALIZE THAT AMOUNT.

Much of the Wade Shortage is Represented in Claims Directly Against the Bank, and Have No Part in the Division—Total Available Assets of Wade Reach $33,484.90, of Which $9,407 is Stocks in Gold and Oil Mining Companies.

The board of appraisers of the Wade estate filed their report with the referee in bankruptcy, Thomas Fitz Gerald, yesterday afternoon. According to the report the estate has $531.90 in cash to its credit. This was gained from the sale of some personal effects after the crash had come and Mr. Wade had vanished.

The total value of the real estate is placed at $17,991; of the personal at $15,493.90, making the total valuation of the estate at $33,484.90. The total indebtedness filed with the referee is about $334,000. Of this between $150,000 and $160,000 has been proven and allowed. It is probable that part of the rest will be admitted before the case is settled, but in any case the estate will pay in the neighborhood of about 20 cents on the dollar.

A great many of the claims which were listed have been withdrawn for the reason that they are tied up in suits with the bank, the men whom

Wade was indebted to claiming that he took money which was deposited in the bank, by no authority of theirs, and therefore the bank is liable. Some of the heaviest claims in the list were those, among them being the claims of the Vey brothers and others, running into the thousands.

All of these claims for the settlement of which suits have been begun against the bank, have been stricken from the list and will materially reduce the claims against the estate, and at the same time increase the ratio of payment to those remaining. Estimating the total claims at $160,000, the estate will pay .209 per cent.

The Golconda stock of 1,454,975 shares, was valued at $7,270; 128,250 shares of the Standard Gold Mining Company, at $1,282, and all the rest at from $1 to $850 for an equity in 30 shares of the Equitable Savings and Loan Association. In all, Mr. Wade was the possessor of 2,825,818 shares of stock in various oil and gold mining companies, which were valued by the board at $9,407.

The report is now in the hands of the referee, and he will take action on it in a short time, when the order of sale and division of the assets will be made.

RICHARDS AND PRINGLE.

Put on a First-class Minstrel Performance.

The Frazer was filled to the doors last night to listen to the melody and the fun of the Richards and Pringle minstrel show. The company was composed of negroes, and they sang their negro songs as only negroes can. Some of the best voices that have been heard on the local stage were in the company last night and added to the merriment of the audience both by song, jokes and dance.

The production was a good one, and the large audience was entirely satisfied with the entertainment.

WAS 35 YEARS AGO

FIRST SCHOOL TAUGHT IN PENDLETON DISTRICT.

Had Twenty-seven Pupils, Some of Whom Now Reside in This Place—Public Schools Temporarily Broken Up in 1873 by the Race Question—First School Building in Pendleton Was Where the Court House Now Stands.

While the school house question is before the people, and while all are thinking of the bond issue and of the poorly housed youngsters of the present time, and also of the growth of the schools in the past few years, it might be of interest to know something of the first school ever held in this district.

It was in 1869, shortly after the county seat had been taken from Umatilla and brought to Swift's Station of Marshall, about two and one-half miles below Pendleton, that the first school opened in this district—No. 16. For some time the residents of the vicinity had been talking of organizing a school, and on February 22, Washington's birthday 35 years ago, the school was called to order by J. H. Sharon, who had 27 pupils on the first day, many of whom are still living and well known to the people of this city, and a few of whom are still residents of Pendleton.

The school continued at Marshall for several terms, or until the county seat had been moved to the present site, when a new building was built on the south half of the present court house block, in which building school was held for a long time. When the building was erected, the ground for the building had to be cleared out of the forest, the whole block being a wilderness of trees and brush.

The pupils of the first session at Marshall, or Swift's Station, were: C. C. Morse, at present a well known farmer of McKay creek; Charles Welch, a present resident of this city; C. E. Miller; William and Scott Benjamins; William, C. C. Horace and G. W. Anderson; Frank Bivins; D. W. Bailey; David White; E. E. Sharon of Portland; Almy Perkins; Melinda and Laura Anderson; Louisa and Meriella Young; Mary Benjamins, now Mrs. R. G. Sargeant of Seattle, and until recently a resident of Pendleton; Katie Benjamins; Ellen Phillips; Aura Morse; Austa Miller; Leona Welch, now Mrs. R. G. Thompson of this city; Mary Wilson; Lena Allen, now Mrs. Nate Gerking of this city, and her sister, Emma Allen, now Mrs. George Minger, also of Pendleton.

