MISSOURI JACK ESCAPES.

Animal Being Shipped by Express Makes a Break for Liberty on O. R. & N. Platform.

A valuable Jack, being shipped in a crate by express from Missouri to Washington, made a bold break for liberty on the O. R. & N. depot platform this morning, while being transferred to the Spokane train. The crate in which the animal was confined was open at the top, and while it was resting on the baggage truck, waiting for the train, the Jack leaped out of the crate and landed on his head on the depot platform, in the midst of a crowd of admiring stockmen and railroad employees. In the excitement following the unexpected leap of the animal everybody wanted to help replace him in his crate, and the crowd surrounded the bewildered animal in such numbers that it was lost sight of for a moment, and Engineer McEvoy, of the Spokane branch run, was mistaken for the Jack and placed in the crate instead.

It was several minutes before the mistake was noticed, when the Jack was put in the crate and sent on his way.

MODE OF BAPTISM.

Will Be Discussed by Rev. Jonathan Edwards, at the Congregational Church.

After repeated requests, Jonathan Edwards, pastor of the Congregational church, has consented to repeat his sermon, "Is Immersion the Only Mode of Baptism?"

His position is, which he will attempt to prove, that insistence on immersion as the only mode of baptism is unreasonable, unscriptural and demoralizing in tendency. He believes that the position of the immersionist leads to religious narrowness, pharisaical bigotry and ecclesiastical audacity, despite contrary professions, and is today one of the most serious obstructions to the union of Christendom.

The sermon will be preached on next Sunday evening at the Congregational church.

FUNERAL SATURDAY

AT FAMILY HOME, WITH REV. BROOKS IN CHARGE.

Much Uncertainty as to Responsibility for Death and Previous Conduct of Tina Williamson—Prosecuting Attorney Can Find No Evidence Upon Which to Base an Action.

The funeral of Tenie Williamson, the girl who committed suicide yesterday, will be held from the family home on Star street tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, and will be conducted by Rev. N. H. Brooks of the First Christian church. The burial will take place in Olney cemetery.

Upon the request of the parents of the dead girl prosecuting Attorney Hailey has been looking into the facts surrounding her death, but fails to find where criminal proceedings can be begun against Bert Montgomery, who is charged with having induced the girl to leave her home with him.

The letter, which is supposed to be the direct provocation of the suicide, was written from Bear Mountain, a small town in the vicinity of Missoula, and contains nothing of an incriminating nature. It is simply a love letter written in the usual style of such epistles, and contains nothing upon which to base any charge, or give any clue for an action. It is therefore certain that nothing will be done in that direction.

The principal blame for the straying away of the girl is now placed at the door of Ollie Maurer, who is well known in this city, and who has had not the best reputation for over a year. It was she who stirred up the row in her home near Cold Springs some months ago and had her father arrested for having beaten her mother. The father was not convicted, and since that time the daughter has been in this city, most of the time in the Columbia lodging house on Main street. It is claimed that she became acquainted with the Williamson girl through a mutual friend, and that it was she who introduced her into the circle of men who were the cause of her fall. This, at least, is the opinion held by the attorney, and for that reason, and because he can find no evidence to convict anyone of criminal relations with the girl, no action will be taken by him. Miss Maurer is still in Missoula.

FINES FALLING OFF.

Current Month's Receipts Lightest in Several Years.

The current month has been the lightest as to receipt of fines in the memory of Judge Thomas Fitz Gerald, by a little over $100. Before this the smallest amount ever recorded by him in one month for fines received was $350; but this month there have been taken in but $237 so far, from fines.

On the first day of the month the business started out with its usual dash, when the office closed in the evening the judge banked $174. He then shut up shop until the 5th, when he had two cases, and in default of the fines sent them to jail for three days each.

March 7 he had 11 cases, and collected from the bunch the munificent sum of $5. The following day he had four cases and collected $9, and the next day repeated the number of cases, but fell down entirely in the fine part of it. On the 10th and the 14th he had 12 cases and got $17.50 out of them. From that time on until today he had 17 cases and realized $35.50 on the lot, making a total of $237, the lightest in the history of the city for one month for several years.

FOR STREET PAVING

PLAN FOR CITY IMPROVEMENT TO BE PRESENTED.

Agent for Asphalt Company to Be in This City Soon to Promote Plan for Paving Portion of Main Street—Easy Plan to Be Suggested to Property Owners.

A plan to pave a portion of Main street will be presented to the property owners of Pendleton in the near future.

E. M. Williams, a representative of the Barber Asphalt Company of Seattle, was in the city last evening en route to Boise City, where his company has just completed a large amount of paving. He will return in a few days to interview business men and property owners of Pendleton, on a favorite plan for paving at least a portion of Main street.

The plan which Mr. Williams will present and which has been employed with great success in many towns in the West, is to induce the property owners to agree to pave the street adjoining their property at their own expense, the city to issue bonds for the amount, the bonds to be taxed in annual installments against the property owners ordering the pavement.

By adopting this plan, any number of property owners can pave their own property and pay the city for the work in easy payments. This does away with the burdensome tax on the city, and permits public spirited citizens who wish to pave their property at their own expense, to do so.

After a portion of the street has been paved, the general improvement in the appearance of the property and the increased values because of the paving, would soon induce other owners to reap the same benefit and the entire main street would be paved in this way, by easy stages, without cost to the general taxpayer.

Mr. Williams will spend several days here in the interest of this plan, and hopes to interest some of the enterprising citizens to make arrangements for improvements of this kind. Several thousand feet of paving has just been built in Boise City and more will be built the coming summer.