In 1873 the public schools were broken up by the race question, and were put out of commission for some time. J. H. Turner, one of the directors of the school, objected to the daughters of a negro barber named Mitchell, to attend school. Turner and Mitchell came to blows over the matter, and Turner got the worst of the argument. He, however, closed up the school, and Miss Abbise Lansdale, now Mrs. William Mays, opened a private school in the upper room of what is now the city jail. In this little upper room she taught a large class for some time.

The lower part of the building was used as the county jail, and Sheriff A. W. Nye furnished a great deal of amusement for the pupils with a squad of 40 Chinamen, whom he had arrested while on their way to the Lake mines, and whom he was compelling to work out their poll taxes by chopping wood for the county court house.

The first school house was torn down when the ground was bought by the county for a court house block, and the brick building on the hill was built to take its place. From this humble beginning the school system of the city has grown to what it is now, and from it as a nucleus will spring a yet wider and stronger growth.

SEWER AFFAIRS.

People Are Hustling, But Not Half Fast Enough.

W. R. Withee, the city sewer inspector, is at present the busiest man in town. For the past week the people have taken a notion to make sewer connections, and from two to four jobs have been done each day. There have been completed, so far, about 175 connections, and it is estimated that there are 700 to be made before the work is completed, not taking into account all those which will be added by the erection of the new houses.

At the present rate of joining, not nearly all of the work will be done by the time the limit expires, July 1, and from that time on things will be interesting for those who have been behindhand in their work. It is in the power of the neighbors of such people, and of the officers, to have all cesspools and privies declared to be public nuisances at that date, and from the stand now being taken by the health officers, it is plainly to be seen that as soon as the time limit expires they will see to it that the old menaces to the public health are removed. If the people wait until the last minute there will not be plumbers enough in town to do the work in a short time, and there will be great confusion.

BISHOP O'REILEY.

Says Baker City Will Have a New Catholic Church.

Bishop Charles J. O'Reiley, of Baker City, was in the city the guest of Father Van Der Velden last night while on his way from Baker City to Spokane, where he goes to examine the new church being built there. The church at Baker City is not large enough for the congregation, and it has been decided to build a building which will cost in the aggregate $60,000. It is to look into the plans of the church at Spokane and to determine what kind of a structure the Baker people can afford, that the Bishop is making the trip into Washington at this time.

LOOKING FOR WHISTLER.

Government Engineer Shaved Off His Whiskers in Self-Protection.

The many friends of John T. Whistler, the popular chief engineer in the government survey in Oregon, have been looking for him, high and low, since his return from Washington, several days ago, and while many have met him repeatedly on the streets, they failed to recognize him, because of the absence of the elegant Vandyke beard which he wore when he left Pendleton for Washington, last December.

Mr. Whistler sacrificed his beard and mustache in self-protection, hoping to elude the Oregon newspaper reporter, in this way.

Women of Woodcraft Prize.

A sample of the elegant silver service and chocolate set offered by the Women of Woodcraft as prizes to those gaining a certain number of new members to the order, is on display in the show window of the Peoples Warehouse. The service and set are most elegant and the persons who are so lucky as to win them will have something to keep and be proud of for a lifetime.

Baumgardner-Dunn.

Miss Ezzie Baumgardner and Harry Dunn were married yesterday afternoon in the parlors of the Hotel Pendleton by Rev. G. W. Rigby, of the Methodist church. The bride is a well known young lady of Echo, while the groom is an employe of the O. R. & N. at Arlington, in which place they will make their future home.

Returning From Helix.

A. B. Montgomery and J. E. Montgomery, both grainmen of Helix, were in the city yesterday afternoon, the guests of their brother, T. G. Montgomery. The gentlemen were on their way home from a visit to Kent, Or., where they had been looking after business interests.

J. D. Peck in Town.

J. D. Peck, of Pasco, the sheriff of Franklin county, Washington, was a business visitor in the city today. Mr. Peck was formerly a resident of this city, and was a deputy sheriff under Zoe Houser in the 80s, and was also employed by him in the butcher shop for a long time.

Settlemeir-Kelly.

Yesterday afternoon Rev. R. Warner united in marriage at the parsonage of the Methodist church, Miss Bessie Settlemeir and George W. Kelly, both of Umatilla. The groom is engaged in the butcher business in that city, and with his wife will make that place his future home.

Will Have Tumor Removed.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Vincareo, of Perry, are at the Hotel Pendleton for a few days. Mrs. Vincareo has come to the city for surgical treatment, and will enter the hospital in a few days, where she will undergo an operation for removal of a tumor.

Formerly of Pendleton.

L. L. Tallman, formerly of this city, but now a prominent business man of Walla Walla, was in the city yesterday, the guest of his brother, J. V. Tallman. He left this morning for home.

Arrange for "Huskin' Bee."

All those who are to take part in the "Huskin' Bee" are requested to meet this evening at 7:30 at the home of Mrs. C. J. Smith, 116 Lewis street.

Funeral of O. W. Fee.

The funeral of O. W. Fee was held at the residence of James A. Fee at 1:30 this afternoon, and interment took place in Olney cemetery.

D. B. Griffen, one of the wealthiest cattlemen of Southern California, either fell or threw himself under a Southern Pacific train near Indio, and was cut in pieces. He is supposed to have been somewhat demented.

Professor Edward H. Strobel, for many years a professor of languages at Harvard, is the chief adviser of the king of Siam; a kind of poobah with almost unlimited influence as a counselor in all affairs of state.

PHELPS OF MORROW

RISES TO EXPLAIN WHY THEY DID NOT.

Republican Convention Sent Delegates Who Will Favor Pledging the State Convention, But Did Not Think Necessary to Bother With it in Their Home Resolutions—Mr. Phelps May Be a Receptive Candidate for District Attorney.

G. W. Phelps of Heppner, was in the city today. Mr. Phelps is the representative in the legislature from Morrow county, and is one of the delegates to the republican state convention which meets in Portland on June 14.

Mr. Phelps explains why the Morrow county convention did not make any representations to the state convention on the subject of irrigation, saying that it was so generally understood that all of the Eastern Oregon delegates would work for the strongest irrigation plank that could be written, that it was not thought necessary to pass any resolutions on the subject. All of the delegates, however, will be pledged to work for the strongest plank in the state platform that can be worded by the committee on platform, when the convention meets.

Mr. Phelps is also reputed to be an aspirant for the position of prosecuting attorney for this district. When asked about the truth of the rumor he could not find the exact words to express his meaning, but holds to the opinion that the office is one which any attorney in the district should be proud to fill. Since Mr. Phelps is an attorney, it is safe to presume that he has the same exalted idea of the dignity of the position.

FOR "REST" ROOM.

Women of La Grande Remember the Farmers in Practical Manner.

The women of La Grande have started a movement to establish a "rest" room, for the use of farmers and country people when in town. The room will be filled up with pleasant seats, reading material, drinking water, and tables on which lunches can be eaten.

The women's clubs are back of the movement, and it will be pushed to completion, in order to be ready for use by the time spring comes and the farmers begin to transact business in the city, day by day.

At the 202nd Surprise Sale of the Peoples Warehouse they offer 100 dozen Alphonse & Gaston Children's Handkerchiefs that are regularly sold at 5c each, for Two (2) cents a handkerchief, and in order that as many as possible of our customers shall get the benefit of this bargain we are obliged to limit them to one dozen to each. Remember, they will be on sale at this price for this day only.

Herr Martin

The Naturalist

Says he bought a horse who "was thin, almost a skeleton, and so weak it could barely walk," and began giving coffee, in the form of infusion of the roasted beans, with honey. After a few months Herr Martin returned $250 for it. The German says he has brought round many horses since by the same treatment.

Coffee is better than horse feed put up in packages called cereal coffee.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION APRIL 12

The democrat county central committee met this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the circuit court room at the court house and selected the time for holding the primaries and the county convention.

The date for the primaries was set for Thursday, April 7, while the county convention will be held on Tuesday, April 12 at the court house in this city.

The basis of representation was determined from the vote cast in 1902 for Colonel J. M. Raley for attorney-general, the ratio being fixed at one delegate for every 10 votes cast, and one delegate at large.

This will place the membership of the convention at 236.
